Report of the General Secretary-Treasurer for the Fiscal Year Ended July 31, 1948

Mr. William J. McSorley, General President,
Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union,
Lathers' Building,
Cleveland, Ohio.
Dear Sir:

Pursuant to engagement by you, I have audited the accounts of the General Secretary-Treasurer for the twelve months period beginning August 1, 1947 and ended July 31st, 1948 and herewith present my report. All receipts of funds were traced into the various bank accounts and were found to be properly accounted for and in the proper fund. The disbursement of funds were all substantiated by satisfactory vouchers and, in my opinion, were proper expenditures of the respective funds under the laws of the union.

Your auditor wishes to express his appreciation to General Secretary-Treasurer Ford and his assistants for their courtesy and help in furnishing all books, vouchers and other records in the course of the audit.

CERTIFICATE

I HEREBY CERTIFY that, in my opinion, the following statements correctly exhibit respectively, the receipts and disbursements of funds for the period beginning August 1st, 1947 and ended July 31st, 1948 and the financial condition of the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union at July 31st, 1948.

Elston Kidwell, business agent Lathers, Local 42a, and Thomas Ranford, president Los Angeles Central Labor Council, leaders in million dollar fund raising campaign of Los Angeles Cancer Prevention Society with which money the West's first Special Memorial Cancer Research Center will be built.

Los Angeles Lathers, Local 42A, actively engaged in the million dollar campaign of the Los Angeles Cancer Prevention Society, now appealing for funds to build the first unit of Memorial Cancer Research Center, presented Labor's campaign chairman, Thomas Ranford, president, Los Angeles Central Labor Council, with the first check of $200.

Elston Kidwell, business agent for the Lathers' Los Angeles Union, more or less jumped the gun with the check, for the drive for funds is just getting under way, but according to Brother Ranford, "It's a very nice way to jump the gun."

There are approximately one thousand members in the Los Angeles Local, and Kidwell said their representation will be an over-the-top accomplishment when the Society's campaign is completed in December.

Owning the land on which the center is to be built at 3rd and Loma Drive, in downtown Los Angeles, the Cancer Prevention Society will furnish the West with the only specialized clinic and research laboratory, and they look forward to the day when their's will be the pattern for nation-wide specialized centers throughout the U. S.

Endorsed by the Los Angeles County Medical Association, the non-profit organization has, since opening their out-grown clinic in March, 1944, examined more than 22,000 presumably well and healthy men, women and children. Of this number the 25 outstanding doctors, who contribute their services to the Society, discovered that eight and three-tenths percent had precancerous conditions, which means that through early examination lives were saved that unquestionably would otherwise have been claimed by our most dreaded disease—Cancer, the killer.

A. F. of L. members, believing that the riddle of cancer, which has been the concern of every generation down to our own, may be solved in our times are whole-heartedly behind the million dollar campaign endeavoring to get the first unit of the Cancer Center built so Westerners may have the advantage of the information of better medical treatment made available through scientific research close at hand.

This ad is now appearing in architectural publications to promote the specification and use of Insulating ROCKLATH... the combination plaster base, insulation, and vapor barrier.

No Application Charge for

use INSULATING ROCKLATH***

There's no application charge for insulation and vapor barrier when you insulate with Insulating ROCKLATH Plaster Base . . . because the aluminum foil has been laminated to the ROCKLATH at the mill. Your lath, insulation and vapor barrier are all applied in one operation.

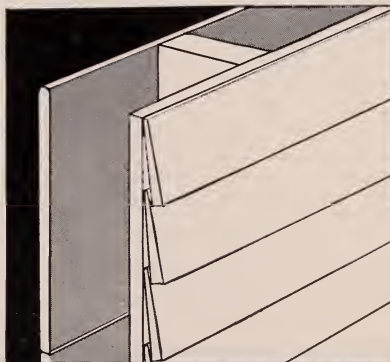

A sheet of aluminum foil on the reverse side of Insulating ROCKLATH provides you with a summer heat barrier that reflects radiant heat and reduces interior temperatures as much as 15° . . . and effective winter insulation, because the aluminum foil retards the transmission of heat into the air space between the studs.

Because of the positive vapor barrier there is virtually no passage of moisture through the walls of a building. With Insulating ROCKLATH, there's less chance of mould or water damage to walls.

Insulate, provide an effective vapor barrier and install your plaster base in one operation. Use Insulating ROCKLATH.

In most states FHA requires certain minimum insulating and vapor barrier values. Insulating ROCKLATH and plaster in residential wall construction will in most cases provide the FHA values, as well as an ideal plaster base.

IT IS THE WORST CONGRESS

By

William Green, Chairman

Labor's League for Political Education

The special session settled one argument. Some people said the 80th Congress was the third worst. Some people, (including President Truman) said it was the second worst—but the special session proved it was the worst of all.

The special session left the minimum wage at forty cents an hour. It failed to tax excess profits. It failed to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act. It did nothing to reduce prices.

All this is bad enough. It might win the prize as the second worst.

Two measures, however, proved without the shadow of a doubt that the 80th Congress is the worst of all.

One was the Revercomb-Wiley "Hate" bill. This bill pretends to allow certain displaced persons (who have to be supported abroad by the American tax payers) to come to this country. This "Hate" bill discriminates against Catholics and Jews. It was almost unanimously condemned in the press, on the radio and in cartoons. It was such an evil thing that it frightened candidate Dewey. He got in touch with Senator Revercomb, anti-labor Republican from West Virginia and urged that the bill be cleaned up for the sake of the Republican Party and his campaign. Revercomb flatly refused to do anything. The "Hate" bill remains in effect. (Incidentally, both Wiley anti-labor Republican of Wisconsin and Revercomb of West Virginia voted for the Taft-Hartley Act).

Throwing an even sharper light on the infamous 80th Congress was its no-housing program. In signing the phony housing bill passed by the special session, President Truman gave the clearest summary of the facts—he said:

"The new bill fails to make any provision for low-cost public housing, it fails to make any provision for slum clearance housing and urban re-development. It fails to include any provision for special aids for farm housing. It includes only limited provision for research to bring down building costs.

'In short, the 80th Congress in enacting this bill has deliberately neglected those large groups of our people most in need of adequate housing—the people who are forced to live in disgraceful urban and rural slums.'

The final damning comment on the special session came from a lobbyist's letter sent out by a real estate lobbying committee to real estate and building interests. In this letter the real estate lobby lists as its opponents, "The President of the United States, practically every veteran's organization, every labor union, the Catholic Church, the Protestant Church, Social Welfare groups, the Mayors of the Nation."

Then, the letter goes on to say, "You have reason to rejoice that the 80th Congress was courageous enough to withstand this pressure." This letter raises, of course, the $64 dollar question. What influence and how much of it caused Congress to say no to all of these groups who favored a real housing program? What influence was it that made these Congressional mice rear up and spit in the face of all organized labor—every veteran's organization, the Jewish welfare groups, the Catholic Church groups, the Protestant Church groups, independent Social Welfare groups, the League of Women Voters and all organizations interested in a housing program, including all of the Mayors of the United States? Perhaps a Grand Jury could find out. So far, one has not been called.

Organized labor is one of the groups the real estate lobby defeated by its rigid, air tight, iron clad control of the 80th Congress.

What can Labor do about it?

We think the answer is to be found in the paragraph carried by the New York Times in its issue of Saturday, August 7, commenting on the people's victory in Tennessee. Said the Times:

"Labor was organized as never before in a campaign. It did not like U. S. Senator Stewart's vote for the Taft-Hartley law and got to work early. It lined up the labor vote efficiently.

"Labor took note of Congressman Kefauver's vote against the Taft-Hartley Act and opposed Governor McCord because he advocated and pushed through the anti-closed shop law for Tennessee."

This tribute to labor's success in Tennessee from a newspaper which supported the Taft-Hartley Act tells the story. Not so well known is the story of labor's achievements in nominating Republican Congressman Dayton Phillips in the 1st district of Tennessee against the opposition of the regular Republican machine headed by Carroll Reece former chairman of the Republican National Committee. In the fourteen counties of Phillip's district the labor vote in five counties overcame the machine vote which defeated Phillips in the other 9 counties. Phillips was one of the eleven Republicans who voted against the Taft-Hartley Act—while 229 Republican House members voted for the Taft-Hartley law.

Here you have the story of the vicious anti-labor and anti-American 80th Congress—and the remedy.

The first duty of all union men and women and their relatives is to vote.

The second duty is to drive out of public life the members of the 80th Congress who have demonstrated on roll call after roll call that they have a cordially

NOW WHAT?

With a blare of trumpets, both major political parties have announced the chief contestants in the Battle for the White House which takes place this coming November. Each "camp" has its trainers, bucket boys and lesser followers, all trusting their candidate may succeed in putting over a lucky punch . . . and secure victory.

However, that is not all there is to it. There is a battle behind the scene (in the dressing rooms, let us say), wherein is concerned those who pay the bills for these contests—whether they take part in their deliberations or read of them in newspapers.

There is a quiet battle taking place in this nation between Capital and Labor. We say a quiet battle, because news of it coming to you through daily newspapers does not tell the true story of the knock-down, drag-out fracas that must be staged before Americans wake up to the fact that the control of our national economy is the REAL issue, and the playboys (politicians) who put on the show are just puppets.

Of what consequence is all this to the average worker? If he has the intelligence to read between the lines and weigh matters that directly concern his everyday life, he could determine the falsity of some of the propaganda spread around.

Perhaps the most important item on his mind at the moment is how he can keep pace with the rising cost of living. Well, he was told when the Republicans took over the reins of government that a lot of protective things he enjoyed must be scrapped. Price control interfered with our FREE economy. "Learned" politicians told him the OPA was un-American; that after its demise living costs would rise a little, then recede and find their own level according to the law of supply and demand. But, a different picture came into view. With passing of the OPA came the policy of LAISSEZ-FAIRE (which could mean in a literal sense, "Everyone for himself, the devil take the hindmost"). The runaway cost of living proved this to be true. What are you going to do about it?

Under ordinary circumstances, when a person makes a mistake he should try to rectify it. That SHOULD be the American way. But no one up to now has read of any apologies being made . . . those who committed the error in judgment have allowed workers to stew in their own juice . . . and like it. Suppose YOU could do something about this, come November?

To go down the line and show the many errors in judgment made by those who, a year ago, took over the whip-hand in the Congress, would consume too much space. One glaring thrust into the very heart of workers, however, was enactment of the Taft-Hartley Act, conceived in HEAT and rammed through Congress by enemies of labor unions. They saw the opportunity to act, and they did! You now are aware of what the law means. Suppose you COULD do something about it come November.

Well, the challenge has been given Labor; the time has come for organized workers of this nation to PROVE their strength and unseat those who have made labor unions impotent. How many will answer the call so that ground lost may be regained? You have been told that your vote is the greatest gift in a democracy; how great it is depends on HOW you use it. If the game is to be "laissez-faire," why cannot Labor place a team in the field also?—The Labor News.

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION

More and more doors of opportunity are being closed to young people who lack a high school education.

A recent evidence of this trend is the announcement by the United States Air Force that it is now limiting drastically the number of non-high school graduates it will enlist.

The high value that it puts on a high school education is clear from the Air Force announcement:

"High school graduates can better undertake technical training needed to fit men for specialized careers in the USAF . . . From a purely practical viewpoint, we want young men to stay in school until after graduation."

The same argument applies with equal or perhaps even greater force to civilian pursuits. An increasingly large number of job opportunities are limited to high school graduates.

With modern industry demanding higher and higher qualifications a young man ought to think a long time before he decides to give up his diploma in favor of a job.

MAKE FRIENDS OF BOOKS

"For years," declared Bennett Cerf, member of the Council on Books in Wartime, "book publishers have been bemoaning the fact that the American public had no time to read books." "Instead," he added, "they piled into the family jalopies and spent interminable hours driving madly to nowhere in particular."

Now, when "staying to home" looks like a duration proposition, books are back in style with a vengeance—so much so that the publishers cannot supply the demand for them! Publishers' plants are operating at absolute capacity, but at this supreme moment in the history of books, with fewer toys, fewer luxuries, less distraction, there are also fewer books!

Even so, has anyone read all the books in his library? Shakespeare, the Bible, that set of Dickens, Scott, Thackeray hidden away under dusty chagrin? They tell us Abe Lincoln used to read such books by firelight, and from there went on to lead us through a most trying moment.

Perhaps all of us might drop off some of our modern coating of sophisticated reading with profit, and go back to share the thoughts of other ages. Perhaps good books would give us a "refresher" that would turn us thoughtful, a nation ready to lead the modern children of Israel out of the bondage of totalitarian slavery, into a promised land of freedom as we in America have always known it.—Tri-County Labor News, Fresno, California.

WHY STRIKES?

We have long contended that there are better ways to settle an industrial dispute than by ordering people off their jobs. We have not grown soft, but if we wade through the unfortunate mire of hundreds of strikes of major magnitude which were lost or compromised badly, we are forced to conclude that some better method of establishing a permanent industrial peace should be agreed upon between industry and labor.

A strike, in most cases, separates the worker from the only income he has to sustain himself and his family. If he has saved diligently, these funds are dissipated within a few weeks if the man on strike remains loyal to his union. He soon reaches the end of the road under such circumstances and then debates his loyalty to his union or the return to his job without the protection of his union. The only other alternative for a man on strike, in a prolonged conflict, is to borrow from his friends. All such monies, however, must be repaid, and if the strike is settled, the striker faces a siege of indebtedness which disturbs domestic tranquility. There will always be that small army of men and women in the trade union movement who will make sacrifices, and if need be, go to jail for what they consider to be a worthy cause.

Time after time we have witnessed in labor negotiations an employer offering arbitration to end a disputed wage issue, only to have cocksure leaders of the union refuse it, and vice-versa. We have witnessed in prolonged strikes the officials of labor unions calling in government conciliation and later agreeing to arbitration. We are beginning to feel that if arbitration is good at any time, it is good at all times.

As a rule, workers do not want to strike. Sometimes an inflammatory speech against the boss by an officer of the union who has made no real effort to know the boss can incite the workers to take rash action when under ordinary persuasion they would ninety-nine times out of a hundred vote to arbitrate. Workers go on strike expecting some finances and few, if any, international unions, including our own, can support a strike in which large numbers are engaged for any length of time.

Why don't we stop kidding ourselves about these matters? Why can't we stress the idea that continuity of production means continuity of weekly, monthly or yearly earnings for the workers?

The time has arrived when controversies which can be settled, if allowed to develop into strikes will do more to start the trade union movement tobogganing numerically than any other single thing. If you think we are wrong, then take a look at the United Packinghouse Workers of America, CIO, who believed in the exercise of brute force, who thought it was wise to call a national strike, who felt that the big packers could be whipped to their knees, only to find after eleven weeks of bitter struggle that they suffered a staggering defeat, which, to some extent has weakened the strength of organized labor generally.

If we have sound leadership in both industry and labor there need be no strikes and if one or the other assumes an arrogant stand, then the public should settle the issue.

WIT and HUMOR

Selected Audience

"Friends," said the preacher, "the subject of my sermon today is liars. How many in this congregation have ever read the sixty-ninth chapter of Mathew?"

Most of the hands went up.

"You are the people I want to preach to," the preacher said, "there is no such chapter."

A Balanced Diet

When the fleet visited a college town, the officers planned a dance. The officer in charge requested the director of a girls school to allow some of the students to attend the dance.

The director said she would allow a dozen of her most trustworthy students to attend.

The naval officer hesitated. "Would it be possible," he asked finally, "to send half a dozen of that kind and half a dozen of the other?"

Powder Marks

"You say this woman shot her husband with this pistol and at close range?" asked the coroner of the eye witness to the tragedy.

"Yessuh."

"Are there powder marks on his body?"

"Yessuh. Dass why she shot him."

Too Slow

A dapper little man applied for a separation on the ground of cruelty.

Asked by the judge if he could prove his case, he replied meekly:

"One night I dreamed I won $100,000, and the following morning my wife nearly killed me for not putting it in the bank before I woke up."

Celebrities

A patient in an insane asylum was trying to convince an attendant that he was Napoleon.

"But who told you that you were Napoleon?" inquired the attendant.

"God did," replied the inmate.

A Pair of Peaches

Two beautiful young ladies, a pair of twins, were so much alike that no one knew which was which. One was engaged to be married.

"How do you tell them apart?" a friend asked the groom-to-be.

No Wash

Pat and Mike were drinking whiskey when Pat noticed that Mike kept his eyes closed.

Says Pat: "And why do you keep your eyes shut while drinking?"

Mike replied: "Well, it's this way, Pat, when I keep my eyes open I see the whiskey—it makes my mouth water—and I like my whiskey straight!"

Traffic Cop: "Listen, lady, didn't you hear my whistle?"

Young Thing: "Yes, but you are wasting your time; I'm engaged."

A pair of newlyweds stepped into their hotel elevator. "Hello, darling," murmured the pretty operator. There was a chill silence all the way up, but when the couple reached their floor the bride exploded: "Who was that hussy?"

"Now don't you start anything," the groom said worried. "I'm going to have trouble enough explaining you to her tomorrow."

Sentimental Sergeant

"When I was a little child," said the sergeant, addressing his men at the end of an exhaustive drill, "I had a set of wooden soldiers. There was a poor boy in the neighborhood, and after I had listened to the beauties of charity, I softened enough to give them to him.

"Then I wanted them back and cried," he continued quietly. "But my mother said: 'Don't cry, Tom, some day you will get your wooden soldiers back.'"

"And, shouted the sergeant, glaring at the men, "believe me, you lop-sided, mutton-headed, brainless set, that day has come!"

Alibi

The head of the late Joseph Zeisler, the noted dermatologist, was not exactly a full-fledged testimonial to his profession, for it was almost entirely bald!

One day a young man with thinning hair called on Zeisler and, observing the doctor's shiny cranium, exclaimed:

"Before I hear your advice I would like to ask you, frankly why you, a dermatologist, should be without hair."

Zeisler smiled wryly and replied, "Young man, when my hair started to fall out, there was no Dr. Zeisler to tell me how to save it."

"Who will plant the wheat?" asked the Little Red Hen.

"Not I," said the cat, the dog and the pig.

"Then I will," said the Little Red Hen.

And she did.

In this familiar fable for children is concentrated the spirit that made America great. The spirit, not of talking, waiting or watching, but of doing.

It was "I will" men and women who conquered our wilderness, developed our resources, built our giant industrial system.

It was the doers who worked, set aside part of their earnings, invested . . . and thus provided "growing money" for the greatest expansion of wealth and well-being that mankind has ever known.

At any time, in any country, wealth is created only by those who will. They are the producers. They make the wheels turn—what's more, they even provide the wheels!

As a nation, we must see to it that our people are given every encouragement to earn, and to employ profitably the surplus their efforts produce. This is the time-proved process by which we add to the number of factories, machines and men that keep busy producing goods.

And only by producing more goods do we increase the wealth and improve the well-being of all our people.

Did you ever stop to think how reading a book or newspaper would be if we had no punctuation marks and no capital letters? When we read, we think only of the words we see; and yet the lowly period and the insignificant comma and all the other marks of punctuation are playing a highly important part. See if you can read this next paragraph intelligently; it has no capital letters and no punctuation marks:

how astounding you read that yet you were uncertain perhaps it goes to show that a little mark means a lot to you read this easily it is simple reading above was far from that if it were conversation how much worse this bob come here where here nearer her hats off to punctuation.

What a dish of alphabet soup that is! And now here is the same paragraph properly punctuated:

How astounding! You read that; yet you were uncertain, perhaps. It goes to show that a little mark means a lot. You read this easily; it is simple. Reading above was far from that. If it were conversation, how much worse! Thus: "Bob, come here," "Where?" "Here, nearer her." Hats off to punctuation!

Before Pearl Harbor, says a Twentieth Century Fund report, the ratio of dentists to population was one for every 1,875 persons living in the United States. By the end of 1944, the ratio had dropped to about one for 2,600 persons.

LITTLE HOPE OF COOPERATION

Back in North Dakota, the farmers have again proved that they hate Labor Unions by voting solidly for a vicious measure to take away the rights of the working people. Yet, at the same time, some mid-west farmers are calling for cooperation between Labor and the farmers.

This much is true: the farmers have always had the votes of Labor Union members in Congress and in the state legislatures. The farmers, however, have not reciprocated.

An agricultural paper, the "United Farmer," had this to say the other day:

"What every farmer should know is that better government and a rising standard of living for all our people depend on farmer-labor cooperation on the political front as well as on the economic front."

True enough, but isn't it time for the farmer to do a little of the cooperating? When farmer-controlled states try to smash Labor, the members of the Unions may hesitate.

We solemnly affirm
By the eternal God—

That all the forces on earth, shall not take from us, that which our fathers have given us, that for which our heroes have died, to keep and perpetuate.

unfriendly feeling for the worker, the farmer, and the veteran. It is safe to say that the present Congress has shown no interest whatever in about 90% of the population. It has used all its efforts to increase the welfare of the top 10% which was doing very nicely without this additional help.

Frankly, cleaning out the present Congress is a patriotic duty. If the same individuals are returned to office it is almost certain that they will bring to pass the number one wish of every Communist—an American depression that will shake the world, weaken the U. S. A. and make Russia the world's strongest power.

Lest We Forget

HOW MEMBERS OF CONGRESS VOTE is information to which a democracy's citizens must have access if they are to discharge their responsibilities properly. Citizens who are also workers are particularly interested in knowing how members of Congress voted on what is now the Taft-Hartley Act.

It will be recalled that after careful study President Truman vetoed the bill, pointing out that it was deliberately designed to weaken the nation's trade unions. The question before Congress thereupon became: "Should the President's veto of this vicious anti-labor bill be sustained or overridden?" How each Representative and each Senator answered this question is revealed in the voting record.

Whereas, the existence of these disputes led Local Union 308 to institute a proceeding to hold Local Union 46 and its members in contempt of court for violation of the judgment; and

Whereas, Local Union 46 and Local Union 308, in a desire to continue uninterrupted progress on these important housing projects, and to effect at least a temporary adjustment of their differences, entered into a stipulation, pursuant to which members of both unions are now engaged on these projects; and

Whereas, Local Union 46 is of the opinion that the judgment of the Court prohibits it from the performance of work traditionally within its jurisdiction and not covered by the agreements of 1935 and 1936; and

Whereas, Local Union 46 feels that such judgment deprives it of rights and privileges granted to it by this International Union; and

Whereas, Local Union 46 now petition the Executive Council of this International Union, to redefine the jurisdictional rights and duties of both Local Union 46 and Local Union 308, in respect to the nailing and stapling on of metal lath on building construction, including multiple dwellings, within the Counties of Bronx, New York and Richmond, in the City of New York, and the nailing and stapling of metal lath on building construction jobs where such nailing and stapling on exceeds 100 yards, and where there is tying of metal lath in addition to the nailing and stapling, and

Whereas, the Executive Council considers the petition of Local Union 46 to be properly before it, and action thereon to be within the powers and duties of the Executive Council, as prescribed under the terms of the Constitution of this International Union; and

Whereas, the Executive Council has investigated, considered and reviewed the facts pertaining to the jurisdictional dispute between Local Union 46 and Local Union 308, giving full consideration to the nature and type of the work performed by each of said Local Unions from the date of their affiliation with this International Union; and

Whereas, the said Executive Council has now determined that the actions of Local 308 under its interpretation of the agreements and judgment of the Supreme Court, New York County, constitute an unwarranted infringement on the jurisdiction of Local Union 46, and represents a jurisdictional encroachment by a Local Union authorized only to nail and staple metal lath on wood construction jobs upon the jurisdiction of a local union authorized to perform such work on all other types of building construction;

Be It Resolved, that the jurisdiction of said Local Union 308, and it hereby is, redefined and limited to the nailing and stapling on of metal lath on wood construction jobs, and on alteration jobs and other types of building construction where wood floors and wood beams and wood furring strips are used; and the jurisdiction of Local Union No. 46 be, and it hereby is, redefined to include the nailing, stapling and tying on of metal lath on all other types of construction; and

Be It Further Resolved, that the terms "wood construction job" and "Alteration jobs" as used in this resolution, be and they hereby are, defined as follows:

(1) Wood Construction jobs:

(2) Alteration jobs and other types of building construction where wood floors and wood beams and wood furring strips are used:

And Be It Further Resolved, that both Local Unions are directed to immediately comply with the terms of this Resolution."

Following the reading of this resolution by the Executive Council, brother Rizzo presented a protest in behalf of Local 308 against the consideration of said resolution, by the Council, and which protest follows:

"To The General Executive Board:

Inasmuch as the agreement between Local No. 308 and Local No. 46 has been interpreted by an order of the Supreme Court of the State of New York and a permanent injunction issued, restraining Local No. 46 from the nailing and stapling on of any lathing materials used as a plastic base, I hereby protest and submit that the General Executive Board has no jurisdiction in the request made by Local No. 46 in their resolution asking for a definition of the agreement.

Signed: M. A. Rizzo, Business Agent
Local No. 308."

Your Executive Council after carefully considering the resolution submitted by Local No. 46 and the protest of Local No. 308, must advise both local unions that in so far as the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union is concerned, the following classes of jurisdiction of work as contained in the decision of the 1920 Toledo Convention of the International Union must prevail and a copy of the same is hereby reproduced for the guidance of both local unions:

"New York City,

Conditions Submitted By the International Executive Board for Reinstatement of Local 46 of New York City and Accepted by the Local.

To The Officers and Members of The Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers International Union.

Brothers:

We, the Executive Council of the International Union, in conformity with the instructions of the Cleveland Convention, have made a careful investigation of the conditions within the so-called 25-mile radius of New York City, and after a full deliberation, have come to the following decision:

FIRST: That former Local No. 46 be reinstated upon their complying with the law of the International Union, in reference to reinstatements.

SECOND: That Local No. 46 be granted jurisdiction over light iron furring, metal lathing, reinforced concrete and fireproof arches in Manhattan and the Bronx, Staten Island, Kings and Queens Counties, and that part of Long Island and Westchester County which comes within the original 25-mile radius, with the following provisions:

(a) Corner Beads on wood jobs, plaster boards when nailed, the nailing and stapling of metal lath shall be considered neutral, except that Local No. 46 shall have jurisdiction over corner beads on all other classes of work.

(b) When Local No. 46 is unable to supply a full quota of men, they shall give working permits to journeymen members of Local Unions within the jurisdiction where work is being done, and shall receive transfers in accordance with the laws of the International Union.

(c) On all work done within the jurisdiction of Local No. 233 and No. 226, there shall be employed on all jobs 50% of local journeymen, when same can be furnished by Local Unions above enumerated, provided that all foremen on such jobs be members of Local No. 46.

(d) All Local Unions within the old 25-mile radius shall establish standards of wages and conditions, at least equal to those of Local No. 46.

(e) All Local Unions affected by this decision and within the former 25-mile radius, shall at all times maintain in their Local Central bodies for full control over all classes of work set forth in our jurisdiction claims and formerly controlled by Local No. 46 of New York City.

(f) That no objection will be offered by any Locals affected by this decision to the seating of any International Lathers Local in any Central Body in the radius covered by this decision.

(g) That the members of Local No. 46 be reinstated and placed in good standing upon payment of all back per capita tax, benefits to commence as soon as tax is paid in full.

The following nomination address was delivered by Frank Williams of the Stone Cutters' Local Union at the New Jersey State Building and Construction Trades Council Convention held at Atlantic City, September 24th and 25th.

Our International Union is highly honored by the nominating and election of Brother Sal Maso as President of the New Jersey State Building and Construction Trades Council.

NOMINATION OF OFFICERS

... First Vice-President assumed the Chair ...

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT DANGLER: The first nomination will be for the office of President.

BROTHER FRANK WILLIAMS: Excuse my turning my back to you, Brother Chairman. I want to address the audience.

Mr. Chairman, Fellow Members of the New Jersey State Building & Construction Trades Council, you see by looking at me that a little water has gone over the dam, and I have arrived at an age where I can look back upon the age where some of the things that have happened within the past ten or twelve years have been outstanding. One of the outstanding incidents that happened at that time, about 1934, was a movement which was on foot in this state to create an organization based upon progressive and militant policies.

At that time we were faced with two alternatives. The one was to remain static. The other was to launch out on a program whereby we could meet the issues of the day, both politically administratively and economically. I was chairman of that reorganization committee. At that time we did an enormous amount of spade work in this state. I spoke at many meetings. At the time I was backed up by the progressive membership of the organization and eventually at the conclusion of the convention we had performed a job of reorganization.

One of the men elected at that time was none other than the man who now occupies the position of President of the State Building Trades Council, Sal Maso. I want to say that at that time he was relegated to the position of Second Vice-President. Some of you recall that the man who was selected, and eventually elected, and received the recognition was the late lamented Brother Fred Sholl. It was unfortunate at that time that Brother Sholl took extremely ill with heart attacks and was practically relegated to the sidelines, unable to follow the progressive action necessary for the State Council. So the onus of responsibility for coordinating and bringing together the units of this Council throughout the state and bringing them into a closer and harmonious relationship with the New Jersey State Federation of Labor fell upon none other than the man who now occupies the position of President of this Council. I happen to know of his work because I have been closely associated with him not only as a trade unionist but as his friend. I like Sal Maso both as a friend and as an administrator. He has an impartial mind. He is a daring personality. He is aggressive. He meets issues as he finds them and I think you will agree with me in this Council that he is not only a friend of every union in this state, but I think he is the friend of everyone of us sitting in this convention this morning. I cannot overemphasize the progressive spirit of this man.

I stand here this morning with the profound conviction that we should renominate him as the President of this important legislative and economic body of the New Jersey State Building Trades in the State of New Jersey. This is the sounding board. This is the congress of the building trades. We cannot propose taking any chances upon the person whom we select to represent us. I say upon his past record, his militant policies, on his coordinating activity of bringing us together and keeping us together, we should nominate him again and elect him as President of the New Jersey State Building Trades Council. Therefore, it is my distinguished pleasure and honor, may I say, to again nominate Sal Maso as the President of the New Jersey State Building and Construction Trades Council.

... The nomination was seconded by several Brothers. ...

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT DANGLER: Are there any further nominations?

BROTHER SHAFFER: I move the nominations be closed.

BROTHER TURNER: I second that.

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT DANGLER: All in favor of that motion say "aye": contrary "no". The "ayes" have it and it is so ordered.

Brother Maso was elected by acclamation.

WAGES ARE NOT THE PRIME CAUSE OF INFLATION

Boris Shishkin, AFL economist, declared that high wages are not the prime cause of inflation, the continuation of which threatens to choke off the market for manufactured goods.

In an address before the Controllors Institute of America, Mr. Shishkin placed the blame for soaring prices on the excessive volume of money in circulation in relation to the price level.

The AFL economist said in part:

"Continuing rise in price inflation is presenting an increasing threat of choking off the market for manufactured products, especially consumer durable goods, while the buying power is increasingly diverted to food, rent, and other indispensable necessities. But the prime source of this inflation is the excessive volume of money in circulation in relation to prices.

"Wages are not a direct or sole force responsible for high prices. In fact, quite often, even generally, prices far outstripped wage costs. Consider the fact, for example, that in May, 1947, the labor cost per ton of coal was $1.65 and in November, 1947 $1.84, a rise of 19 cents a ton. Allowing an addition of a 5-cents-a-ton payment for the welfare fund, added since May, the maximum increase in the labor cost per ton of coal was 24 cents. Yet during the same period the wholesale price per ton of coal rose $1.18 while the average retail price in 34 cities rose $2.40 per ton. Here is a perfect illustration of how a 24-cent increase in the labor cost per ton was universally represented as the direct cause for the price increase which in reality was 10 times as great.

"As a long term proposition, labor and management must agree that expanding productivity is a national necessity. It is in the long-term interest of all to pay labor progressively higher wage in relation to prices: to do this by progressively increasing productivity per man-hour; and to reduce hours of labor and increase real income while increasing the volume of production and distribution.

"To translate this policy into reality, genuine union-management co-operation, should begin, not in the congressional hearing room in Washington, or at the company headquarters, but right at the local plant level, where collective bargaining is initiated."

It is common knowledge that subversive elements infest our country with a program of a revolutionary nature which contemplates overthrow of our present form of Government. The greatest contribution to THAT cause is price raising to a point where the vast majority of the people can no longer purchase the commodities necessary to maintain a living level commensurate with the American way of life. Certainly common sense tells us that something is radically wrong when the working class, regardless of the wage increases they have received during the past few years, find their earnings insufficient to maintain pre-war living standards.

Perhaps that is one reason workers are prone to listen to "false prophets" and be deluded by promises of greater rewards under a "new order."

The workers' war time savings are shrinking as a result of being drawn upon to meet current expenses. This indicates that his earnings are not sufficient to maintain present living costs. A serious matter, the gravity of which ought not be lost upon the recipients of extra large dividends. Let's not overlook staid old Britain that went socialistic, leaving our country about the last of the capitalistic nations. Most of us want to see it remain capitalistic with all the faults of that system, but it could happen here and those who control the destiny of our people better give heed to the handwriting and correct many of those faults else we too will awake some fine morning facing a new ideology which advocates destruction of our long cherished freedom.

CORRECTION

The name of Apprentice Billy Jake Rabon of Local 98 was incorrectly published as Billy Jake Babon in the September 1948 issue of The Lather.

ADDRESS OF FIRST VICE PRESIDENT HARRY J. HAGEN DELIVERED AT THE ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE ILLINOIS STATE COUNCIL OF LATHERS AUGUST 29th AT THE FORT ARMSTRONG HOTEL, ROCK ISLAND, ILLINOIS AND AT THE MEETING OF THE NEW JERSEY STATE COUNCIL OF LATHERS AT THE AMBASSADOR HOTEL, ATLANTIC CITY, NEW JERSEY ON SEPTEMBER 27th.

Mr. Toastmaster, Distinguished Guests,
Officers and Delegates:

We are at present living in the most crucial period in the history of organized labor and the history of our nation.

The purchasing power of our money is slowly but surely depreciating toward the vanishing point.

Another dictator is threatening world peace. Should another world war develop—a scientific war of germs and atomic power, our civilization might return to the stone age.

In the matter of inflation, no one needs to tell you ladies how far our present inflated dollar will go in purchasing food, shelter, clothing and other necessities. Our present 40 cent dollar with prospects of still lower purchasing value, has created a crisis in the nation.

Farm prices are up 185% since 1939, wholesale prices have jumped 110%, food costs are up 120% and the end is not in sight.

Today, the position of every man or woman who has a bank account, life insurance, real estate mortgages, fixed income securities, etc., every person who draws a pension, everyone who works for a fixed salary or wages, has been impaired by the shrinkage in the purchasing value of the dollar since 1939.

Money is getting less and less valuable. You can see it all around you. Goods are getting dearer and dearer. In 1939 you could buy a good low priced car for $800. Today, you're lucky if you can get one for $1800, plus extras and a black market profit.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, in 1939 you could buy a pound of butter for 30 cents. It is over 90 cents today. Eggs could be bought for 28 cents, today they cost about 60 cents.

You could buy bacon for 33 cents a pound, today it costs 75 cents and up. Pork, beef and other items have tripled in cost. The basket of food that cost $10 in 1939, costs about $24 today.

Today an income of $5000 a year is worth $2375 in 1939 dollars. Today the man who earns $10,000 a year is worse off than the man who earned $5000 in 1939, because of inflation and high taxes.

On the political front organized labor is being persecuted by national and state anti-labor laws, enacted by the political parasites in the legislative halls of the nation. Many of these so called representatives of the people are nothing more or less than stooges of big business who jump when their masters crack the whip.

By big business, I refer specifically to the National Association of Manufacturers, labor's most persistent and vindictive enemy. I refer in general to the National Chamber of Commerce, the National Bankers Association and other fascist minded outfits, who, with the NAM would totally destroy labor unions if they could.

The views of these enemies of labor are well circulated by the prostituted press of the nation, the radio, magazines and by other means of expression and communication that are subsidized by big business through advertising, which is the very lifeblood of these channels of public information. Newspapers are powerful moulders of public opinion; they themselves are big business and of course their news columns, editorials and columnists give expression to the views of big business as do the other outlets I mentioned. According to Twohey Associates, who analyze the press, 93% of the newspapers were for the Taft-Hartley bill, only 2% opposed it and 5% were non-committal.

Thus the NAM and its cohorts are able to pass on their viewpoints, including their biases, prejudices, distortions of fact and general reactionary views as what they lightly call "truth", to a gullible and unsuspecting public.

I know that, for the most part, due to a lack of proper educational facilities, our own members in organized labor do not have the slightest conception of the magnitude of the operations and activities of this octopus of reaction, whose tentacles reach into every part of our nation's economy. Through discriminatory and anti-labor legislation, which often has proved to be unconstitutional, the NAM through its pawns in the legislative field are slowly but surely strangling organized labor to death.

Wage earners have been deprived of many hardwon rights through the enactment of unfair and unjust labor legislation on both a state and national scale. Organized labor is at the crossroads. It must either get rid of the political parasites who follow the dictates of big business—whose main objective is to destroy the unions—or take a chance of losing many more of its hardwon rights, if not all of the many advances made by past and present generations of organized workers, who, through years of privation, suffering, bitter struggle and even bloodshed, won the gains and recognition which the present generation of wage earners have had handed to them on a silver platter.

The annual propaganda fund of the NAM this year amounts to $5,500,000. In addition to the annual budget, there are various advertising schemes which run into hundreds of millions of dollars, all spreading the hate and venom of this labor hating outfit and others of their ilk.

This $5,500,000 fund for this year is to be spent in fighting unions in National Advertising, Radio, Pamphlets, Printed Matter, Motion Pictures, Speakers Programs, Opinion Moulders Program, Community Public Relations, Public Relations Conferences, Opinion Research, Administration, Social Security and in many other ways.

I presume most of you know that the Taft-Hartley Act was written by three attorneys of NAM corporations, who were given a leave of absence for that purpose.

When this law was written under NAM sponsorship and supervision, five Senators and eighteen Representatives stated this fact in Congress and named the NAM lawyers who wrote the bill.

Through what channels do the NAM spread its propaganda? I will mention a few:

The NAM Industrial Press Service goes to 7500 weekly newspapers out of a total 10,000 in the country. Cuts, cartoons, editorials and other items are furnished free. This is one of the greatest pieces of corruption in journalistic history.

In one year the NAM boasted it issued 708 press release and got over 100,000 newspaper stories. All free propaganda except for the minor overhead of getting out the copy.

No less than 2500 columnists are supplied free with a propaganda sheet called "Industry's Views."

The NAM sends out to 90% of all radio stations its "Briefs for Broadcasters", asking them to use the little items from time to time. Inasmuch as many radio stations are owned by newspapers who depend on big business advertising to exist, as do the radio stations, you can imagine how much of this stuff is fed the public.

The NAM penetrates the public schools with the approval of superintendents and others in charge of education, by furnishing 37,000 school teachers its monthly release called "Trends."

It propagandizes no less than 15,000 clergymen with another monthly publication called "Understanding", and publishes in it scores of letters from ministers approving items which are the most biased, anti-labor, anti-liberal propaganda items.

It fools a lot of farmers with a publication called "Farm and Industry", which is mailed to 35,000 leaders of agriculture.

One of its best jobs is its "Program Notes" which it supplies to 40,000 leaders of women's clubs throughout the United States.

It supplies lectures, printed matter, even circulars and tickets for thousands of clubs which are willing to make reactionary, anti-labor propaganda their propaganda.

In addition they have a new booklet for students called "Your Future and What To Make It" the first of the "You and Industry" series which to date has distributed close to 400,000 copies.

It reaches into small business through local Kiwanis, Rotarian and other clubs, which it furnishes with speakers and literature.

Through these and many other activities, it reaches into every section of our economy—Advertising, education, religion, business, entertainment, politics and others where it plants its dastardly anti-union propaganda in a subtle and convincing manner.

Now let us have a look at the record of the Republican controlled, big business dominated, 80th Congress, and see what these servants of the vested interests accomplished. Let us also take a glance at the political platforms of both major parties and compare them.

Take the Taft-Hartley Act for instance. This creation of the NAM is not even mentioned in the Republican platform. In fact, it is their intention to make this law more stringent if they control the next administration.

The Democratic Party advocates repeal of the entire law.

Another matter not even mentioned in the Republican platform, a matter of vital importance to organized labor, is the Labor Department which was originally created to give labor a voice in government. This department has been so consistently sabotaged by the Republican party and a few southern Congressmen, stripping it of one bureau after another, that today, as President Truman recently remarked: "They have practically put the Labor Department out of business . . . choking it with insufficient appropriations."

The Department of Labor is now the smallest Cabinet Department in the government—a far cry from what its founders had in mind in 1913 when the new agency with Cabinet rank was established for the following purpose: "To foster, promote, and develop the welfare of the wage earners of the United States; to improve their working conditions and advance their opportunities for profitable employment." William Howard Taft, father of the present day Taft of notorious Taft-Hartley fame signed the bill creating this department the last day he was in office. It was a great day for labor. In 1946 it had 7000 employees and a budget of $23,000,000. Today it has 3,000 employees and the budget is down to $14,500,000.

The 80th Congress committed an act of mayhem of the Department of Labor that is supposed to look after the interests of 60,000,000 workers.

The Democratic Party favors return to the department of most of the functions it had jurisdiction over under the Roosevelt administration.

The 80th Congress voted a 4.7 billion dollar tax reduction for those most able to pay. It gave upper bracket taxpayers what "Business Week" (6, 2) called "real relief." A taxpayer with an annual income of $500,000 got a cut in taxes of $48,000; a worker in the same family status (with a wife and two children) making $3000 per year, got a cut of about $90. The percentage SPENDABLE INCOME for the $500,000 a year family is over 50%, but for the $3000 a year family only 3% and for the $2200 family only 1.3%.

The Republican controlled 80th Congress consistently opposed the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill, slum clearance and rehabilitation of run down areas. They still oppose it in their platform unless it is done under the so called free enterprise system with restrictions that practically prevent any real action on these humanitarian objectives.

The Democrats favor all of those items in their platform.

The 80th Congress ended O.P.A. and weakened price controls and they rejected credit controls, price controls, rationing and allocation of scarce commodities. This has brought about the present inflationary spiral that, according to Marriner S. Eccles, will end in a depression that cannot be avoided. This man, who since 1936 until recently was Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board which supervises the thousands of banks in the Federal Reserve System, told a congressional committee a few weeks ago that: "its too late to avoid a depression. A BUST IS CERTAIN. You can only modify it now by constructive action." They refused, at the special session, to take such constructive action.

The Democratic Party favors laws to at least modify the bust when it comes.

The 80th Congress failed to pass the 75 cent minimum wage which is a plank in the Democratic Party platform. Instead they increased their own salaries and allowances and voted themselves a juicy pension.

Serious cuts were made in the budget of the Federal Security Agency.

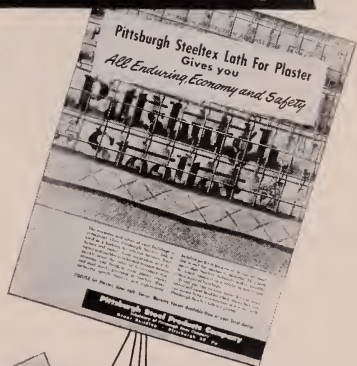

The Wagner-Murray-Dingell proposals for national health legislation was killed in committee.

All efforts to broaden the coverage of social security and increase benefits were defeated. Instead they passed two bills that cut down the coverage of social security by 750,000.

The railroad monopolists were favored by the passage of the Reed-Bulwinkle bill which permits rail-

And that's with ballots on election day.
Failure to vote in '46
Got us in this awful fix.
Place your ballot in the box
To keep your Union off the rocks.
Make Election day a holiday,
But use it to vote and not to play.
We can stop bad legislation,
Don't be a slacker

It's the duty of all
To Vote this Fall.
If you want to have your say roads to set rates without fear of violating the anti-trust laws.

They refused to extend the Clayton Act for the purpose of breaking up monopolies and they defeated a measure to set up the Tennessee Valley Authority to build a steam power plant.

It's no wonder the Wall Street Journal (6/2) declared: "The 80th Congress . . . will be set down as the most sympathetic to the problems of business men since the beginning of the Roosevelt era."

It should have said "most sympathetic to big business and monopoly but not to small business, labor or the public."

They also approved the largest peacetime military appropriations ever made in peacetime and a peacetime draft, making men between the ages of 19 to 26 subject to 21 months military training, thus breaking the American tradition of voluntary enlistment in peacetime and foisting upon a peace loving nation the foreign system of peacetime conscription.

Feeling that they have the next election in the bag, the Republican National Committee has just issued and is widely distributing a pamphlet filled with cartoons and reading matter, blasting and ridiculing labor and its leaders with bitter and viscious invective.

They try to put over the idea that before the Taft-Hartley Act, unions were run by "dictators" and members had little or nothing to say about the functioning of their unions; that strikes were called on the spur of the moment and that labor leaders followed a policy of "to hell with the public." They claim that all this has been changed by the Taft-Hartley law.

This propaganda was denied and denounced in Congress by John W. McCormack (Dem. Mass.) and other friends of labor as "brazen falsehoods and viscious propaganda" but of course the daily press ignores anything said in Congress that is favorable to labor.

The do nothing policy of the 80th Congress is responsible for the present artificial prosperity and inflation and the very stability of the nation is threatened. With more money to spend, our present 40 cent dollar purchases less and less as time passes. We must elect a Congress that has the interests of all the people in mind when voting on legislation; a Congress that will do something to stop the rapid pyramiding of prices before disintegration sets in.

Now, just what can we, who will be vitally affected by new laws of the next administration do to see that liberal congressmen, friends of labor are elected at the polls next November?

First, we must make sure all our relatives and friends are registered and see that they vote.

We must contribute liberally to Labors League for Political Education, sponsored by our own International Union in conjunction with the A.F. of L. The League is spearheading the drive on a national basis and has developed a most comprehensive structure on a national basis for political education and action. It will try and have labor represented in every one of the more than 100,000 precincts in every part of the nation.

It has set up national administrative and executive committees and officers; state, city, county and local union policy committees that are subdivided into finance, public relations, organization, speakers and political direction committees, also education, registration and precinct and ward committees.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are needed for radio, newspaper and other publicity and for the many other activities of the League to counteract the propaganda of the enemies of labor and to support the friends of labor of both parties in the election.

The A.F. of L. has requested each member of the A.F. of L. to contribute at least one dollar. This is a small sum indeed because if the battle is lost it will cost every union man, not one dollar, but many thousands of dollars in their pay envelopes and restrictive legislation.

WIT and HUMOR

He Lost the Battle

"Did you participate in many engagements on the continent?" an inquisitive old lady asked the returned soldier.

"Only five," replied the ex-GI, with becoming modesty.

"And you came through all of them unhurt?"

"Not exactly," he returned sadly, "I married the fifth."

All Modern Improvements

Two ladies who had not seen each other for a long time, met on the street.

"Oh, Mary" Blanch excitedly exclaimed, "I've had a lot happen to me since I saw you last. I had my teeth out and an electric stove and a refrigerator put in!"

Careless Christians

This notice appeared in a western Kentucky newspaper: "Positively no more baptizing in my pasture. Twice here in the last two months my gate has been left open and before I chase my heifers all over the county again, all the sinners can go to Hades."

Honest

Judge—"So you broke into the cigar store just to get a 10-cent cigar? What were you doing in the safe?"

Prisoner—"I was putting in the dime."

Man is a funny creature. When he reads a medical book he fancies he has every disease described; but let him read the work of a moralist and all the faults pointed out he sees, not in himself, but in his neighbors.

Observation and Deduction

"I shall never forget when I was shipwrecked," said the sailor. "I was stranded on a distant island and found myself among a tribe of wild women who had no tongues!"

"Good gracious!" exclaimed one of his listeners. "How ever did they manage to talk?"

"They couldn't!" he replied. "That's what made them wild!"

Confusing But Amusing

Two men named Wood and Stone were standing on a street corner. A pretty girl walked by. Wood turned to Stone. Stone turned to Wood. Then they both turned to rubber, and the girl turned into a drug store.

She Should Worry

Doctor: "How do you mean you are worried, Mrs. Brown? Did you give your husband the sleeping powder as I told you?"

Mrs. Brown: "Indeed, I did, doctor. You said to give him as much as I could get on a nickel. But I had no nickel so I used five pennies instead and he hasn't wakened for three days."

Yes, Both Ways

"Hi Jim," cried Sam, meeting a buddy for the first time since the end of the war. "Did you marry that girl you used to go with or are you still doing your own cooking, and darning?"

"Yes," replied Jim.

Oops!

She: "Who gave the bride away?"

He: "I could have, but I kept my mouth shut."

SCIENTISTS LEARN TO "FARM THE SEA"

Almost unknown to the public, a group of scientists in California is doing something which may prove more important to future mankind than all the noisy news featured in today's newspaper headlines.

These scientists are learning how to "farm the earth's surface, and contains 10 times as much "plant" life as is found on land.

In short, these patient "research men" are "cultivating an endless variety of sea plants, trained by chemistry to produce edible foods in great abundance, and at little cost."

By making food plentiful for the world's increasing population, they may help to maintain peace. Hungry people have more temptation to go to war than have those with full stomachs.

THE HARD WAY

Only four formal monuments have been erected publicly in honor of American labor leaders. The fourth was dedicated May 5, 1948, in Atlanta, Georgia, in honor of the late Thomas Talbot, founder and first president of the International Association of Machinists. The other three are: In Washington, D. C., honoring the late Samuel Gompers, for many years president of the American Federation of Labor; in Scranton, Pa., honoring John Mitchell, a founder and long president of the United Mine Workers of America; and in Pittsburgh, Pa., honoring John M. Davis, renowned 19th Century editor, who was deep in the fight of all labor battles of his day.

The League has a tremendous financial responsibility and the money is needed immediately. We should contribute at once if we have not already done so.

This is labor's opportunity to demonstrate to big business and their stooges in Congress, that labor, the sleeping giant, when thoroughly aroused, can rally with united action, to a just cause and sweep all their enemies before them.

Let us spread this message to all workers and to our friends and give our unqualified support to the League which is your League and mine and every workers and their family.

Let us follow out the League's recommendations and try and get rid of the enemies of labor in the legislative branches of our government.

20,000 GUILTY

More than 20,000 business establishments violated the Wage-Hour Law last year and illegally withheld more than $18,000,000 in wages.

That's what the Wage-Hour Division of the Department of Labor reported recently—and it admitted frankly that the law had not been enforced rigidly.

To our way of thinking 20,000 law violations constitute a major scandal, and the withholding of $18,000,000 in wages from American workers is quite a swindle.

We can imagine what would have happened if 20,000 labor unions had been found guilty of sharp financial dealing. Great condemnation would have been heaped on them—and justifiably so.

That's one reason we were so interested in noting the great calmness with which the press and radio accepted the Wage-Hour Law report.

And we'd like to know what the number of violators would have been listed at if the Wage-Hour Division had had an adequate enforcement staff.

CORRECTION

Suspension for non-payment of dues of R. E. Faber 34878 by Local 276, which was published in the September 1948 issue of The Lather, occurred thru a misunderstanding and has therefore been cancelled.

H. L. Beermann, Sec.
 Local No. 73.

WHEREAS, Almighty God has in His wisdom removed from our midst Brother Louis F. Schlenker, No. 29603 of Local 190, and

WHEREAS, Brother Schlenker was a loyal and faithful trade unionist and devout friend, and will be profoundly missed by his many friends and by the membership of Local 190, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That Local 190 hereby extend its sincere and deep sympathy to the relatives of our departed Brother, and be it further

W. Frank, Sec'y and B. A.
 Lathers Local Union No. 190.

AS A UNION MEMBER THESE THINGS I FIRMLY RESOLVE TO DO:

1. I will register to vote and then vote.
2. I will have my family register to vote and then vote.
3. I will urge my fellow workers and my neighbors to register and vote.
4. I will become active in my local Union's non-partisan political program and in all other union activities, because I have learned that true strength comes only through unity.
5. I will go out and ring doorbells if necessary, urging people to register and vote against anti-labor candidates.
6. I will do all that I can to strengthen my Local Union, and the International Association, in their forceful and just fight against political labor-baiters.

7. I will cast my vote for candidates who will truly represent the best interests of the nation and the labor movement by repealing or amending the Taft-Hartley Act; thus reclaiming the rights of free trade union people.

8. I will remember that people who take their liberties for granted may lose them, and I will fight to preserve the right of all men to speak their minds without fear.

9. I will always remember that only through practical political activity can there be progress and security for me, my fellow unionists and my children.

10. I will never again forget that what goes into the ballot box shows up in the bread box.

Lest We Forget

HOW MEMBERS OF CONGRESS VOTE is information to which a democracy's citizens must have access if they are to discharge their responsibilities properly. Citizens who are also workers are particularly interested in knowing how members of Congress voted on what is now the Taft-Hartley Act.

It will be recalled that after careful study President Truman vetoed the bill, pointing out that it was deliberately designed to weaken the nation's trade unions. The question before Congress thereupon became: "Should the President's veto of this vicious anti-labor bill be sustained or overridden?" How each Representative and each Senator answered this question is revealed in the voting record.

Minutes Of International Executive Council Meeting Held At Cleveland, Ohio, September 13 To 17, 1948

Meeting called to order Monday, September 13th, 1948, at 10 a. m. by First Vice President Harry J. Hagen. Members of the Council present were:

Second Vice President .....	C. J. Haggerty
Third Vice President .....	John P. Cook
Fourth Vice President .....	Sal Maso
Fifth Vice President .....	Thomas Priestly
Sixth Vice President .....	Frank R. Smith
Seventh Vice President .....	J. P. Boyd
Eighth Vice President .....	H. H. Fairbanks
Ninth Vice President .....	C. R. Nicholas
Tenth Vice President .....	Lionel Brodeur

Vice President Turner wired his regrets of his inability to be present. Vice President Langan advised the Board that he would be unable to be present due to illness. The Board instructed the Secretary to communicate with Vice President Langan, expressing their regrets at his illness, and their best wishes for an early and complete recovery.

Case No. 1—National Joint Board for Settlement of Jurisdictional disputes, Building and Construction Industry.

Your executive Council calls attention to the fact that this plan was published in our April journal as a proposed plan for the Settlement of Jurisdictional Disputes. Since the publishing of this proposal, a plan has been adopted and approved by the Building and Construction Trades Department, effective May 1, 1948.

Your Executive Council would urge upon all of our affiliated local unions the necessity of familiarizing themselves with this plan, and also urge that they make full use of the machinery contained therein for adjustment of jurisdictional disputes. In order that our local unions may obtain all assistance possible, your Executive Council would suggest that a copy of all briefs to be submitted to the National Joint Board be forwarded in advance to our General President so that he could familiarize himself with the position of our organizations and be prepared to render all possible assistance.

We would call to the attention of our affiliated unions the necessity of their officers and members insisting that all of their plastering and lathing contractors figure all work in any bids which they submit properly coming within the jurisdiction of our International Union, if we are to protect ourselves against encroachments by way of disputes pending a decision of the National Joint Board for the Settlement of Jurisdictional Disputes.

Case No. 2—National Foundation for Lathing and Plastering, Inc.

Your Executive Council reviewed the progress being made by the National Foundation for Lathing and Plastering, and are of the same opinion at this meeting as we were previously as to the splendid service that can be rendered to our industry by this Foundation. We regret to note from the report of the General President, that large numbers of plastering contractors have not seen fit to properly support the work of this Foundation, but hope that the future will change this condition, and that this part of our industry will realize the necessity of giving this worthwhile agency their full support.

Your Executive Council authorized the General President and General Secretary Treasurer to contribute the sum of $5,000.00 to this Foundation when and if in their judgment, this movement is receiving proper support from the contracting plasterers and particularly the Contracting Plasterers' International Association.

Case No. 3—Request of Local 308 to Lift Automatic Suspension From the Record of Thomas Bartolotta, No. 8131.

Upon careful review of the records in this case by your Executive Council which show that there was no tax received upon this brother for the years 1918 to 1923 inclusive from Local 308, during the same years however, this brother claims to have paid his full dues to that local union.

While your Council feels that an adjustment of this brother's case is in order, the records would indicate that the fault lies with the local union. It is therefore the decision of your Council that this brother's standing be restored upon the payment of the six years back tax which was shown unpaid by the local union.

Case No. 4—Proposed Agreement Between Our International Union and the Byrne Organization, Inc. Engineers and Contractors.

Your Executive Council had before it a proposed agreement between the above-named organization and our International Union, which after consideration was ordered approved and the General President authorized to sign same on behalf of our International Union.

Case No. 5—Councils for Cooperative Development.

Your Executive Council had before it a communication from Mr. Arnold S. Zander, Co-Chairman for the Council for Cooperative Development, requesting the endorsement of the International Union for this project, and a contribution to assist in financing the same.

While your Executive Council is sympathetic to the development of Cooperative Movements, we are of the opinion that a further study be made of this matter in order that full information might be submitted for our consideration prior to taking any specific action. The subject matter was therefore held in abeyance for further study and information.

Case No. 6—School for Workers.

Your Executive Council considered the fact that many progressive states are operating schools for workers, the greater portion of which cost is being borne by the University through State grants and subsidies. It is the opinion of the Council that there are many members of our various local unions who are desirous of advancing themselves educationally and would be happy to take advantage of the various courses which are offered by these institutions, and thereby advance themselves in their trade unions, as well as in the community and business life in the area in which they reside.

Your Council therefore recommends to our various local unions that they obtain information on these various schools for the purpose of assisting that portion of their membership who are desirous of taking advantage of these opportunities.

We further recommend that our General President cooperate with our various local unions for the purpose of assisting our members to help finance their attendance at these schools having the various institutes to the extent of paying fifty percent of the cost where local unions are willing to pay the other fifty percent of their members' tuition for board, room, etc. This cost is generally reasonable for a three or six-weeks course, and your Council is of the opinion that our membership should be afforded this opportunity wherever possible.

Case No. 7.—Labor's League for Political Education.

Your Executive Council is firmly convinced that Labor's League for Political Education should receive the full and complete support of every trade unionist in this nation if we are to prevent complete annihilation by the anti-labor forces of this nation, who are using every means by political action to destroy the potency and usefulness of the organized labor movement. We must assume that every intelligent trade unionist is aware of the damage already sustained by organized labor through the passage of the Taft-Hartley Act and many other Acts at the state level, containing the same restrictions and injurious provisions as the Taft-Hartley Act, and must realize the need for their cooperation with City Central Bodies, State Federations of Labor and the National Labor's League for Political Education.

Certain provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act now in effect were deliberately designed to prevent use of organized labor's funds to help elect their friends and defeat their enemies. Therefore in our political campaigns we are forced to rely upon voluntary contributions from our membership throughout the nation to properly finance the program outlined, and assist in electing friends of organized labor.

Your Executive Council strongly urges all local unions to vote a voluntary assessment of $1.00 per member as requested by General President McSorley's letter of August 27, 1948, and urge all members to make this contribution voluntarily with no penalties applied for the failure of any member to contribute.

Case No. 8.—Protest of Local 308 Against Wording of the Minutes of the last Executive Council as contained in Case No. 11 of that Meeting.

Brother Michael Rizzo appeared before the Executive Council protesting the action of the Executive Council in the above-mentioned matter. After listening to brother Rizzo and discussing the matter in question, your Council is of the opinion that its action in that particular case was proper, and justified, and therefore reiterates and reaffirms its statements and position as recorded.

Case No. 9.—Protest of Local No. 46 Versus Local 308.

Brothers Walter Matthews, Tim Spillane and Brian Dillon of Local 46 and brother Michael Rizzo of Local 308 appeared before the Executive Council with respect to the jurisdictional controversy now existing between Local Union No. 46 and Local Union 308. Brothers Matthews, Dillon and Spillane presented the following Resolution, and a request for its adoption by the Executive Council:

"Whereas, for many years disputes have existed between Local Union 46 and Local Union 308, of the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers International Union, with respect to the nailing and stapling on of metal lath, wire lath and other lathing materials, on building construction jobs; and

Whereas, in the interests of an amicable settlement of this dispute, Local Union 46 and Local Union 308 entered in an agreement on September 20, 1935, as follows:

"Agreement between Local 308, L. I. U. and Local 46 L. I. U. covering such building operations known as flat houses, alteration jobs or other types of building operations where wood floors, beams and wood studs and wood furring strips are used.

On the above class of work Local 308 agrees to waive claim to all corner beads, base beads, and picture beads or any other type of beads used in connection with plastering work.

On the above class of work Local 46 agrees to waive claim to all nailing or stapling on or wire lath, metal lath or other lath or plaster board materials nailed or stapled on in connection with plastering work.

Local 308 and Local 46 agree that permits will be given to members of both Locals whenever either local is unable to furnish men for the above-mentioned work.

Committee for 46:

Hugh Birney, Pres.

Tim Spillane

Committee for 308:

Frederico Quinto, Pres.

George Gerrity

This Agreement to take effect October 15, 1935"; and Whereas, despite the execution of the foregoing agreement, differences continued between the two local unions, and in a further effort to guarantee harmonious relationships between the two local unions, a supplement agreement was executed on October 15, 1936, as follows:

"The understanding between Locals Nos. 46 and 308 is on a mixed job any nailing or stapling which exceeds 100 yards belongs to Local No. 308, and it is also agreed where there is 400 feet of corner beads or less shall be done by Local 308. Any corner beads in excess of 400 feet shall be done by members of Local No. 46; any stapling on a mixed job which is less than 100 yards is to be done by members of Local 46.

This agreement was reached at a meeting of the New York City District Council of Lathers at a meeting held Wed., October 15, 1936.

Locals present: Local No. 46. Local No. 244 and Local No. 308.

William Cohen, for Local No. 244; Joseph Mulholland, for Local No. 308"

Whereas, Local Unions 46 and 308, differ in their interpretation of the foregoing agreements and are unable to reconcile the differences between them with respect to their jurisdictional claims on the nailing and stapling of all metal lath; and

Whereas, Local Union 308 took resort to Court action in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, in 1941, and obtained a judgment on December 23, 1941, restraining Local Union 46 and its members from nailing or stapling on of wire lath, metal lath, or other lath or plaster board, in connection with the plastering on any multiple dwelling within the territory of New York, Bronx and Richmond Counties in the City of New York; and further restraining Local Union 46 and its members from doing similar work in connection with any construction job where nailing or stapling, and also tying on, of lath, is done and where such nailing or stapling exceeds 100 yards on any job within the territory of New York, Bronx and Richmond Counties in the State of New York; and

Whereas, disputes have arisen between Local Union 46 and Local Union 308, with respect to the application of the agreements and the judgment hereinbefore mentioned, to the lathing work performed on the Peter Cooper and Stuyvesant Town developments of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, now under construction in the County of New York, City or New York; and

ACTION vs APATHY

By

MRS. HERMAN H. LOWE

President, American Federation of Women's Auxiliaries of Labor.

"This is the hour" for all women everywhere to become conscious of their responsibility as citizens—to exchange APATHY for ACTION—fearlessly to denounce the acts of the 80th Congress which opposed the public interest and to elect public officials who will remember they are representatives of the people. It is we, the home-makers of America who suffer from bad housing, high prices, neglected schools and low minimum wages. It is OUR problem. Only OUR government can remedy the existing inequities. It is OUR duty to cast OUR ballots for a better government.

Congress will not alter its course because we are dissatisfied or angry about its actions. OUR power lies in getting enough ballots cast in the November 2nd election to speak forcibly for us.

The 80th Congress FAILED the women of America. We are in the throes of inflation—Congress did nothing about it. We need adequate low-cost housing. What did Congress do about it? The answer—prices of homes have doubled and tripled. The hope of millions of veterans to obtain homes was tossed aside. The out-moded 40c minimum wage was left intact as a monument to the attitude of the 80th Congress regarding industrial democracy. Lack of action on old-age and unemployment insurance leaves only the prospect of insecurity and actual want for our aged and unemployed. Failure to grant Federal aid for schools condemns the youth of America to sub-standard opportunities for education. This was the answer of the 80th Congress to the pleas of the nation for decent schools. How will you register your disapproval of the 80th Congress—by disgruntled acceptance—by resignation—or by exercising your right and duty to VOTE?

One hundred years ago at Seneca Falls, New York, a few courageous women, bent on achieving recognition and broader opportunities for service and specifically the right to vote, assembled to initiate a program of progress for women.

The American Federation of Labor, interesting to recall, was one of the very first organizations of men to take up the battle to further women's privileges. It was during the 1890 Convention of the A. F. of L., held at Detroit, Michigan, December 8-13, that the first resolution was adopted, approving women's right to vote. For thirty years this organization consistently fought for the cause of women's rights until Congress granted the privilege of the ballot to all American women.

Let history repeat itself by a re-birth of the courage and tenacity of the women at Seneca Falls, who demanded the right to vote. They wanted to vote, but didn't have the privilege. Through their initiative and the efforts of organizations, such as the A. F. of L., we have the privilege—LET'S USE IT! What will your answer be? More confusion and APATHY—or ACTION and ballots?

Maurice J. Tobin Appointed Secretary of Labor

Maurice J. Tobin, the new Secretary of Labor, brings to the Cabinet post a wealth of experience both in business and public affairs. Appointment to the Cabinet is one of the greatest honors which can be given a man. The honor to Maurice Tobin is well deserved and the laurels he has won have come the hard way—through diligence and hard work since he left school at 16 to help support his family.

The story of Secretary Tobin's rise to his present high post is a typical American success story filled with color and audacity. The story of the 47-year-old Cabinet member begins many years ago—in Ireland, in fact.

Mr. Tobin's father came from Ireland from Cloughcenofishogue and settled in Boston. He married Margaret Daly from County Cork. Maurice was born in Boston, on Mission Hill.

He was graduated from the Mission Grammar School, Roxbury, in 1915 and went to the High School of Commerce, which he left in his sophomore year to help support his family. But he did not let leaving school interrupt his educational advancement. He attended evening classes at the Young Men's Catholic Association, the Suffolk College of Law, and Boston College Extension courses.

He was in the leather business as a young man but became interested in politics and helped a friend try, but unsuccessfully, to make the race for Congress.

Later he entered the telephone business and was associated with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company for several years. But his interest in politics was destined to carry him further than the post of a successful New England business man.

In the face of some doubts of the old-timers he ran for the State Legislature and won. He represented Ward 10, Roxbury, in 1927-28.

In 1928 he went to Houston, Tex., as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention and later in the year ran for Congress against Geo. H. Tinkham, colorful Republican and big-game hunter. He was defeated, but added to his political experience and acquaintanceship.

Three years later he topped a field of 29 candidates for election to the Boston School Committee for a four-year term. In 1933 he was named to the New England Advisory Board for Emergency Relief Administration by the late President Roosevelt and a year later was named chairman of the Boston School Committee. In November, 1934, he topped 29 candidates with a record-breaking plurality for reelection to the School Committee.

In 1937 he was elected Mayor of Boston in a six-way contest which included ex-Mayor James M. Curley, ex-Mayor Malcolm Nichols, and other well-known figures. And in 1941 he was elected to succeed himself, the first to do so under the State's new legislation.

He was named by the Democratic Party in 1944 as its candidate for Governor of Massachusetts and resigned as Boston's Mayor. He was elected Governor of Massachusetts and served one term. In the G. O. P. swing of 1946 Mr. Tobin was defeated for re-election but retaining tremendous popularity in New England and in his own State, Mr. Tobin was nominated for the gubernatorial race of 1948. He withdrew from the contest when asked to take the Secretaryship of Labor by President Truman. Secretary Tobin is married and has three children.

The following nomination address was delivered by Frank Williams of the Stone Cutters' Local Union at the New Jersey State Building and Construction Trades Council Convention held at Atlantic City, September 24th and 25th.

Our International Union is highly honored by the nominating and election of Brother Sal Maso as President of the New Jersey State Building and Construction Trades Council.

NOMINATION OF OFFICERS

... FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT assumed the Chair ...

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT DANGLER: The first nomination will be for the office of President.

BROTHER FRANK WILLIAMS: Excuse my turning my back to you, Brother Chairman. I want to address the audience.

Mr. Chairman, Fellow Members of the New Jersey State Building & Construction Trades Council, you see by looking at me that a little water has gone over the dam, and I have arrived at an age where I can look back upon the age where some of the things that have happened within the past ten or twelve years have been outstanding. One of the outstanding incidents that happened at that time, about 1934, was a movement which was on foot in this state to create an organization based upon progressive and militant policies.

At that time we were faced with two alternatives. The one was to remain static. The other was to launch out on a program whereby we could meet the issues of the day, both politically administratively and economically. I was chairman of that reorganization committee. At that time we did an enormous amount of spade work in this state. I spoke at many meetings. At the time I was backed up by the progressive membership of the organization and eventually at the conclusion of the convention we had performed a job of reorganization.

One of the men elected at that time was none other than the man who now occupies the position of President of the State Building Trades Council, Sal Maso. I want to say that at that time he was relegated to the position of Second Vice-President. Some of you recall that the man who was selected, and eventually elected, and received the recognition was the late lamented Brother Fred Sholl. It was unfortunate at that time that Brother Scholl took extremely ill with heart attacks and was practically relegated to the sidelines, unable to follow the progressive action necessary for the State Council. So the onus of responsibility for coordinating and bringing together the units of this Council throughout the state and bringing them into a closer and harmonious relationship with the New Jersey State Federation of Labor fell upon none other than the man who now occupies the position of President of this Council. I happen to know of his work because I have been closely associated with him not only as a trade unionist but as his friend. I like Sal Maso both as a friend and as an administrator. He has an impartial mind. He is a daring personality. He is aggressive. He meets issues as he finds them and I think you will agree with me in this Council that he is not only a friend of every union in this state, but I think he is the friend of everyone of us sitting in this convention this morning. I cannot overeulogize the progressive spirit of this man.

I stand here this morning with the profound conviction that we should renominate him as the President of this important legislative and economic body of the New Jersey State Building Trades in the State of New Jersey. This is the sounding board. This is the congress of the building trades. We cannot propose taking any chances upon the person whom we select to represent us. I say upon his past record, his militant policies, on his coordinating activity of bringing us together and keeping us together, we should nominate him again and elect him as President of the New Jersey State Building Trades Council. Therefore, it is my distinguished pleasure and honor, may I say, to again nominate Sal Maso as the President of the New Jersey State Building and Construction Trades Council.

... The nomination was seconded by several Brothers. ...

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT DANGLER: Are there any further nominations?

BROTHER SHAFFER: I move the nominations be closed.

BROTHER TURNER: I second that.

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT DANGLER: All in favor of that motion say "aye"; contrary "no". The "ayes" have it and it is so ordered.

Brother Maso was elected by acclamation.

WAGES ARE NOT THE PRIME CAUSE OF INFLATION

Boris Shishkin, AFL economist, declared that high wages are not the prime cause of inflation, the continuation of which threatens to choke off the market for manufactured goods.

In an address before the Controllors Institute of America, Mr. Shishkin placed the blame for soaring prices on the excessive volume of money in circulation in relation to the price level.

The AFL economist said in part:

"Continuing rise in price inflation is presenting an increasing threat of choking off the market for manufactured products, especially consumer durable goods, while the buying power is increasingly diverted to food, rent, and other indispensable necessities. But the prime source of this inflation is the excessive volume of money in circulation in relation to prices.

"Wages are not a direct or sole force responsible for high prices. In fact, quite often, even generally, prices far outstripped wage costs. Consider the fact, for example, that in May, 1947, the labor cost per ton of coal was $1.65 and in November, 1947 $1.84, a rise of 19 cents a ton. Allowing an addition of a 5-cents-a-ton payment for the welfare fund, added since May, the maximum increase in the labor cost per ton of coal was 24 cents. Yet during the same period the wholesale price per ton of coal rose $1.18 while the average retail price in 34 cities rose $2.40 per ton. Here is a perfect illustration of how a 24-cent increase in the labor cost per ton was universally represented as the direct cause for the price increase which in reality was 10 times as great.

"As a long term proposition, labor and management must agree that expanding productivity is a national necessity. It is in the long-term interest of all to pay labor progressively higher wage in relation to prices; to do this by progressively increasing productivity per man-hour; and to reduce hours of labor and increase real income while increasing the volume of production and distribution.

"To translate this policy into reality, genuine union-management co-operation, should begin, not in the congressional hearing room in Washington, or at the company headquarters, but right at the local plant level, where collective bargaining is initiated."

It is common knowledge that subversive elements infest our country with a program of a revolutionary nature which contemplates overthrow of our present form of Government. The greatest contribution to THAT cause is price raising to a point where the vast majority of the people can no longer purchase the commodities necessary to maintain a living level commensurate with the American way of life. Certainly common sense tells us that something is radically wrong when the working class, regardless of the wage increases they have received during the past few years, find their earnings insufficient to maintain pre-war living standards.

Perhaps that is one reason workers are prone to listen to "false prophets" and be deluded by promises of greater rewards under a "new order."

The workers' war time savings are shrinking as a result of being drawn upon to meet current expenses. This indicates that his earnings are not sufficient to maintain present living costs. A serious matter, the gravity of which ought not be lost upon the recipients of extra large dividends. Let's not overlook staid old Britain that went socialistic, leaving our country about the last of the capitalistic nations. Most of us want to see it remain capitalistic with all the faults of that system, but it could happen here and those who control the destiny of our people better give heed to the handwriting and correct many of those faults else we too will awake some fine morning facing a new ideology which advocates destruction of our long cherished freedom.

CORRECTION

The name of Apprentice Billy Jake Rabon of Local 98 was incorrectly published as Billy Jake Babon in the September 1948 issue of The Lather.

There is an old saying that every Frenchman is always agin' the government—no matter what the government is.

He loves his country deeply, for it is one of the most beautiful lands in the world, and one of the richest. Now, however, two World Wars have brought it to poverty and hunger.

Yet, in good times and in bad, the Frenchman is always angry at his government. He is fiercely determined to keep his personal liberty. In good times, he thinks the government is pushing him around. In bad times, he blames it for all his troubles.

The worst problem the government faces is the terrible inflation. Prices are ten times as high as they were in 1938. Wages have gone up, too, but not nearly as much.

As a result, the French workman—who always had a very hard life—is now unable to feed himself and his family.

Naturally, he wants more pay. However, if his pay is increased, prices will go up.

The farmers create another problem. They refuse to sell their food at the prices fixed by the government, because they get much higher prices in the black market. As a result, well-to-do people can get plenty of food in the black market, while the city workers cannot get enough to eat.

These problems would be bad enough in any country. They are far worse in France, because no Frenchman wants to do what the government tells him, no matter how sensible it may be for the good of the whole nation.

The picture for France looks black indeed to day. However, in the past it has been just as black, yet the nation has always come back strongly.

France's farmland is immensely rich. One out of every ten Frenchmen work on the land. At the moment, the farmland is run down because of lack of fertilizer during the war and because of the lack of modern farm machinery.

Experts believe that in a few years all this land can be restored, and France will once more be able to supply almost all the food her people needs.

The dairies of Normandy and Brittany, the vineyards of Burgundy and the south, the wheat lands of the central areas are already making progress.

France has many riches besides her farms.

In the north and east are coal and iron mines. Around them, a great steel industry has grown up. At Lille and the cities around it are huge textile factories. Lyons is the center of the silk industry. The pottery of Limoges is known all over the world. France's wines and champagnes are admittedly the finest.

Manufacturing is highly developed, especially in the area of Paris. Here is the center of the luxury manufacturing for which the nation is famed. Jewels, women's clothes, high-priced automobiles and a host of other luxuries are all produced in the "City of Light."

To most people who have seen it, Paris is the most beautiful city in the world. This great capital city of nearly three million people is the very heart of France.

It is the center of government for France and its vast colonial empire. From Paris, all the nation's railroads branch out in a gigantic spider web. All banking and business are centered here.

For the whole world, it has long been a center of art, literature, music, science and education.

The beauty of its ancient buildings and its wide tree-lined boulevards is breath-taking. Before World War II, tourists from all over the world—including thousands on thousands of Americans—flocked to Paris. In fact, the tourists trade was one of France's most profitable businesses.

Paris was just a muddy little settlement on an island in the Seine River when the Romans conquered it before the Christian era. In those days it was called Lutetia.

From these small beginnings it grew rapidly. The old Kings of France once rulers of a mere small area around Paris, built up their mighty monarchy always with Paris as the center.

In the days of Louis XIV, who was on the throne from 1643 to 1715, France was the strongest nation in the world.

Fifteen years ago, one gold dollar bought 10 bushels of corn. Now it takes 25 gold dollars to do the same thing.

The value of the corn has not changed. Value never changes, but price goes up and down. The corn would make just as many johnnycakes and sustain as much life then as now. The real fly in the ointment is fictional money. The fiction is that value can be measured by the use of gold.

Why not ask our congressmen who are worried over inflation and deflation this one: "How would it do to stabilize our gold dollar by making it redeemable at the United States granary in a specified amount of corn, wheat or rice, or something of real value which we all can understand and use as a measure of value against other commodities?"

THE PUBLIC DREW A BLANK

The 80th Congress of the United States of America adjourned after going through its customary jam session, a sideshow which might be funny if the people's interests were not slapped down so unmercifully by the clowns. It's called a jam session because, at this period, both the House and Senate jam through such pending legislation as the leaders have agreed upon—and literally jam the rest of it into the legislative waste basket.

From the labor viewpoint, this session of the Congress has been practically a "blank" in the matter of labor legislation and measures urgently supported by organized labor. For a long time, the labor legislation experts sensed that very little of a constructive nature could be expected. They didn't see any likelihood of repeal or even favorable revision of the Taft-Hartley Act; they gave little chance to adequate extension of social security; no enlarged public health program; no labor education extension service; no adequate housing bill; no raise in the 40c an hour minimum wage rates, no anti-poll tax; no anti-lynching bill; no F-E-P-C; no further aid to States to improve schools and educational programs, including adult education to wipe out illiteracy; and "NO" on a long list of other measures in which labor has been concerned.

This situation has been discussed at several recent labor conventions and at meetings of the governing bodies of various separate political agencies, set up to represent the political views of organized labor. Largely because it appeared the powers that be thought they had labor securely chained with the Taft-Hartley Act, labor, it seemed fairly agreed, was temporarily in the legislative "dog house."

Notwithstanding all that, very little in the way of bombast and viewing with alarm is noted. There is an absence of shouting and threats of retaliation. But there is evident a calm determination to "carry on," to adhere to the high ideals of the labor movement and to continue to strive ceaselessly for major objectives.

REPUBLICAN JUDGMENT

It will take time and reflection to evaluate the record of the 80th Congress. Ofihand, neither the legislative shenanigans of 1947-48 nor the unseemly haste to adjourn in the midst of important unfinished business recommended it for popular approval. Meanwhile we rest content with the editorial judgment of the New York Herald-Tribune which, being a member of the Republican Party family, knows whereof it speaks.

Deploing "the monumental wreckage accumulating on Capitol Hill" and urging Congress to return after the Republican Convention "with the determination to complete the program which events and the electorate insist upon," the newspaper has this to say:

"For a Congress under Republican leadership to adjourn with such a record in a Presidential year would be political suicide. For an American Congress to admit so colossal a failure at a time when the whole world is watching this country, critically, hopefully, would be the grossest dereliction of duty. To have a far-reaching legislative program, on which the stability of the world, the very life of the nation, depends in such large measure, cobbled, patched and shredded away after the fashion which has prevailed in Washington during the last few days, is unthinkable."

The spectacle of the conservative New York Herald-Tribune reading the riot act to its party representatives in Congress is worthy to be remembered.

How is a government official punished when he is impeached?

The only penalty in case of conviction in a Federal impeachment proceeding is removal from office and disqualification from further public service. But the person is still liable to punishment by the ordinary courts—and he cannot receive a reprieve or pardon from the President.

The magic in 4 feet 8½ inches lies in this: that's the exact distance between the rails of virtually all railroad tracks on the North American Continent.

And that means the cars of any railroad can ride the rails of every other—a fact which is the very foundation of American mass production and continent-wide distribution.

This great advantage didn't just happen. Originally, tracks were built to more than a dozen different gauges, ranging from 2 feet to 6 feet. The change to one standard width did not come about by the requirement of legislation, but was the result of voluntary cooperation of the railroads.

Today any railroad car can be coupled up with any other car or locomotive, can go anywhere on standard-gauge track, can be repaired with standard and interchangeable parts at any railroad shop in America.

Thus shippers and travelers have the benefit of through service; farmers have national markets for their crops; manufacturers can get raw materials from the four corners of the nation; consumers everywhere have the choice of goods from every part of the country.

These advantages are the result of cooperation among the railroads which, while competing for business, also work together through such organizations as the Association of American Railroads, their mutual agency for the improvement of all railroading.

One hundred Massachusetts cities have applied for aid under the state's new $200 million housing program for municipal construction of 20,000 low-rent dwellings for veterans.

Municipalities may issue bonds to cover costs of land, assembly and construction and will hire private builders to do the job. In addition to guaranteeing the local housing bonds sold by $200 million, the state will pay part of the construction costs.

Local housing authorities in Massachusetts have doubled as a direct result of the program because a local authority is necessary for state aid.

The Massachusetts housing board already is managing one housing project which has a potential of 10,000 units. Boston alone is building 1,700 dwellings under this program.

On February 9, 1848, a piece or nugget of gold was picked up in a mill race on a branch of the Sacramento River by a little girl named Marshall, daughter of the overseer of the mill, which was owned by John A. Sutter. Some of the men at work repairing the mill race recognized the lump of gold. That was the real gold discovery in California, although it is said that gold was noticed there by persons with Drake in his expedition of 1577.

All labor leaders are crooked! All bankers are respectable! If you don't believe it, just read Westbrook Pegler's anti-labor, anti-Roosevelt, and anti anything - progressive - or - liberal column, Fair Enough."

On August 18, here's what Peg had to say:

"The union movement has completely dishonored itself. It doesn't even produce respectable personalities in the commanding jobs. The proportion of underworld criminals and the number of helpless citizens whom they bossed and the amounts which they stole have been a historic shame.

"Unionism will stagger along, but it will fall down and die because it is fundamentally bad and hostile to freedom and decency."

Having a youthful and impressionable mind, we considered tearing up our working card and taking a job in a bank so that we could regain our respectability when we ran across Fred Othman's column of August 24 in which he reviewed Lester Pratt's book "Bank Frauds." Othman's column read:

"The trouble is there have been too many slick-fingered babies in the banking business. . . . In the 15 years ending 1945, American bonding companies have had to put up $68,500,000 to cover their pilfering. Since many of the bonds weren't big enough, the best guess is that thieving bank officials nicked their own firms in the same 15 years for $137,000,000."

It certainly PAYS to be respectable. P. S.—We're still thinking of taking a job at the bank.

THE HATE BILL

The meanest and ugliest act of the reactionary 80th Congress was the passage of the notorious Revercomb-Wiley Bill. It is supposed to allow the entrance into this country of certain displaced persons. This bill has been condemned bitterly by all those interested in solving the displaced persons problem which is costing the United States so much money and is also a source of danger to this country's standing abroad. While the bill pretends to meet this problem it really is based on religious and racial discrimination. Its complicated terms discriminate against Catholics and Jews who are numbered in the displaced groups.

The unanimous condemnation this measure has received in the American press, in news stories, editorials and bitter cartoons, reflects the traditional American attitude toward those in distress . . . a startling contrast to the terms of this regrettable measure.

Senator Revercomb is a Republican from West Virginia.

Senator Wiley is a Republican from Wisconsin.

MOTOR FUEL BLENDED FROM WATER SOUGHT

"Don't look now at the filling station for a motor fuel made from air and water," advises the Denver Post, "but the Navy is working on the stuff."

The new fuel is called hydrozine. Rear Admiral Thorvald A. Solberg, chief of the Naval Research Office, has said it is a simple compound of hydrogen and nitrogen, the Post reports.

"Two-thirds of all the air is nitrogen—by volume, that is," the newspaper explains. "Air and water are 'free,' yet we can't get something for nothing. The trick lies in combining the hydrogen and nitrogen. How that's done is a military secret, but this much is not secret—it takes energy to do it."

The Post raises the question of whether atomic energy will do the trick.

Hydrogen is one of the hottest fuels known, says the Post, and also the world's lightest gas.

If we tried to use it as automobile fuel, the gas tank would be bigger than the car."

But, combined with nitrogen to form hydrozine, it shrinks.

The Germans were trying to make such a fuel, but failed before losing the war. The Navy has the German formulas and is tossing in some of its own, according to the Post.

WIT and HUMOR

PERFECT RESEMBLANCE

Adam and Eve were naming the animals of the earth when along came a rhinoceros.

"What shall we call this one?" asked Adam.

"Let's call it a rhinoceros."

"But why a rhinoceros?"

"Well, because it looks more like a rhinoceros than anything we've named yet."

"I'm getting stronger."

"How do you know?"

"Because a few years ago I couldn't carry three dollars worth of groceries and now it is easy."

"How much for that hat?"

"Twenty-five dollars."

"Where are the holes?"

"What holes?"

"Why, the holes for the ears of the donkey that would pay twenty-five dollars for that hat."

This year even the Winter spent the winter in Florida. So cold, they served orange juice on a stick.

Mrs. Braggs: "My husband can't bear opera. The opening bars alone are enough to send him home."

Mrs. Waggs: "You're lucky; it's the closing bars that send my husband home."

Police Judge—I understand the two men were fighting with chairs; didn't you try to make peace between them?"

Witness—"There wasn't another chair in the room."

Be Quiet

"Mummy, is the devil a man?"

"No, my dear; he's worse than a man."

"But, mummy, you don't mean he's a woman, do you?"

Lonely Place, Heaven

Willie: "Mama, do people that lie ever go to heaven?"

Mother: "Why, of course not, Willie."

Willie: "Gee! I bet it's lonesome up in heaven with only God and George Washington."

A man on trial for his life was being examined by a group of alienists. Suddenly one doctor jumped up and shouted at him: "Quick, how many feet has a centipede?"

The man came back in a dry voice: "Gad, is that all you have to worry about!"

"There's something in this world bigger than money."

"Yeah, and I know what it is, too."

"What is it?"

"Bills payable."

A farmer paying his first visit to the seashore, asked a boatman if he could buy some of the water to take home to show his wife.

The boatman assented and charged the farmer a quarter. A few hours later the visitor returned to the shore. By now the tide had gone out, and the man gazed open mouthed at the spectacle.

"By cracky, mister," he said, "You've done a good business today."

JACK LONDON'S PORTRAIT OF SCAB IS STILL TIMELY

Published Again by Request

Jack London, the famous author of such American classics as The Iron Heel, Martin Eden, The Call of the Wild and other works didn't have a very high opinion of scabs. Having sweated at scores of jobs before he became a successful writer, London studied the flora and fauna of scabdom at close range.

Written many years ago, Jack London's description is just as appropriate today as it was when he first penned it. Those who are playing the bosses' game at the Harvard Club will find London's words most significant. Here goes:

"After God had finished the rattlesnake, the toad, the vampire, he had some awful substance left over with which he made a scab. A scab is a two legged animal with a corkscrew soul, a water-logged brain and a combination backbone of jelly and glue. Where the others have hearts, he carries a tumor of rotten principles.

When a scab comes down the street, men turn their backs and angels weep in heaven, and the devil shuts the gate of hell to keep him out.

"No man has a right to scab so long as there is a pool of water to drown his carcass in, or a rope long enough to hang his body with. Judas Iscariot was a gentleman compared with a scab. For betraying his Master, he had character enough to hang himself. A scab has not.

"A strikebreaker is a traitor to his God, his country, his wife, his family and his class. A REAL MAN NEVER BECOMES A STRIKEBREAKER!"

RUBBER SUPPLY

Sometimes Americans have to go abroad to get important information which is not told to them at home. A good example is an article in the London (England) "Daily Mail."

In 1947, that newspaper says, Britain's Far East colony, Malaya, exported 954,000 tons of rubber, half of which, or 477,000 tons, went to the United States.

That means more than half the rubber consumed in the United States in 1947 came from Malaya.

And it also means immense profits to the Dutch and British capitalists who own rubber plantations in that part of the world.

During the latter part of the war, practically all the rubber used in the United States was "synthetic," made in factories Uncle Sam built at a cost of nearly a billion dollars, after "natural" rubber from the Far East was cut off by the Japs.

Ever since the war ended, powerful forces have been at work in Washington trying to induce our government to "junk" these synthetic plants and restore the "rubber monopoly" to the British and Dutch capitalists. Certain gentlemen in our State Department have been slyly backing the scheme.

Congress passed a bill giving the President power to require use of at least some synthetic rubber in the United States.

Unless the President uses that power soon and vigorously, our war-built plants will rust away.

MENACE TO ALL

Setting forth labor's objective of security repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, the New York State Federation of Labor emphasizes that the law "was aimed at organized labor, but that it also hit every American." This is a fact which must be brought home to all voters.

Says the federation: "The law denies labor the constitutional right of free speech. It bans the closed shop after this year. It restricts the right to strike and by the same sign compels workers to work against their will. This adds up eventually to forced labor, a favorite device of the dictators."

The federation goes on to declare that labor must elect legislators to Washington who will vote for the law's repeal. "But we have more to do," it says. "Every legislator who voted for this infamous law must be made an example of before the whole country. He must not only be defeated for re-election; he must be beaten so decisively that men with future ambitions to establish tyranny in America will never even dare to voice the idea. That is essential not alone for organized labor's future security, but for the more important protection of our free institutions."

We need a Moses to lead us out of the wilderness of confusion and uncertainty. Political aspirants must appreciate the sincerity of our demands. The government must again pass into the hands of duly elected men who will look to the welfare of the people who have chosen them. A recapture of the rights of the people, a return of our government to us, must be orderly and thru the ballot box. This must come to pass. Otherwise, our free enterprise system will die and with it all hope for future growth, development and prosperity.

What was the first strike in America?

The first on record occurred in Philadelphia in 1786, when a group of journeymen printers walked out on their jobs to enforce a minimum wage scale of six dollars a week.

What is a "free port"?

A free port is a harbor where the ships of all nations may enter and load and unload goods for transshipment, on paying a moderate and uniform toll—and without paying import or export duty. There are several free ports in the world—at Staten Island in New York Harbor, New Orleans, Hong Kong, and Singapore.

How many Presidents' fathers lived to see their sons take office?

Three. John Adams, father of John Quincy Adams; Dr. George Harding, father of Warren G. Harding, and "Colonel" John Coolidge, father of Calvin Coolidge.

Lots of money will be spent in this 1948 political campaign, how much will never be known, but it will be a big amount. The cost of waging a political campaign has gone up like everything else. If the money spent arouses great interest and brings out a big vote in November, the money spent did some good.

THE PRESS IS BETRAYING THE PEOPLE'S INTERESTS

Newspapers in the recent campaign were nearly all lined up against labor and labor's candidates. But this has been the case in nearly every Congressional election during the past two decades. Fully 85 per cent of the press was against Roosevelt in 1944, it has been estimated, but still he emerged the victor from that year's election.

This might be construed as indicating that the influence of the press upon the people's thinking is on the wane. But it must be considered that Roosevelt was an exceptionally strong candidate, and a large number of people undoubtedly are still allowing themselves to be influenced in the choice of a candidate by newspaper propaganda. We say "propaganda" because newspapers have long ceased to function as impartial purveyors of news. They know how to masquerade, and much of what they palm off to us is the rankest of propaganda: Leading articles are largely anti-labor slanted.

Though dependent upon the people for circulation, most newspapers are betraying the people's interests. In practically all issues that came up in the Republican-controlled and NAM-inspired 80th Congress, the preponderant majority of daily papers sided with corporate interests as against labor and the people. This finds its explanation in the fact that most independently owned papers have disappeared. Most daily papers today are but links of one or other of the several monopolistic newspaper chains, and their hearts are beating in unison with that of Big Business. Newspaper monopolies constitute one of the gravest dangers to the future of free American institutions because of the control they exercise over people's thinking.

A TIMELY THOUGHT ON CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

At the Teamsters Union Banquet which opened the Roosevelt campaign in 1944, Franklin Delano Roosevelt had the following to say:

"Even those candidates who burst out in election-year affection for social legislation and for labor in general still think you ought to be good boys and stay out of politics. Of course, it is all right for large financiers and industrialists and monopolists to contribute tens of thousands of dollars—but their solicitude for that dollar which the men and women in the ranks of labor contribute is always very touching."

By the way, have you sent in your dollar to Labor's League for Political Education, 1525 H St. N. W., Washington 25, D. C.?

EAST MEETS WEST

Shanghai, China, is the city where East meets West and a queer combination of ancient Oriental customs and the latest modern fads are part of the everyday life of the city. One of the latest is the installation of radio sets in the jinrikishas, which are the principal means of transportation of the city. The two-wheeled, man-drawn vehicles have been used for hundreds of years by the wealthier classes of Chinese. The narrow, wall-lined streets of the native quarter make any other form of transportation impossible. In China, with its more than 400,000,000 population, manpower is the cheapest in the world.

The greatest national disaster in United States history occurred on September 8th, 1900, in Galveston, Texas—a tidal wave swept the town and more than 6,000 lives were lost.

HARRY C. BATES, PRESIDENT, BRICKLAYERS, MASONS AND PLASTERERS INTERNATIONAL UNION OF AMERICA, SAYS

"The Union Label is the emblem that distinguishes union-made products from all others on the market. The Union Shop Card and Union Service Button likewise designate union services. The Union Card of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International Union of America may well be used to guarantee that the services performed on any building construction are done by experienced and efficient members of our International Union. When any trade unionist or member of his family purchases merchandise or requires services he should demand that they are union. Whenever we patronize firms that do not offer Union Label goods or use Union services we reduce the standards of our own A. F. of L. members.

"Through our local unions and local building trades councils our International has participated in several Union Label exhibitions. We have derived great benefits from these shows because it gives us an opportunity to educate the public regarding the skill required by bricklayers, masons, plasterers, marble setters, tile setters and terrazzo workers. It also proves, in the final analysis, that our skilled workers are the most economical.

"Personally I witnessed the Union Industries Show held in Milwaukee this year, and it gave me a thrill to see the marvelous results attained by union labor and union management because there I could actually visualize the making of Union Label goods and the performing of Union services. I shall encourage our officials and members in every locality to take an active interest in these union exhibitions wherever they are held."

TRADE UNION TEAMWORK WITH MANAGEMENT OF INDUSTRY

*I. M. ORNBURN, Secretary-Treasurer
Union Label Trades Department
American Federation of Labor*

President Harry C. Bates is right. Union folks have just got to demand everything that's UNION!

The Union Label Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor has embarked on a most beneficial mission for American security. It is to establish stabilized industries with steady jobs—at union wages—for our skilled workers. It will mean increased production of hi-quality, union-made products together with the super-efficiency of Union services. The over-all policy will create good relations with employers and also good will with the public. It will lead to greater industrial peace in America.

In our Union Industries Show, union workers have triumphantly met the challenge that labor does not cooperate with management. Our unique exhibition of Union Label goods and Union services is the best evidence that members of unions and employers do work together in real teamwork for the general welfare of all citizens.

Report of Delegates To The Forty-Fifth Annual Convention Of The Building & Construction Trades Dep't. Of The American Federation of Labor

The Forty-First Annual Convention of the Building and Construction Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor was called to order in the Pavilion Caprice of the Netherland Plaza Hotel at 10 o'clock a. m., Mr. Joseph Obermeyer, President of the Building and Construction Trades Council, Cincinnati, Ohio, presiding as Temporary Chairman.

After an address of welcome, Chairman Obermeyer introduced Right Reverend Monsignor Edward A. Freking, who together with the delegates recited the Lord's Prayer. He then addressed the convention. Excerpts from the address follow:

"Labor has many problems and labor today in the United States is flushed with the feeling of victory as a result of the past election. And I think labor can take a large measure of the credit for electing one whom they deem to be a friend of labor. However, it was not labor's victory alone. Therefore we should not make a mistake in taking all the credit.

"I believe that one of the most important problems that labor in America has to face is the problem of training leadership which will assume the responsibilities that are placed now on the shoulders of labor. I look over this group of men and I see very few young men. What are you doing to prepare for the labor leaders of tomorrow? What are you doing to train Christian leaders who will study labor legislation and who will fight the battles of labor in the courts and in the assemblies of various states and in Congress? I mean labor leaders who know the law and who will be loyal to the cause of labor and never sell labor out, as I have seen it happen so often by some members of the legal profession who are rather exploiting and bleeding labor for fees than to achieve labor's victories.

"Why can't you find young men who are the sons of laboring men who are gifted and send them through law school and let them specialize in labor legislation, so that when you want a lawyer to represent you, you don't have to go to someone who doesn't know the law or who doesn't know labor legislation? One in whom you have confidence and trust and can be assured that he is not going to compromise your cause.

"Secondly, labor needs men who are good economists, who can sit down with an employer and discuss the problems of the working man on the basis of sound economy, on the basis of sound Christian principles, so you can analyze what the profits of industry are and you can determine how much of a wage you are entitled to; whether you are asking too much that might kill your industry; whether you are asking for a wage that might be too high, that might stifle the very thing that you are trying to develop. Therefore, you need economists.

"What are you doing to train them? I have been searching this country and I find that outside economists come in and are employed by you. But why can't you train young men in your industry and the sons of men in your industry to be economists and to know the Christian principles on which the rights of labor and the duties of labor are based?

"Think it over, gentlemen, and God bless your proceedings."

The Chairman next introduced the Honorable Albert D. Cash, Mayor of Cincinnati and after an address of welcome by the Mayor he introduced Joseph N. Field, President, Allied Construction Industries of Cincinnati, who discussed the favorable and satisfactory relationship existing in the industry among employers and unions.

Chairman Obermeyer then turned the gavel over to Richard J. Gray, President, B. & C. T. Dep't A. F. of L., who addressed the convention as follows:

"President Obermeyer, Honorable Mayor, Right Reverend Monsignor and Mr. Field, and delegates: I know we all appreciate this morning the remarks of the speakers, because they are subjects on which we are all deeply interested. We have fought for housing perhaps as strongly, if not stronger, than any other segment of our society. Unfortunately, however, the interests of the real estate people seem to be given more consideration than our appeals.

"There has been an improvement in the minds of some under the FHA long-term mortgage loans, which are guaranteed by the Government. The man who purchases a home does not have to worry about renewing his mortgage every three or five years. But on the other hand the long-term mortgage perhaps furnishes what is equivalent to a low rent, and as long as Federal public housing for low income people on a rental basis is denied them it increases the market of the real estate speculator. And I am fearful that long before the 20 or 25 years are up for which these mortgage terms run, many of the owners who have bought inferior-built houses on a high-priced market will figure that they have had cheap rent and that they can move out and turn it back to public hands again and we will have a flooded market of a low type home which will undoubtedly create more slums than we have ever gotten within the last half century.

"We will now proceed to organize the convention."

The various committees were then appointed by the Chairman.

In later sessions the convention was addressed by Major General Philip B. Fleming, Administrator, Federal Works Agency, who discussed at great length the various phases of public construction today than before the war; Advance of public construction today than before the war; Advance of Planning, as the key to the use of Public Works in a depression; that is the preparation of plans, site, etc., during normal times so building can start immediately without the year or longer period necessary for the preparation of the site, plans, engineering, etc., when depression threatens. Money for this advance planning is available from the government, and to date enough advance planning has been done to start almost immediately, two billion dollars worth of construction.

Major General Fleming detailed the many ways in which the various units of the Federal Works Agency were in cooperation with State and local governments and also discussed the "Relocation of Industry and National Defense" referring to the need for industrial dispersion as a means of national defense due to atomic weapons and the problems such dispersion will create for both industry and labor.

The Chairman next introduced Mr. Ewan Clague, Commissioner of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, who gave a very interesting and enlightening talk on the construction industry, the high costs of homes, the future outlook of the industry and improvements that could contribute to more moderate costs and stabilization. With proper adjustments he predicted prosperous times for the building industry for years.

Each of the major addresses given covered several pages of small print and can only be briefly referred to in this report.

Chairman Gray next introduced Mr. William F. Patterson, Director, Bureau of Apprenticeship, U. S. Department of Labor. Excerpts from his address follow:

"It is hardly in order for me to say to members of building trades unions that there is a great demand today throughout the country for skilled workers in the construction industry. That would be like telling an automobile manufacturer that there are not enough new cars on the market to meet the demand.

"Too many people trying to analyze the skilled labor situation in your industry do not appreciate that for a long period of years there were two main reasons why apprenticeship lagged in developing replacements for the skilled labor force adequate for current and future demands. Neither unions nor employers were responsible for them. Little apprentice training was done during the depression and then during the war practically all apprentices and young men of apprenticeable age joined the armed forces. That means that between 1930 and 1945, when the war ended, not enough new young blood was brought into the skilled trades.

"On V-J Day there were 16,000 apprentices and 953 area-wide joint management-labor apprenticeship committees in the construction industry throughout the country. On the first of October of this year there were more than 131,000 apprentices and 3,155 such joint committees listed with the Bureau of Apprenticeship.

"One of the most important recent developments was the recommendation by the General Committee on Apprenticeship for the Construction Industry that building trades apprentices be indentured to local joint committees instead of to employers. This procedure enables joint committees to transfer apprentices from one contractor to another, if necessary, to guarantee maximum employment and training. Most of you know that the General Committee is the national labor-management policy body for the building trades. It works in close cooperation with the Bureau of Apprenticeship, particularly with Mr. Maurice M. Hanson, our agency's national consultant for apprenticeship in the construction industry.

"The construction industry indirectly creates jobs for millions of other workers who manufacture, mine, transport and sell building materials or the finished products like plumbing, electrical and heating equipment. For every home built there must be furniture, rugs, beds, dishes, and usually radios and telephones. That means countless more jobs. And the most essential group of workers in the construction industry who help make these jobs possible are the apprentice-trained craftsmen.

"We must have maximum production in the construction industry for these reasons.

"1. We must have good dwellings and other buildings—and enough of them—for the health, safety and general welfare of our people. Good living and working conditions are a bulwark to our national economy; and a strong economy is the best safeguard against subversive elements seeking to destroy the American way of life.

"2. We must have enough well constructed factories and shops so that we can produce the consumer goods and defense materials our country needs.

Quality of Apprenticeship Should Be Raised

"Because of the vital importance of skilled building mechanics to production in our national economy, we must constantly strive to raise the quality of apprenticeship, the system through which these mechanics are developed.

"Apprentice training can be improved in the construction industry if it periodically revises apprenticeship standards, selects applicants for apprenticeship more carefully, sees to it that proper training is given in all of the skills of a trade, assists vocational education authorities to provide related technical instruction, and determines more efficiently how much credit should be allowed for previous experience.

"The need for revising apprenticeship standards from time to time hardly requires explanation. As industry expands, new demands are made upon its craftsmen. That means that apprenticeship standards must be kept up to date. However, I will say that the National Apprenticeship Standards for the building trades which we now have can stand greater refinement of the work processes. As these standards are patterns for the setting up of local programs, more specific information on the work processes and the time to be devoted to each will make for better apprenticeship."

At later sessions, the convention was addressed by Mr. James D. Marshall of Associated General Contractors of America; Mr. John P. Frey, President, Metal Trades Department of A. F. of L.; Mr. George Meany, Secretary-Treasurer of A. F. of L., and William Green, A. F. of L. President.

The last three mentioned discussed results of the recent election and stated they were definitely in favor of REPEAL OF THE TAFT-HARTLEY ACT and would not favor amendments to the act.

President Gray designated the Thursday afternoon session as a special occasion for an unusual purpose. He had gathered together several of the most prominent labor attorneys in the nation to address the delegates and advise them of the steps to be taken in the future in legislative matters on the local and national level, especially where a case is to be carried to the highest court in the land. President Gray introduced the following attorneys: Attorney Ward, representative of the Carpenters' International Union; Attorney Sherman, representing the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; Mr. William E. Leahy who is acting on behalf of the Building and Construction Trades Department; Mr. Cliff Langsdale, who has represented the Boilermakers and a number of other organizations; and Mr. J. Albert Woll, attorney for the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Woll was the first of the Attorneys to address the convention. Excerpts from his remarks follow:

"It is not so unfortunate if a lower court should hold against you, but it is extremely unfortunate if the last court in the United States should hold against you, because you can find different judges in different districts disagreeing with each other. You can get different judges in different circuits throughout the United States differing with each other.

"The cases that are brought as test cases should, in my opinion, be brought after careful analysis not only of the law, but of the factual situation, because it is well known that bad fact cases make bad law. So even though we may have the law on our side we should try to pick those cases where we have the facts on our side also.

"I think also that there should be a close coordination of some kind between attorneys who may handle the legal picture on the national scale and those who may handle it on the local scale. Too often a record goes up before the Supreme Court that is not a good record. I am not attempting to be critical of any lawyers in the local scheme. I do not mean that, but sometimes, because of the rush of time they do not have the assistance necessary to get a very perfect record. Once you go into the lower court your record is made and you are stuck with it through all the higher courts. You cannot change that record, you cannot deviate from it when you go to the higher courts, no matter how desirable it may be. You rise or fall on what you do in your county courts, your Superior Courts, your Circuit Courts, or whatever the lower court may be that you have in your local courts, and your District Courts in the United States."

Each of the other Attorneys gave lengthy addresses, all of them touching on the same theme—cooperation of local union and international union attorneys on all cases where appeal to the highest court is contemplated.

Mr. Cliff Langsdale, Attorney for the Boilermakers International Union, had a number of views that did not agree entirely with the views of the other attorneys. Excerpts of his talk are worthy of repetition, they follow:

"I don't think the building trades can live without a closed shop. Out in Kansas City we are not trying to. We have from the President of the United States the solemn promise that the Taft-Hartley Act will be taken off of the books. We have a plank to that effect in the Democratic platform upon which all of the Congressmen conducted their campaigns. We have it from the Secretary of Labor that the first order of business would be to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act, and it is my thought that that should be his first order of business, and it should be taken off of the books at the very earliest moment.

"No one who has had any experience in defending charges, complaints and injunction suits under this Act could have any other conclusion than that that Act was put on the books to destroy labor unions.

"Labor unions cannot organize under the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act. They cannot maintain their organizations after they have organized under some provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, and it is true, as all of you people who have been negotiating with employers know, that it has been more difficult to get reasonable consideration from the employers than it was before the Act went on the books.

"So my thought is that we shouldn't be cautious in taking that Act off the books. It ought to come off now. That is only my opinion. Of course, that is legal; it is not political. What is the right thing to do politically, of course, should be left up to those who understand politics. But it does seem to me that now, right at the threshold of the new Congress where we have all of these promises to take this iniquitous act off of the books we ought to insist that it be done at the first jump of Congress.

"There is a good deal of difference of opinion here among some people as to whether repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act would also repeal the whole Wagner Act. I think it can be repealed without doing that. I think that a bill can be drawn and so worded that will just take the amendments out of the present Labor Relations Act and, of course, Title 3 ought to be repealed in its entirety.

"When it comes to how to be cautious in the conduct of labor organizations, it has already been mentioned by both Mr. Woll and Mr. Leahy, that in local communities where suits are filed or charges or complaints are brought, that fact and all the facts that surround it should be communicated to the International—not that we want the International to come in and be a party to that suit or in any way be affected thereby, but the International ought to know when some precedent is to be established that may wreck our whole setup. Caution in the beginning should be in the selection of an attorney. I can recall, and I lived through those days, when the business representative of a union did not want a lawyer, he just wanted someone to get him out of jail or keep him out of criminal cases. That was the only law that was practiced in those days. If we were not good at that we did not hold our clients very long.

"But that picture has completely changed. Today labor unions are forced to meet with able attorneys representing employers in the matter of labor relations, and they must meet them with able attorneys. The practice of labor relations law has become a very exacting specialty. Every day and every week decisions are being handed down by these administrative agencies and by the United States District Courts, all the way from the District Courts to the Supreme Court, and by the courts of the various states, all of which have a bearing upon the case that any one lawyer may have in court."

RESOLUTIONS

Six resolutions were introduced:

1. A resolution presented by the Department calling for changes in the Plan for the Settlement of Jurisdictional Disputes.

2. A resolution to increase the monthly payments under the Social Security Act was introduced by officers of the Bricklayers International Union.

3. A resolution calling for a monthly survey of new dwelling units started and completed in metropolitan areas in the U. S. and periodic estimates of the number of workers in each occupation required to carry out the programs, also semi-annual reports on sales prices and costs, was introduced by President Richard J. Gray.

4. A resolution to increase the salary of Secretary-Treasurer Herbert Rivers from $12,000 to $15,000 per year and an increase in the salary of President Richard Gray from $18,000 to $20,000 was introduced by delegates of the Hod Carriers & Building Laborers International Union.

5. A resolution calling for an expansion in the preparation of reserve plans for useful public works was introduced by the Presidents of the Hod Carriers & Building Laborers and the Bricklayers & Marble Setters International Unions.

6. A resolution favoring elimination of pollution of the waterways of America by the Federal Government was introduced by the Presidents of the Hod Carriers & Building Laborers, the Bricklayers, and the Marble Setters International Unions.

All resolutions were unanimously adopted.

The numerous committees made their reports to the convention, the two most important being the committees on the President's report and the committee on the Executive Council's Report. These reports are quite lengthy, covering 34 pages of small print. The Executive Council's report deals with 28 cases of all kinds which the Council had disposed of. The President's report detailed at great length the Economic Situation of the Industry, The Taft-Hartley Act, State Anti-Labor Legislation, Plan for Settling Jurisdictional Disputes, Housing, The Department of Labor, Apprenticeship Program, National Agreements, and Publications (this concerns a monthly Bulletin put out by the Department to keep local Building Trades Councils up to date on matters affecting the industry.)

The above and other matters incorporated in the President's report are of paramount interest and many of them have been reported or will be reported in the LATHER.

The Secretary-Treasurer reported that 19 new charters had been issued for local Building and Construction Trades Councils and 2 charters for State Councils in the past year. Five charters were also reinstated to former councils.

The Department now has 551 local Councils and 16 State Councils. There are 19 International Unions affiliated with the Department.

All the present incumbent vice-Presidents were unanimously re-elected as follows:

L. P. LINDELOF, First Vice President
WM. J. MCSORLEY, Second Vice President
DANIEL J. TOBIN, Third Vice President
WM. L. HUTCHESON, Fourth Vice President
ROBERT BYRON, Fifth Vice President
WM. E. MALONEY, Sixth Vice President
DANIEL W. TRACY, Seventh Vice President
MARTIN P. DURKIN, Eighth Vice President

Respectfully submitted,

WM. J. MCSORLEY
HARRY J. HAGEN
WALTER MATTHEWS

1948 CONGRESSIONAL ELECTION RESULTS

L.L.P.E. Report to the 8,000,000 Loyal AF of L Trade Unionists Who Helped Achieve the Greatest Liberal Political Victory in History.

O'Daniel, Texas

OUR FRIENDS:

Of the 32 Senate seats up for re-election in 1948 only FOUR were held by pro-labor anti-Taft-Hartley Senators.

All of these four friends were re-elected:

Johnson, Colorado

Murray, Montana
Green, Rhode Island

Of the 28 other Senators, 27 voted FOR the Taft-Hartley Act and one was not in office.. Of the 27 anti-labor Senators, the 17 listed above will not return to plague labor in the 81st Congress, and . . .

12 NEW FRIENDS SUPPORTED BY LLPE WERE ELECTED:

Frear, Delaware
Douglas, Illinois

Gillette, Iowa
Long, Louisiana
Humphrey, Minnesota

Anderson, New Mexico
Broughton, North Carolina
Kerr, Oklahoma

Kefauver, Tennessee
Neely, West Virginia

THE NEW SENATE:

Yes . . . we increased our friends by 300% but here is a sober note:

In the 80th Congress we had only 27 friends out of the 96 Senators . . . not even the necessary one-third to sustain a veto.

In the 81st Congress we will have at least 38 friends . . . enough to sustain a veto but not enough to repeal the Act.

However, it is possible that some Senators who voted for the Taft-Hartley Act will accept this election as a mandate to change their vote. But the surest cure for anti-labor legislation is to send to Capitol Hill men who will be friends of the people in fair weather and foul.

LET'S GET SET FOR '50!

In 1950 32 more senate seats will be up for election. Of these, 15 are held by our FRIENDS and 17 by Senators who voted against the interests of the people. If we begin NOW we can again save our friends and defeat our enemies in 1950. The local Leagues which were so effective in every city and county in the country should be continued on a permanent basis.

OUR FRIENDS:

172 LLPE-Backed Candidates were elected.

Only three Representatives who voted AGAINST the Taft-Hartley Act were defeated, but all three were replaced by candidates who are expected to have as good or better voting records. It was a case of replacing friends with friends.

New York: Butler replaced by Gorski
Washington: Jones replaced by Mitchell
Wisconsin: Brophy replaced by Zablocki

THE NEW HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

The House passed the Taft-Hartley Act over the President's veto 331 to 83. We didn't even have enough friends in the 80th Congress to sustain a veto. In the 81st Congress we will have much more than the necessary one-third to sustain a veto, but it takes 218 for a majority to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act. 225 Representatives who voted FOR the Taft-Hartley Act are returning, so it will be necessary to influence some of them to shift their vote if repeal is to be possible. But, we can never be secure until we have elected a clear majority who will stand by labor's rights through every shift of political tide.

A BIGGER JOB IN 1950:

Every seat in the House is up for re-election every two years. The lack of interest during a Congressional election when the President is not up for election means we must work twice as hard to get out the vote in 1950. If we don't, we could well have a repeat of 1946 when 56,000,000 potential voters stayed away from the polls, and an overwhelming reactionary majority won the 80th Congress. Many districts were won or lost this year by very small margins. A falling off of only a few thousand votes in marginal districts in 1950 could well mean the defeat of many staunch friends.

Specify 2" Solid ROCKLATH* and Plaster Partitions

Investigate and tell your prospects about 2-inch Solid ROCKLATH and Plaster Partitions. They're ideal for apartment houses and commercial buildings because their use results in a substantial addition to usable, rentable space!

If the building is a large one, it's possible to gain enough floor area for an impressive smaller building. On a smaller scale, you can have enough additional room to accommodate an extra typewriter desk or filing cabinet in every 20 by 20-foot office!

With 2-inch Solid ROCKLATH and Plaster Partitions you gain three inches along the full length of every partition, as compared with the conventional five-inch plastered partition.

Ads such as this, directed to architects and builders, are now appearing in the leading architectural magazines. These ads, by promoting the 2-inch Solid ROCKLATH and Plaster Partition, help you sell your services.

There's business for the plastering industry in the 2-inch Solid ROCKLATH and Plaster Partition System. Ask the USG representative for complete information.

To All Members of AF of L Unions

The 1948 election was a tremendous victory for the liberal and labor forces of America. 17 Senators and 106 Representatives who supported the Taft-Hartley Act and opposed progressive legislation in the 80th Congress were retired from public office.

The 8 million AF of L Trade Unionists deserve a large share of the credit for this sweeping victory.

The cooperation of the International Unions, State Federations, Central Bodies and Women's Auxiliaries made Labor's League for Political Education one of the most potent forces in American political life.

With only a few short months in which to mobilize forces, the eight million members of the AF of L again proved their loyalty and undaunted courage in tackling what many called "an impossible situation" and bringing forth a miracle.

In 1950 we shall have an even greater task to maintain our gains and to further defeat reactionary forces. We must never again see a repetition of the 1946 election in which 56,000,000 American citizens of voting age stayed away from the polls and reactionary candidates took over Congress by default.

We must begin now to perfect and to improve our local and State Leagues for the election two years hence.

On behalf of Labor's League for Political Education we wish to extend our heartfelt gratitude to every AF of L member and every Auxiliary member for a job well done.

Fraternally yours,

Labor's League for Political Education

Where is the one spot in England where the King can never go?

The King cannot go into the House of Commons. This has been an unbroken rule since Charles I entered the House of Commons and arrested the members. Even today, when the King is opening Parliament, he takes his place in the House of Lords and sends his messenger to summon the House of Commons to him—but they, to show their independence, always slam the door in the messenger's face:

NEW UNION OFFICERS SHOULD TAKE ADVICE

Inexperienced young union officers may be classified into two general categories: those who are humble enough to admit that they have something to learn from veterans in the labor movement and those who conceitedly assume the responsibilities of an office with the erroneous belief that by a special gift of nature they inherited all the knowledge required for successfully running a union—and quite often they run it into the ditch.

The former face an excellent prospect for a successful career in the labor movement, for they are humble enough to accept advice—and even to ask for it—while the latter are doomed to failure for the reason that they dry up the source of information that is required for success. Someone has said that the less we know the more conceited we are, and that he who has accumulated a vast amount of knowledge also has the clearest understanding of his own limitations.—The Catering Industry Employee.

THOMAS PRIESTLY
SIXTH INTERNATIONAL VICE PRESIDENT

Another stalwart pioneer of our International has gone to join his comrades who preceded him into Eternity, leaving us to carry on the task of improving and perfecting the organization which they so valiantly have built.

Brother Priestly was born on May 28, 1870 in Kirkmaiden, Scotland, and was brought by his parents to Canada when but three years of age. He came to the United States when seventeen years of age. He was enrolled as a member of the International Union through Local 74, of Chicago, on May 1, 1902, and after a year in Chicago he returned to Toronto, where he remained until early in 1906, when he transferred to Local 271 of New York City. During that year brother Priestly attended his first International Convention as a delegate from Local 271 to the Toronto Convention.

Brother Priestly was actively interested in furthering and promoting the interests of Local 74 and of the International. He served as president and business agent of Local 74 for many years.

In 1939 he was elected Vice President of the International and was re-elected in 1946, a tribute to his years of experience in dealing with the problems which confront our organization. He attended the last meeting of the International Executive Council held at headquarters during the week of September 13th although suffering from the illness which caused his death on November 4th in Chicago.

He leaves behind him to mourn his loss, his wife, Hanna Spencer Priestly, one daughter, five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services for brother Priestly were conducted at the Tohle Memorial Chapel on November 8 by the Reverend William E. McInnes, pastor of Mayfair Presbyterian Church.

International Vice Presidents J. P. Cook, J. J. Langan, J. P. Boyd, C. R. Nicholas, L. Brodeur and President L. Rodier of the Illinois State Council acted as pallbearers.

General President McSorley and General Secretary--Treasurer Ford of the International, Secretary-Treasurer George Moore of the Illinois State Council and officers and members of Local 74 attended the funeral. Representatives of the Chicago Building Trades Council: the Employing Plasterers Association, the Employing Lathers Association and Plasterers Local 5 of Chicago were also present. An eloquent testimonial to brother Priestly's long years of service which benefited not only the "lads" of our own International but also those of the other building trades.

To his wife and daughter and the other members of his family is extended our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their sorrow in which we also share.

"The career of a man remains an enduring monument of human energy. The man dies and disappears but his thoughts and acts survive and leave an indelible stamp."

WIT and HUMOR

Just a Slip of the Tongue

The recently ordained young priest had been appointed assistant to his first parish. On his first parochial call, he was making every effort to be friendly to the parishioners and to appear interested in their family. He enthusiastically admired the baby, and asked how old it was.

"Just ten weeks," the proud mother replied.

And then without thinking, the young priest inquired with great interest.

"And is it your youngest?"

Overheard on the Job

Lather: "Know what the ceiling said to the four walls?"

Apprentice: "Nope."

Lather: "Hold me up, boys. I'm plastered."

But Where Is He?

The preacher was giving an impassioned sermon on the weaknesses of mankind and, pausing dramatically, he suddenly exclaimed:

"Who is the most perfect man? Is there such a being? If anybody here has ever heard of a perfect man let him say so now."

In the rear of the hall, a small and nervous little man arose. The preacher stared at him in astonishment.

"Do you mean to say, sir, that you know who is the perfect man?"

"I certainly do."

"Who may he be?"

There was a breathless silence, and then the little nervous man replied:

"My wife's first husband."

GRAPHIC ILLUSTRATION

Teacher: "Bill, give me a sentence using the word 'diadem'."

Bill: "People who drive on the railroad crossing without looking diadem sight quicker than those who stop, look and listen."

Long Enough

White: "The speaker certainly made a hit."

Black: "What did he talk about?"

He's Right

Teacher: "Now, Tommy, tell me where elephants are found?"

Tommy: "Elephants are such very large animals they seldom get lost."

And He Was Mellow

The temperance worker was lecturing the old man who was having a few glasses of beer.

"Don't you know, my good man, that drinking is a curse?"

"But this is only beer, lady!"

"Goodness me, my man, but beer is also a curse."

"Maybe so, lady. But beer is only a mild sort of a curse—like 'Goodness me!'"

That's Right

Jim: "What's the best thing for hives?"

Sim: "Bees."

And, in conclusion, we might add someone's observation: "God made women without a sense of humor so they could love men without laughing at them."

What Makes America Great

Take any civilization in recorded history and see if you can find a land or a people so blessed with the things that make life good and worth the living.

Why is this? After all, Americans are just like the peoples they sprang from in other lands.

No superman built this country. It was the Climate of Freedom that made the American business man prosper where, in other lands, his work was partially nullified by unfavorable political systems of one kind or another.

A Kindred Soul

Otis Skinner and Mrs. Skinner were once traveling on a train from Philadelphia to New York, where Mr. Skinner was to appear in a new play. The actor made use of the two-hour journey by rehearsing his new role, muttering in a low voice and occasionally making a gesture.

When this had gone on for about an hour, a lady sitting in a seat behind them leaned over and touched Mrs. Skinner on the shoulder.

"You have my sympathy, poor woman," she exclaimed. "I have one just like him at home."

CORRECTION

The names of the following apprentices of Local 492 were incorrectly reported and published at the time of their indenture and have now been changed on our records:

Thomas Edward Miller, published in the July 1947 issue of The Lather, corrected to Thomas Harry Miller;

Walter Francis Ennis, published in the August 1948 issue of The Lather, corrected to Walter Ennis;

Leroy Robinson, published in the August 1948 issue of The Lather, corrected to Roy Robinson.

CORRECTION

The apprentice indenture of Ted Junior Cushman of Local 172 was incorrectly published as Ted Junior Cushman in the October 1948 issue of The Lather.

CORRECTION

The withdrawal card issued to O. Hodges 42580 by Local 379 as published in the November 1948 issue of The Lather was reported to headquarters in error and this record has therefore been cancelled.

CORRECTION

As the result of a case of mistaken identity by Local 72, $11.50 was paid by Local 72 and credited to Local 260 for the account of W. Thompson 17582 as published in the November issue of The Lather. It was later discovered that the member paying on reinstatement in Local 72 is not W. Thompson 17582 but W. J. Thompson 15582 who does not owe any indebtedness to Local 260. The $11.50 transfer of credit from Local 72 to Local 260 has therefore been voided.

CORRECTION

Reinstatement of C. E. Stone, 37595, by Local 512, on 10-21-47, published in the November 1947 issue of The Lather was an error because his reinstatement account was not paid in full. This reinstatement and his subsequent automatic suspension on 12-15-47 have been cancelled. His reinstatement account has now been paid in full and he is reinstated in Local 512 as of 11-22-48.

Slight Misunderstanding—"Now," the lecturer asked, "is there a man in the audience who would let his wife be slandered and say nothing? If so, stand up."

A meek little man rose to his feet.

The lecturer glared at him. "Do you mean to say you would let your wife be slandered and say nothing?" she cried.

"I'm sorry," the little man apologized. "I thought you said 'slaughtered.'"

Christmas Memories

"And there were shepherds abiding in the fields keeping watch over their flocks by night."

Each of us has our Christmas memories. Memories that often because of the things that were and are no more, keep us from a full recognizance of the Day of Days.

Perhaps your memory is of songs and laughter and a full gathering of family around a festive board. Perhaps it is of a fir tree gay with candles. Perhaps it is the crustiness of snow and the sheen of stars against a deep blue sky as you walked home from midnight service.

Mine is the verse with which I began, and with which my Grandfather always opened the holiday. If I shut my eyes I can smell the piny fragrance of the Christmas tree and see the whiteness of his beard in the candle light and feel the sureness of his hand holding mine.

"And there were shepherds abiding in the fields keeping watch over their flocks by night. And the angel of the Lord came upon them. And the angel said unto them, Fear not for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy."

The years may have passed. Sorrows may have come upon us. There may be longings in our hearts. But Christmas remains and if we will but let it in, it can bring into our hearts fragrance and joy.

Christmas is a day not to be celebrated, but to be kept. It is not dependent upon money, but upon love. It is a day not for one, but for all. 'Tis the day of proof that love is the strongest thing in the world—stronger than hate, stronger than evil, and stronger than death.

None of us is too poor or too lonely to keep Christmas. We can share that which we have with those who have less. There is no price tag on well-wishing or on friendly speaking or kindly doing. The gates of our hearts can swing wide at a touch. We can each of us bring cheer to some lonely child or a word of friendship to the lonely and forgotten of men.

For no one can keep Christmas alone. As Henry Van Dyke wrote in his great Christmas prayer:

Teach me that I am not alone,
But that many hearts all round the world,
Join with me through the silence,
While I pray in His name.

Amen.

Buy Union Label Goods for Xmas Gifts

I. M. ORNBURN, Secretary-Treasurer • Union Label Trades Department, A. F. of L.

American workers take unusual pride in the millions of articles made by their magic hands and purchased for Xmas presents. The most desirable of all articles are turned out by masterfully skilled union craftsmen. There is no guarantee, however, that they are "union-made" unless the Union Label is displayed on them. Therefore, demand it!

Report Of Delegates To The Sixty-Seventh Convention Of the American Federation of Labor November 15 to November 22, 1948.

Pursuant to law, the Sixty-seventh Convention of the American Federation of Labor convened in the Netherland Plaza Hotel, Cincinnati, Ohio, on November 15th, 1948. Mr. Jack Hurst, President of the Cincinnati Central Labor Council presiding as temporary chairman. The invocation was given by the Right Reverend Monsignor Marcellus Wagner, Pastor St. Lawrence Church. Addresses of welcome were extended by the Hon. Albert D. Cash, Mayor of Cincinnati, by Michael Lyden, president, Ohio State Federation of Labor, Philip Hannah, Secretary Ohio State Federation of Labor, Morris Edwards, President, Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce and the Hon. James Garfield Stewart, Supreme Court Judge, State of Ohio.

President Green responded ably to this most cordial welcome extended and his strong voice echoed through the hall with ringing tones as he outlined the A. F. of L. goals for the coming year. In addition to the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, he demanded action to lift the minimum wage level, to provide a housing program to meet the needs of the American people, to prevent the spread of Communism and to curb the inflationary trend which is plaguing the nation. He urged that the convention act to make permanent Labor's League for Political Education, which he said "was responsible in a very large way for the victory we won at the election of November 2nd." Quoting from his keynote speech, President Green declared:

"Our hopes are high, our vision is clear, our purpose is uncompromisingly fixed, and we are moved by a deep intention that labor shall be free, that it shall enjoy the blessings of freedom, liberty, and justice, and that, enjoying these priceless blessings, we shall so shape our policies at this convention as to preserve those blessings for ourselves and future generations."

"We do not meet here in a vindictive mood, but we meet here, moved by a feeling of tolerance and a desire to co-operate with all classes of people who work together to keep men free and to establish here in America the principles of liberty, freedom, and justice, and to perpetuate forever our American form of government. That is our policy and will be our policy, I am sure, all during the days to come.

In his discussion of labor's goal in striving for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, President Green said:

"It is our purpose to center our efforts toward the repeal of this objectionable piece of legislation. There was no qualification in the campaign. Read the platform of the party that won and you will find there in simple, plain language that the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law must be made a certainty.

"Those who were elected to Congress by labor pledged themselves to vote for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. It wasn't that we should amend it, change it, and accept it in some amended form, but instead, it was repeal, repeal, repeal that objectionable piece of legislation.

"The question then is regarding policy. I am confident that this convention will speak in positive terms and that it will instruct its officers to introduce a repeal measure the moment Congress convenes, and then to mobilize behind that measure the full support of the working men and women of our nation. I know that the officers of the American Federation of Labor, those who represent your national unions, will join together in an organization invincible and indestructible, having for its purpose the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law at the earliest possible moment."

On the subject of inflation which has reduced the standard of living of the workers to a point below that which they enjoyed in 1943, despite higher wages won by labor, President Green charged that the magnitude of the price rise has been brought about by the determination of business to charge whatever the traffic will bear.

President Green on the European Recovery Program stated that labor has supported and will continue to support the Economic Cooperation Administration in its administration of this program.

On the subject of housing, President Green declared that the crying need of the American people is for lowest cost housing. To alleviate the crisis he declared the 81st Congress must pass legislation similar to the Taft-Ellender-Wagner Bill, which before its emasculation by the 80th Congress, provided for the construction of publicly owned low-cost dwelling units.

On the subject of Communism, President Green's remarks were very positive as to the attitude of the Federation.

"The American Federation of Labor stands as a bulwark against the invasion of ideologies that would change our form of government. The employing crafts of the nation ought to see what it means to them, if we are to preserve here in America our American form of government.

Eight million members standing as one, speaking as one, working as one in opposition to the infiltration of communism into our American life. When we meet here the American Federation of Labor meets as a united body. We are not torn by dissension over that issue, but instead we stand united in our determination to go forward in the future as we have gone in the past.

"Does that mean anything to America? Does it mean anything to those outside our movement? Should a force in America that fights against the infiltration of a destructive ideology be destroyed and weakened, or should it be maintained strong and effective in order to protect our social order? That is the question that the enemies of labor should answer for themselves."

The Committee on Credentials reported upon the credentials of 630 delegates, representing 96 national and international unions, 4 departments, 37 state branches, 137 central bodies, 77 local trade and federal labor unions and 3 fraternal delegates and recommended that they be seated.

There were more than 700 delegates and alternates in attendance. The Report of Secretary Meany showed the total paidup membership as of August 31, 1948—7,220,531. The balance in the treasury as of the same date $910,720.49 and during the fiscal year the total expenditures were $2,901,800.34.

President Green announced the appointees on various committees, and your delegates were appointed to act on one or more committees.

The summary of the Executive Council's report (which report covered 198 pages) was read to the convention by Secretary Meany. This report touched on all of the major subjects as they affect the Federation and its membership.

Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin brought the greetings of President Harry S. Truman, whose message outlined most emphatically the mandate from the American people as demonstrated at the polls on November 2, 1948, on the following subjects:

- 1—To raise the minimum wage from 40c to 75c an hour,
- 2—To take care of areas of America that are unable to give American children a decent education.
- 3—To see to it that the health of the people of the nation is properly cared for.
- 4—Positive and unequivocal repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Other addresses were delivered by the following: Director General David A. Morse, International Labor Office. Mr. Irving Brown, A. F. of L. Representative in Europe. Mr. Perry Brown, National Commander, The American Legion. Mr. Lyall T. Beggs, Commander-in-Chief, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Mr. Bernardo Ibanez, President, Confederation Inter-Americana de Trabajadores. Mr. Franz Olah, member of the executive board of the Austria Trade Union Federation. Dr. John R. Steelman, Assistant to the President of the United States. Mr. James Roosevelt. Mr. Marcus Schleicher, President of the Trade Union Federation of Wurtemberg-Baden and Chairman of the Zonal Council of the Trade Unions of the American Zone of Germany. Mr. Henry Rutz, Representative of the American Federation of Labor in Germany. Mr. Cyrus S. Ching, Director Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

The third day of the convention Right Rev. Stanley Bertke, Representative of Archbishop McNicholas, Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Cincinnati addressed the convention. Other speakers included the following: Mr. Isaac Ben Zvi, representative of the State of Israel and the Histadrut. Mr. Paul G. Hoffman, Administrator of Economic Cooperation Administration. Mr. James Killen, A. F. of L. representative with General MacArthur's Headquarters, Tokio, Japan. Lee F. Johnson, Executive Vice President of the National Public Housing Conference. Serafima Roumauld, A. F. of L. Latin American Representative, Secretary of International Relations, C. I. T. Mr. Albert Woll, General Counsel, American Federation of Labor. Mr. Russell Long, Senator Elect from Louisiana. Fraternal Delegates from Great Britain. Herbert L. Bullock and Herbert Wm. Hutchinson, and Fraternal Delegate from Canadian Trades and Labor Congress. Mr. Hugh J. Sedgwick. Other speakers included Mr. Joe Dunn, Labor Consultant, Savings Bond Division, U. S. Treasury Department. Bert M. Jewell, Labor Advisor, Economic Cooperation Administration. Mr. Oscar R. Ewing, Federal Security Administrator. W. Averell Harriman, Representative of the E. C. A. Administration. Hubert Humphrey, Senator Elect from Minnesota. Mr. George Rhodes, Congressman Elect from Reading, Pa.

The Hon. Alben W. Barkley, Vice President Elect of the United States addressed the convention at great length. He reported the highest employment in the history of the United States, even higher than the peak of the war, approximately 63,000,000 workers. Quoting from his speech: "It is fair to say that with as much promptness as the legislative situation will permit, the Bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law will be brought before both houses of Congress, and acted upon with as much promptness as is possible under the rules of either the Senate or the House of Representatives."

There was a sermon delivered by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor James O'Brien at the Labor Mass on Sunday, November 21, 1948, and some of the speeches at later sessions of the convention were delivered by Congressman Elect from Cincinnati, Mr. Earl Wagner, and by Archibald McDonald Gordon, C. M. G., Counsellor and Labor Attache, British Embassy, Washington, D. C.

A declaration adopted unanimously called for the early enactment of a long-range Housing Measure to meet the needs of the American people.

The highlight of the declaration was the recommendation for the construction of 1,000,000 publicly financed housing units for low-income families. The convention called for the construction of these dwellings over a 5-year period.

In addition to the public housing feature, the convention declaration said:

"The housing legislation which is introduced in the next Congress must include the objectives long sought by labor. It must include an adequate program of farm and rural housing, slum clearance and urban redevelopment, aids for financing of large-scale cooperative and nonprofit housing developments for middle-income families."

The convention declared that the construction of public housing projects is "the only possible way of securing decent homes for low-income families now living under crowded, unhealthful slum conditions."

The declaration charged that the real estate lobby and a small but powerful group of reactionaries succeeded in killing the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, the long-range measure which had the backing of organized labor. In its place, the convention declared, Congress passed the so-called Housing Act of 1948 which "contains all the measures requested by the private builders, but none of the provisions requested by organized labor to solve the housing crisis."

Among the most important resolutions adopted are the following:

The repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and its replacement by the Wagner Act modified and amended so that it would be "fair to all concerned."

The defeat of Congressmen in the general elections in 1950 who refuse to vote for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act; or whose general records are such that they are anti-labor.

The making permanent of Labor's League for Political Education, and the levying of a tax of ten cents per member to carry on the educational activities of this organization over the next 14 months.

Restoration of the labor guarantees of the Clayton amendments to the anti-trust act as well as all the provisions of the original Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction act.

Amending the wage-hour act to provide a $1 an hour minimum to cover workers not now covered, such as agricultural and maritime workers.

Extensive liberalization of the social security act and the establishment of health insurance.

The granting of federal aid to education, "to promote the welfare and security of the nation."

The Convention also urged the payment of a minimum salary of $3,000 per year to qualified teachers in the nation's schools, and protested against the system of establishing salaries on the basis of individual merit ratings.

Urging the adoption of a federal educational program, the convention declaration said:

"Throughout its entire history the AFL has based its philosophy on the belief that widespread education is essential to the success of a democratic government. A system of government which recognizes the importance and the dignity of the individual citizen must be predicated upon intelligent participation by the individual citizen in the democratic process. Government of the people, by the people and for the people requires a high level of education and understanding on the part of the citizens of the nation. In those nations of the world where the great majority of the citizens are illiterate, democratic government is impossible. Totalitarianism thrives upon ignorance and suppression of learning. Democracy thrives upon education and dissemination of knowledge and truth among men.

"It is a responsibility of the federal government to see to it that financial assistance is given to those states and areas of the nation which do not have sufficient wealth to maintain adequate levels of education, and assist in maintaining high educational standards throughout the nation. This responsibility emanates not only from the interest of a democratic government in the welfare and happiness of its individual citizens but also from the duty of a democratic government to build a sound educational foundation for the welfare and security of the nation as a whole.

"We believe the time has now come for an immediate drive to secure a program of federal aid to education. The President of the United States has taken an unequivocal stand in favor of federal aid. The party in power has declared itself emphatically in favor of federal aid for the schools."

Other actions taken by the convention follow:

Establishment of a Missouri Valley Authority.

Invitation to the International Association of Machinists, which withdrew from the AFL in 1946 because of an unsettled jurisdictional dispute with several other AFL affiliates, to rejoin the Federation. A similar annual invitation was extended to the United Mine Workers, the CIO and Railroad unions, although outside of possible cooperation on political action, the latter development seemed rather remote.

Labor, industry and farmer cooperation in a program to halt inflation and stabilize the national economy.

Reduction of personal federal income taxes in the lower brackets and increases in the higher brackets.

Abolition of the House of Representatives Un-American Activities Committee and its replacement by a new "Committee on National Security."

A full civil rights program including a Fair Employment Practices Commission, a ban on lynching and poll taxes.

Rejection of third political parties and reiterated opposition to universal military training.

Restoration of the U. S. Department of Labor to a par with other departments in the federal government so that it can give workers the same type of service now afforded farmers by the Agricultural Department.

A program to hold a great celebration in 1950 upon the Centennial of the birth of Samuel Gompers, first president and founder of the AFL.

The convention strongly condemned the Russian government's totalitarian aggrandizement and called for a 10 point program to assure a democratic Foreign Policy. These included: continued support for the European Relief Program, support for a United States of Europe; support for the UN; aid to friendly nations in Europe and Asia with arms and joining them in military alliances for defense; a throwing up of a trade blockade against Russia until she lets up her Berlin blockade; making it a crime under international law for a nation to support fifth columns in countries with which it is at peace; support for the Baruch plan to control atomic energy; aid for the free trade union labor movements in Germany and Japan; and denunciation of the Peruvian dictatorship for its abuses of Peruvian workers.

To further the legislative policy adopted, it was voted to establish a new National Legislative Council.

The council will be composed of the AFL's legislative committee and an officially designated representative from each of the AFL's national and international unions participating in the activities of the council.

It is expected that all legislative activities of the AFL will be coordinated by the council in order that maximum effort may be channeled toward the implementation of the resolutions and policies adopted by the AFL convention.

An excerpt from the convention declaration which authorized the establishment of the council follows:

"Resolved That the 67th convention of the American Federation of Labor instruct the Executive Council to immediately establish a national legislative council for the express purpose of furthering the legislative policy of American Federation of Labor conventions and its Executive Council. The national legislative council shall be composed of the legislative committee of the American Federation of Labor and the officially designated legislative representatives from each national and international union desiring to participate in the council's activities. Meetings shall be held not less than once each month during the time that Congress is in session and a complete report of all activities shall be submitted to the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor. The president and secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of Labor shall serve as chairman and secretary, respectively, of the national legislative council. In the event of the absence of the chairman from any stated meeting, the secretary of the national legislative council shall serve as chairman pro tem. All phases of legislative activity shall come within the purview of the national legislative council, and all affiliated unions are requested to designate an official representative."

The proposed legislation as set forth by the convention on Social Security, includes the following 4-point program:

The proposed legislation as set forth by the convention include the following 4-point program:

1. Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.—The coverage should be extended to include all wage earners and self-employed persons.

Benefits should be materially increased all along the line. The improved benefit formula should be made applicable to those presently eligible and to those newly brought under the system.

The protection given to the dependents of women and men should be equalized.

The test of retirement should be liberalized to permit eligible persons to retain at least part-time employment without jeopardizing benefit rights.

The contribution rate of both employers and employees should be increased at the time benefits are raised, with provisions for a contribution from the general revenues of government when justified to maintain the financial soundness of the system.

2. Permanent Disability.—Benefit provisions to include retraining and rehabilitation.

3. Temporary Disability.—A federal system of disability insurance for those temporarily incapacitated for illness not covered by workmen's compensation.

4. Health Insurance.—A comprehensive program to provide and meet the costs of medical care and service by the extension of social insurance should be established. Such program must preserve the individual rights of both patients and physicians. The program should include provision for an extension of social insurance and extensive program for the construction of hospitals and health centers, the training of medical personnel, and development of research.

The convention in a special session received the report of the national committee, as well as the advisory committee of Labor's League for Political Education, and approved of the same and voted to continue the league as a permanent organization, and in order to finance the same in its educational campaign levied an assessment of ten cents per member covering the next fourteen month period for the purpose of carrying on the educational work during the interim between political campaigns.

It also decided that during the political campaigns it would return to the system of voluntary contributions.

A synopsis of the results of the campaign of Labor's League for Political Education during the last election has already been printed in the columns of our journal under the caption of "Thanks For a Job Well Done," and we shall not attempt to repeat in this report the information that was contained in the pamphlet published in the December issue.

HEZA LIAR

A man who discovered the joys of fishing rather late in life became even more insistent than ordinary anglers upon recounting his triumphs to skeptical acquaintances. Enraged by their thinly veiled hints that he was a liar, he bought a pair of scales, installed them in his library, and made his friends watch while he actually weighed the fish he had caught.

One evening a neighbor burst in excitedly and sought permission to borrow the scales. He was back in 10 minutes, his face flushed with delight. "Con-gratulate me," he cried, "I am the father of a 24-pound baby boy."

The same basic law that governs the people and the courts of the land must govern local unions. No human can be tried for an offense unless he is present. When a person is charged with an offense, and the authorities are unable to apprehend him, he is indicted and that indictment awaits his apprehension.

California produces 100 per cent of the nation's dates, 92 per cent of its avocados, 92 per cent of its grapes, all of its olives, 32 per cent of its pears, 82 per cent of the prunes, 92 per cent of walnuts, all of the artichokes, 41 per cent of the cantaloupes, 64 per cent of the lettuce, 30 per cent of the tomatoes, and all of the nation's raisins and 34 per cent of the world's supply.

The state also contributes a liberal supply of eggs, spinach, rice, nuts, cotton, potatoes, sugar beets, beans, apples, apricots, cherries, figs, grapefruit, lemons, plums, melons and many truck crops.

The greatest wind velocity ever recorded by the United States Weather Bureau for a full five-minute period was in 1934 at the top of Mount Washington in New Hampshire, where the wind blew 231 miles an hour. So as "fast as the wind" might be as fast as any rate up to that speed—and possibly faster—for the wind in the center of a tornado blows 400 to 500 miles per hour.

TO THE OFFICERS OF NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL UNIONS

Dear Sirs and Brothers:

I am addressing you this communication to remind you that the annual appeal for contributions to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is being made by the Franklin D. Roosevelt Birthday Memorial Committee. Because the people residing in many communities throughout the land have suffered during the past year from Infantile Paralysis epidemics, the need for financial contributions to this worthy cause has increased. This dread disease has caused intense suffering in many communities during the year 1948. This fact has created a consciousness within the hearts and minds of all classes of people that our efforts to administer relief to the victims of Infantile Paralysis should be redoubled.

The mention of the disease, Infantile Paralysis, creates a feeling of fear in the hearts and minds of every parent in every community throughout our beloved country. This is particularly true in the families of working men and women. I, therefore, urge that all respond to the appeal of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Birthday Memorial Committee for financial contributions to be used by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis during the coming year. A generous response by all classes of people to this appeal will mean that the victims of Infantile Paralysis in the homes of working men and women will share in the help and service of the Foundation. You cannot contribute to a more worthy cause. I urge that all organizations and individuals affiliated with the American Federation of Labor contribute in as large a way as possible to the appeal for funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Please send your contribution to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, 9 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, N. Y.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) WM. GREEN,

President, American Federation of Labor.

A new supply is now ready and we are sending you under separate cover 300 of these pamphlets.

I will appreciate it if you will forward to me a copy of the letter which you send to your members calling their attention to the free services available to them from the state offices of the American Cancer Society. A copy of any other means you use to publicize this pamphlet will also be appreciated.

Your cooperation in this fight against cancer is deeply appreciated. We will look forward to hearing from you soon.

THE CANDIDATE WHO RECEIVES THE MOST VOTES MAY LOSE AN ELECTION

A presidential candidate can win the election this year by carrying just 12 states—California, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas and Wisconsin. He can win with a popular vote of less than 24,000,000, even though 60,000,000 votes are cast for his opponent.

Such a perversion of democracy is possible because of our Electoral College system of choosing Presidents. Here is how the system, began in 1787, works. Each state has the same number of electoral votes as it has U. S. Senators and Representatives. Thus electoral votes total 531 and 266 are needed to elect.

When a voter goes to the polls he votes, not for his candidate, but for an "elector," who has pledged his vote for the Democratic or Republican or some other party. The vote of each state is counted and the candidate receiving the majority receives all the electoral votes cast by the state. This is called the unit or bloc phase of the Electoral College, and it is this which makes it possible for the will of the whole people to be defeated. No matter how slight the popular majority of the winning candidate in any state, his opponent receives no electoral votes.

The idea of the Constitutional Convention of 1787 was that the electors would be outstanding men, who would use their own judgment in the selection of a President. The plan worked well at first. But when the two-party system appeared the "electors" became mere political figureheads pledged to vote the party ticket. Though the form of the Constitution has remained unchanged, the intent has been evaded.

Three Presidents have entered the White House by way of the Electoral College backdoor, even though the popular vote defeated them. In 1824, Andrew Jackson received a majority of the popular vote over John Quincy Adams and Henry Clay, but since he didn't have a majority of the electoral vote the decision between the top two men was put up to the House of Representatives. Adams was chosen. In 1876, Rutherford B. Hayes polled a quarter of a million fewer votes than Samuel J. Tilden, but the electoral votes put Hayes in the White House. In 1888, Benjamin Harrison was elected although he trailed Grover Cleveland by over 100,000 votes.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York will start soon on a nine and one-half million dollar office building in New York City.

The Mutual Life Insurance says plans are complete for a six and one-half million dollar housing structure in Astoria. The fourteen buildings in the project are fourteen stories each and will house seven hundred families.

We will say there are in Europe thirty-five countries, exclusive of Russia. Europe is smallest of the continents, except Australia, it is about one-fourth greater than the United States, exclusive of Alaska. There are progressive nations within its borders, but the foremost is Germany and another. It is this nation and Germany always vying for supremacy in industry that is the cause of European wars.

In my opinion, just two, who are belligerent, have been and always will be so: they are the two great competing nations. Until something is done to reconcile these nations, there will be those reoccurring wars involving not only European nations but the United States. Our diplomats better take into consideration the fact that wars will occur through these nations and decide that we will not again be involved in those wars for national supremacy.

We have had two world wars, both starting in Europe, in which we became involved. These two were too many and our American youths are too precious to us to lose life and limb for fighting for that which will not solve the European problem.

The Golden Rule of Trade Unionism is to buy Union Label goods from others as you would have them pay Union wages unto you!

THE REAL WAY OUT

Honest officials of labor unions do not care for the label of "labor leader." Even if they have never thought the question through, they show an instinctive dislike of the term.

That great organizer, Eugene V. Debs, the man who built the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen 70 years ago, once said in objecting to being so-called:

"I am not a labor leader. If you are looking for a Moses to lead you out of the wilderness, you will stay right where you are. I would not lead you into the promised land if I could, because if I could lead you in, someone else could lead you out."

That is what is meant when a talk of participation is sounded. If a member does not know what he is doing and why he is doing it he has learned nothing. The person who will follow blindly in good cause can be led to follow blindly in a bad cause.

The strength of a union does not depend as much on the ability of its officials as the union education of its membership. Participation means taking a part in making decisions and carrying them out once they are made by the majority. It's the only way out of the "wilderness."

The best union-pay-as-you-go plan is to buy Union-made goods and to use Union Services!

OUTRIGHT REPEAL OF T-H ACT ONLY WAY, SAYS EXPERT

Law can't be amended to take out evils; change
Wagner Act

Only outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act will make collective bargaining work properly. That's the judgment of one of the nation's leading mediators in industrial disputes—Theodore W. Kheel, chief of New York City's division of labor relations.

Kheel has had 15 years experience in labor-management relations. During part of the war he served as executive director of the National War Labor board and for the past few years he has been conciliating labor disputes in America's largest metropolis.

Can't Amend It

On the basis of this first-hand experience, Kheel insisted it would be "utterly pointless" to try to amend the "T-H" act.

"Vast sections of the act are so intertwined that if Congress tries to amend this part or that, the pieces simply won't fit together," he said.

"Congress will have to start from scratch and the best thing to do is to proceed on the basis of the Wagner Act, with additional provisions to encourage settlements through collective bargaining."

Repeal Necessary

Kheel declared that "again and again" the Taft-Hartley law, far from helping to avert stoppages in the New York area, "made strikes almost inevitable." Whatever success his division met in settling disputes "has been in spite of, not because of the Taft-Hartley Act," Kheel said.

"Repeal of that law would be a public service, and its replacement with a strengthened and modernized Wagner Act would be an even greater service," he contended.

THINK THIS OVER

Discrimination does more than just hurt the other fellow.

It hurts you—no matter who you are.

It hurts your union.

It hurts your community.

It hurts your country.

It hurts your kids' chance of living in peace.

It does us no good to think we're better than the next guy because our folks got here before his folks . . . or because our skin is lighter than his . . . or because we go to a different church.

Many a unionists's wife has spent his union-earned money to assist those non-union employers who wrote the Taft-Hartley bill. All trade unionists' wives should buy Union-made goods and use Union services!

WIT and HUMOR

Truth Comes to Light

She: "You look very downcast."

He: "Yes, my wife has been away for six weeks, and she's just come back."

She: "And does that make you so unhappy?"

He: "Well, I told her I spent all my evenings at home—and today the light bill came. It's for 50 cents."

It was moonlight, and he had parked the car along the side of the road and begun to go into his clutch act. Said the girl:

"There's just one thing I want to tell you before you go any further."

"What's that?" asked the eager Romeo.

"Don't go any further," replied the girl.

Small Talk

Two small boys were discussing the capabilities of their mothers, both active club members. "My mother can talk on just about any subject at all."

"Phooey!" retorted the other. "My mother can talk on almost any subject at all."

For Better Jumps

There was a young 'chutist from Maine

About to jump out of a plane;
And was his face red

When the captain said,
"You'd best wait till we're off the terrain!"

PROPOSAL?

He: "Darling, I want you for my wife."

She: "Why Tom, whatever does your wife want me for?"

A girl from a big city, helping with the harvest, complained that a bull kept looking at her in a somewhat menacing manner.

"I expect," said the farmer, "that it's on account of that red frock you're wearing."

"Oh," said the girl, "I know it's terribly out of fashion, but just fancy that—a country bull noticing it."

In the kitchen of the Meek household the little woman was busy with pots and pans, while in the parlor the "Lord and Master" of the establishment held subdued converse with his neighbor, Mr. Thompson.

"I thought your wife's name was Susan," observed Mr. Thompson, "Why do you call her Peggy?"

"Oh," replied Meek. "Peggy's a little pet name I have for her."

He leaned forward and dropped his voice almost to a whisper. "You see Peggy is short for Pegasus; Pegasus was an immortal steed; and an immortal steed is an everlasting nag!"

And then in a louder voice, "Yes Peggy, I'm coming right away!"

A Paris theater has found a means of making ladies remove their hats. Before the performance a strip appears on the screen curtain. "The management wishes to spare elderly ladies inconvenience. They are permitted to retain their hats." There follows a general stampede to remove hats.

Two Scotchmen were walking down a street. One picked up a $5 bill on the sidewalk. The other borrowed it so that he could have his eyes examined.

James A. Suffridge, Secretary-Treasurer, Retail Clerks International Association, A. F. of L., says:

"The Union Label is labor's badge of honor—its trade mark. By it we know and support one another. The worker, thus educated, is craft unionism's only assurance of survival. As a representative of retail sales people I say, 'Let's bat at one thousand by demanding both Union Label goods and Union services.'"

UNION-PAY-AS-YOU-GO-PLAN

I. M. ORNBURN, Secretary-Treasurer Union Label Trades Department, American Federation of Labor.

The best union-pay-as-you-go-plan is to buy union-made goods and to use union services every time you spend your union-earned cash.

At the same time you purchase Union Label products or use Union services you are also paying an installment on the great debt that present members of labor unions and women's auxiliaries owe to those gallant pioneers of the labor movement. They made great sacrifices in their fight for American labor standards. Some were jailed and others were shot down in the battle for human freedom. The vast productive capacity of skilled and organized labor today is heir to the accumulated experience of sixty-six years of American Federation of Labor craftsmen. They created the greatest industrial system on earth which many "super-patriots" like to designate as "the American way of life."

Through education and publicity the Union Label Trades Department promotes every activity among members of labor unions, women's auxiliaries, their families and friends to patronize only those business firms that display the Union Label, Shop Card and Button. In this way, we shall try to pay future installments on the great obligation that we owe labor leaders of former generations. The debt can never be repaid in full but we must strive to do all that is possible with our purchasing power to direct it into union channels. However, the commitments that we owe to the leaders of the American Federation of Labor in the past, who established the wonderful labor conditions we now enjoy in America, can be paid only in part.

Much of our business prosperity — in fact over 90% of it — is done on credit. This requires great faith in the integrity of business firms and credit buyers. In just the degree that we have prosperity, because of monthly installment paying plans, we should also have a firm faith in our brother trade unionists and purchase their high-quality and superb craftsmanship products. It is a reciprocal formula which is the only way to maintain and improve living standards throughout America.

The Union-Industries Show is a new crystallization of the ambitions and aspirations of the pioneer leaders of the American labor movement. It is a means of increasing greater as well as higher quality production. It gives an unusual opportunity to employers to share with workers the credit of achieving for America the most efficient industrial system of all times.

The Union-Industries Show is a milestone along the path of America's social and industrial progress. The splendor and the vastness of the inspiring Union-Industries Show amazed thousands at St. Louis in 1946. When they stepped inside the entrance door, consumers got the thrill of their lives. The music and excitement reminded them of the gala carnivals touched with the wand of modern-day industrial genius.

The Milwaukee Show in 1949 will be even bigger and better.

Gentlemen:

RE: REQUEST 60

Contractor: E. V. McCright & Company, Dallas, Texas
(Initiated request for decision).

Unions involved: United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America
Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers International Union

The contractor described the work in dispute as follows: "the dispute involves in essence which craft shall install the  $\frac{7}{8}$  inch by  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch cross bars, and fastening the gypsum board thereto". The Board of Trustees also examined a sketch and pictures of the work in dispute.

The Board of Trustees at its meeting of October 20, 1948 took the following action in the above captioned request:

"The Board of Trustees voted that the work in dispute is covered by the decision of record at pages 67-68 of the 'green book'. This action closes the case.
Mr. Gray requested that Mr. M. A. Hutcheson's proxy be reported as not voting."

Very truly yours,

HOW TO SPOT A COMMIE

Every fellow who kicks about economic conditions, who criticizes things as they are, isn't a commie. Not by a jugful, he isn't. Some folks, however, are chronic kickers. As a western sheriff once said: "They would complain if they were going to be hanged with a new rope."

Criticism and argument and experimentation with new ideas—these are the rights of democracy. Only in a democracy can there be differences of opinion on economic or government matters. In commie-land they put those who disagree in forced-labor camps, or shoot them.

Yet, there are ways to spot commies, and so-called fellow-travelers, who are commies at heart but haven't joined the "party."

If you suspect a fellow is a commie, listen to him. If he yelps that Russia wants peace and we are being forced into a war by the big fellows, maybe he's a commie. If he tells you that Russia is a democracy, if he protests against plans for national defense, if he runs around with those who foment those so-called "action-fronts" and "action committees," probably he is a commie, though there's a chance he may be only a fool. If he opposes the Marshall Plan he may be merely a reactionary, for the reactionaries and commies are in complete agreement about saving the world's democracies. Neither commies nor reactionaries like democracy.

If, however, you find a fellow who howls against all nations which take steps to muzzle Joe Stalin's agents, and if he runs around with silly picketing signs, and if he tries to howl down all attempts to get the facts about the commies—if he says you are "red baiting," then he is a commie, beyond the shadow of a doubt.

In a Labor Union, you can spot a commie as the fellow who is never satisfied, who wants trouble, who cries for strikes all the time, who never has a good word for the officers of the Union, and who joins the midnight pamphlet pushers' parade to spread lies about his organization and his leaders. He's a commie, all right. "Hot shots" are not always commies, though usually they are. Sometimes they are merely idiots with big mouths.

The commie, the real thing, doesn't want industrial peace; he wants trouble. He isn't interested in winning higher wages and improving working conditions; his chief interest is in turmoil, disturbance, and hatred. The core of his doctrine is hate; he hates everybody who doesn't think as he thinks. He is a believer in dictatorship—the commie kind. He hides behind the right of free speech so that he can destroy it. He has a special hate for free enterprise and the American way of life. All employers are "exploiters." He has no sense of fair play and honesty; he will stop at nothing to promote the commie creed. He has no religion; he never misses a chance to sneer at the church, at all who believe in religious philosophy. Yes, that's a picture of a commie.

Not all commies are loud-mouths; many are slick fellows who push their stuff cleverly. Some are in high places. Yes, there are employers and men of business who are commies, but not many. There are some commies among Labor's leadership, too, but only a very few.

Now you know why we have no time or place for the commies; why we throw them out of our organization, when we find them.—Washington Teamster.

THERE'S THE ANSWER

The issues of the recent presidential campaign were based on contrary philosophies. President Truman and the Democratic party took a definite stand on foreign policy, housing, labor legislation and the high cost of living. Thomas E. Dewey and his Wall Street advisers gave lip service to the needs of the American people. In fact, they maintained a very suspicious silence on the vital matters.

Mr. Dewey, by condoning the actions of the 80th Republican Congress established his philosophy of government.

Everyone knows what the 80th Congress did; at least millions knew and remembered. As a result of its deliberations there is the Taft-Hartley Law. Too, those millions remembered the following: it disregarded the housing needs of the country; it refused to raise the minimum wage to the fair level of decent subsistence; it failed to extend the coverage and benefits of Social Security; it refused to give consideration to President Truman's recommendations to halt the inflation and the high cost of living.

On the other hand, in the past sixteen years Democratic leadership had elevated all workers to a decent and self-respecting standard of living; it had the vision, foresight and determination to take America out of the greatest depression in the country's history into an unprecedented era of prosperity. Today there are over 60,000,000 people gainfully employed.

Relative to this situation Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin, said before the election, "Big business and little business, the professional man and wage earner have all known better conditions under the philosophy of the Democratic party than they have ever known before. I am sure that they are not going to give up the real thing for political promises and reactionary performances."

Results would indicate Mr. Tobin "knew his onions."

Green Urges All AFL Local Unions To Affiliate With State, City Groups

By WILLIAM GREEN

President, American Federation of Labor

The following article was prepared pursuant to a resolution adopted by the AFL's 67th convention which called upon the American Federation of Labor to stress the importance of obtaining the affiliation of every local union with the appropriate AFL state federation of labor and city central body.

The valuable service rendered by the officers and members of state federations of labor and city central bodies during the 1948 political campaign was reflected in the political victory which labor won at the polls at the November 2d election.

These splendid organizations carried on an educational campaign which made clear to all members of the American Federation of Labor and their friends that the workers must, as sovereign citizens, register and vote at the November 2d election. They succeeded in their efforts. A large percentage of labor and labor's friends turned out at the election and voted. They defeated many candidates for reelection to Congress who voted for the Taft-Hartley bill, and elected a large number who pledged their support to the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. The political complexion of Congress was changed. The voters of the nation voted in favor of the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. That was made possible because the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act was an issue in the campaign.

Surely such a demonstration of solidarity, of service, and of the value of education, makes it clear that state federations of labor and city central bodies should be made strong, influential and effective. It therefore behooves all representatives of American Federation of Labor organizations to serve in every possible way in an effort to bring about the affiliation of every local union chartered by an international organization with state federations of labor and city central bodies in which they are eligible for membership.

If all eligible local unions are affiliated with state federations of labor and city central bodies, the voice of labor as spoken through these agencies can be made stronger and more influential than ever.

The last election emphasized the fact that labor has the votes in industrial centers and industrial cities, necessary to win elections, providing the votes of labor can be placed in the ballot box when elections are held. It is state federations of labor and city central bodies that we must rely upon to get out the votes of labor and labor's friends in industrial sections.

Let us make these agencies strong and influential, effective, aggressive and highly educational so that they can serve labor in an even more effective way in the future than they have in the past.

The decision of the Supreme Court upon the constitutionality of anti-labor laws, which was rendered recently, makes it clear that state federations of labor and city central bodies must redouble their efforts in order to prevent the enactment of additional antilabor legislation and bring about the repeal of the little Taft-Hartley laws already on the statute books of a number of states.

This objective can be reached if state federations of labor and city central bodies are made strong; this strength can be developed through the affiliation of every local union which is eligible to membership in state federations of labor and city central bodies. No good reason can be offered for the refusal of a local union eligible to membership, to affiliate with a state federation of labor or a central body. On the other hand, the economic and legislative welfare of the workers themselves can be served in no better way than through affiliation of local unions with state federations of labor and city central bodies.

Facts About Our Canadian Neighbors

Giant silver Lancaster bombers have been crisscrossing the skies of northern Canada.

These planes were on a mission of peace. They were equipped with special cameras, and manned by expert photographers. Their job was to take pictures of every inch of land in the Far North.

Expert map-makers are studying the thousands of feet of pictures which were taken. From them, the map-makers will piece together the first accurate charting of these wild and arctic areas.

Thousands of miles of this frozen north have never been visited by man. No one knew accurately where the mountains lay and the rivers ran, until the flying cameramen spied them out.

Because there are ten times as many of us in the United States as there are people in Canada, we find it hard to realize that Canada is larger than we are. Actually she is the third largest nation in the world. Only Russia and China are larger.

Because so many of us are familiar with southern Canada, we often forget how wild and unknown is trackless northern Canada.

The new maps of these ice-locked lands are essential for developing Canada's mines, which are one of her greatest resources.

The maps are also needed for setting up new air fields. Canada believes that its northern territory will be one of the busiest air routes of the near future.

The shortest air routes to many parts of the world lie across the Arctic regions. By air, Canada is almost as close to Moscow as it is to London.

What is important to Canada is also important to the U. S., for our borders touch one another for 5,600 miles. The line stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific is the longest unfortified border in the world.

Canada has only 12 million people, fewer than the single state of New York. The great majority of them live in a 300-mile-wide belt along the southern border next to the U. S. This region has fertile soil and a moderate climate, much like our own northern states.

The Canadian people fall into two main groups—the English and the French.

The group of English descent makes up about half of all Canadians. They are remarkably like ourselves. In fact it is often hard to tell English-speaking Canadians from Americans.

Almost a third of all Canadians are of French descent, and still speak French. Most of them are farmers, living in the Province of Quebec. They have kept their own way of life unchanged in the hundreds of years since their ancestors sailed from France.

Both French and English are taught in the schools. Newspapers, books and even road signs are printed in both languages. Government business is carried on in both tongues, chiefly in Quebec province.

The same sports are popular on both sides of the border. Baseball and ice hockey leagues unite the cities of the U. S. and Canada.

People at all times cross the border freely from the U. S. to Canada. In one place, a fire department in one nation protects a city across the border in the other country.

Even the Canadian government is much like ours. Canada is divided into nine provinces, much like our states. A federal government in Ottawa unites the provinces, just as our states are bound together by Washington.

Canada is now a dominion of the British Empire, fully independent and free to leave the Empire whenever she wishes. She has come a long way since Leif Ericson and his Norsemen first landed on her shores about a thousand years ago.

Ericson set up colonies, but they had disappeared entirely by the time John Cabot "rediscovered" Canada in 1497 for England.

Later, Jacques Cartier discovered the mighty St. Lawrence River and claimed the surrounding territory for France.

Today, Canada's greatest source of wealth is the rich wheat and cattle farms of the central and western provinces. Mining is the next most important industry. The country has minerals of almost every kind, including much gold. She also has one of the few known deposits of uranium, a source of atomic bombs.

LABOR'S DEFEAT OF SENATOR BALL MOST REWARDING TRIUMPH

Of all the triumphs registered by labor in the elections, the defeat of Senator Joseph H. Ball, of Minnesota, is perhaps the most outstanding and the most rewarding.

Senator Ball's 100 per cent anti-labor record set him up as the Number 1 target for the Minnesota Branch of Labor's League for Political Education.

Following an active campaign in support of Ball's opponent, Hubert Humphrey, the 37-year-old popular mayor of Minneapolis and a friend of labor, workers flocked to the polls on election day and knocked Senator Ball right out of his Senate seat.

Why labor was so opposed to Senator Ball is apparent from a glance at his record on issues of vital interest to labor. He was a staunch supporter of the Taft-Hartley law and would have made it a tougher measure if it had been left exclusively to him. Since the passage of that anti-labor measure, he has advocated changes to strengthen it in favor of employers. He was the father of the suggestion for an outright ban on all industry-wide bargaining contracts.

In addition to the Taft-Hartley law issue, Ball voted against labor's interests on the Case Bill, railroad retirement law improvements, the portal-to-portal legislation, and anti-inflation measures.

POSTAL ROUTES TO BRING NEW DEMANDS ON NATION'S ROADS

The Post Office Department has announced plans to start more highway postal routes.

The efficiency of such post offices is directly dependent upon good highways.

The Post Office Department takes several factors into account in determining where to establish new post offices.

Unless a proposed route has good, level, all-weather roads, it will be rejected for highway postal service. The department requires that the roads on which the highway post offices operate be smooth and solidly built, with grades of not more than 10 per cent.

American highways would become very important in the next few years as means of transporting mail from larger communities to small towns within a 10-mile radius. The communities no longer served by railroads will thus be served by highway mail buses.

Buy and Use Easter Seals

March 17-April 17.

Mary will have a chance to learn to walk—even though she was born with crippled legs—if she has the right exercises under the direction of a physical therapist.

Funds from the sale of EASTER SEALS provide needed services—medical treatment, physical training, appliances, recreation, vocational guidance—for youngsters and grown-ups who are physically handicapped.

During the month preceding Easter Sunday, Easter Seals will be mailed to millions of homes throughout the nation. Each family will be asked to send a dollar—or more—to help crippled people in their state. Every dollar contributed will mean more and better services.

ONLY A BEGINNING

Realizing the telling effect on the recent national election as a result of the effort of Labor to get out the vote the officers of the American Federation have emphasized that the Labor League for Political Action must begin immediately to strengthen and perfect its organization for the 1950 congressional campaign. Commenting upon that which was accomplished they said:

"The tremendous turnover in the congressional elections was due in large part to your highly successful drive to get out the labor vote.

"The results already in show that a total of 105 members of the 80th Congress who voted for the Taft-Hartley Act will not return to the 81st Congress. That is a spectacular achievement.

"It is the firm intention of the American Federation of Labor to continue Labor's League for Political Education as its permanent political arm on the same strictly non-partisan basis on which it was founded. Our job in the political field has only begun.

"We know it will be extremely encouraging to labor's friends in Congress to realize that they can count upon us for continuing support.

"The need for effective political organization in every state and congressional district will be even greater in 1950 than in 1948. The great public interest that is engendered in presidential election campaigns normally evaporates in off-year elections. That is what happened in 1946 when only one-third of the eligible voters in America took the trouble to go to the polls. The result was the election of the reactionary 80th Congress. We must not let that happen again in 1950.

"We are confident that the forthcoming national convention of the American Federation of Labor will unanimously endorse the work of Labor's League for Political Education and give it permanent status. Do not, under any circumstances, let your local leagues disband. On the contrary, we call upon you most emphatically to keep in close touch with developments in the 81st Congress and to strengthen and perfect your campaign immediately for the 1950 campaign."

WHO'S IN CONGRESS?

Lawyers still have the best chance of being elected to congress, according to recent election statistics. Available data on 389 of 435 members of the house which meets in January, show the following breakdown on professions and occupations represented:

Agriculture, 27; banking, 11; business or insurance, 57; medicine or dentistry, 9; civil service or politics, 29; journalism, 31; law, 227, and teaching, 28.

These totals add to 419 because some members have such diverse interests that they are classified under two or more categories. A preliminary check shows there will be at least 169 war veterans in the new house compared with 212 in the present house membership.

CORRECTION

Apprentice Andrew Charles Brennan of Local 79 was incorrectly published as Andrew Charles Brinner in the November 1948 issue of The Lather. His name has been corrected on all of the records at headquarters.

CORRECTION

Suspension for nonpayment of dues of J. D. Morrison 40957 by Local 71 has been cancelled because it occurred through a misunderstanding on the part of the local.

CORRECTION

In the December 1948 issue of The Lather, Apprentices Indentured, the name of James Russell Happel indentured by Local 72 was published as James Russell Hoppel although he is recorded as James Russell Happel on the records of the International.

In the same issue, this apprentice was also published under the caption of Apprentice Indentures Cancelled. This was an error as the indenture of Apprentice Happel had just been reported by Local 72 and he is an active apprentice.

Some Houses Leak Like a Sieve . . .

INSULATING ROCKLATH*

Is the Vapor Barrier That Controls Condensation

Some houses leak like a sieve—from the inside out. For example, consider a house of normal construction but without a vapor barrier. During periods of low winter temperature, up to 2½ gallons of water vapor a day may condense in each 1,000 square feet of unprotected exterior wall.

Insulating ROCKLATH prevents up to 95% of this moisture condensation. In winter, a sheet of aluminum foil laminated to ROCKLATH plaster base at the mill prevents the entrance into the walls of dangerous quantities of water vapor. In summer, this aluminum foil reflects the sun's radiant heat . . . helps keep the house cool and comfortable.

Insulating ROCKLATH, the ideal plaster base, performs three services for little more than the cost of one—and at no extra application cost! Its bright aluminum foil is a very efficient heat reflector and vapor barrier for use in residential construction.

In most states FHA requires certain minimum insulating and vapor barrier values. Insulating ROCKLATH and plaster in residential wall construction will usually provide the FHA values, as well as an ideal plaster base.

TIME TO BE ALERT

If you have noticed that some of the Communists who come under public scrutiny are prominent in labor unions activities, you probably wonder why. There are many reasons, most of which can be traced to Stalin, Lenin and Marx. Here are a few statements from the Programme of the Communist International:

"... the Communist Party must ... extend its influence over the majority of the members of its own class, including working women and the working youth. To achieve this, the Communist Party must secure predominate influence in ... trade unions, factory councils, cooperative societies, sport organizations, etc."

"It is particularly important to capture the trade unions."

"To work in reactionary trade unions and skillfully to capture them, to win the confidence of the broad masses of the industrially organized workers, to change and remove from their posts the reformist leaders, represent important tasks in the preparatory period."

"It is the bounden duty of every Communist to belong to a trade union, even a most reactionary one, provided it is a mass organization. Only by constant and persistent work in the trade unions, and in the factories ... will it be possible ... to win the industrially organized workers over to the side of the Party."

From the teachings of Lenin we quote:

"Every sacrifice must be made, the greatest obstacles must be overcome, in order to carry on agitation and propaganda systematically, perseveringly, persistently and patiently, precisely in those institutions, societies and associations—even the most reactionary—to which proletarian and semi-proletarian masses belong. And the trade unions and workers' cooperatives are precisely the organizations in which the masses are to be found."

"It is necessary ... if need be ... to resort to all sorts of stratagems, maneuvers and illegal methods, to evasion and subterfuges in order to penetrate the trade unions, to remain in them, and to carry on Communist work in them at all costs."

And Stalin himself has said: "It is essential that the American Communist Party should be capable of ... assuming the leadership of the impending class struggle in America ... For that end ... the revolutionary education of the working class of America must be placed above all."

From the above it is easy to understand what motivates the Communists in America who want to take over all American labor unions so they can cripple the government and overthrow it by violence. They seek to get their agents into top union jobs, nationally and locally. They seek to appear to be running unions in the members' interests, so that in some period of crisis those same members will act quickly, and unthinkingly, on orders from the leaders, to America's ruin.

Let all of us be alert! This danger to our national safety must be wiped out!

A THOUGHT-PROVOKING STORY

Dean Swift was an English Protestant Clergyman. He was a Clergyman of the Church of England, but he was a great liberal one hundred years ago.

Strange as it may seem now, in those days the Catholic and Protestant Clergymen were great friends. They associated and dined with each other. Of course, they were all educated men and they went through almost the same school of theology until they reached a certain point and then they differed on some matters of religion. Educated men and women nearly always respect and honor each other. During the days that Swift worked as a churchman in London there was an Irish temperance advocate that went to London, advocating and preaching temperance.

At any rate, Father O'Brien and Dean Swift became great friends and one rainy day they were walking along the streets of London somewhere near Petticoat Lane which was the district of Jack the Ripper. (Sam Gompers was born in that district.) They saw a drunken man lying in the gutter and the water was almost flowing into his mouth. Dean Swift loved a drink but never abused that privilege or desire. He was really a religious man and an exceedingly great liberal. He got in bad with the government because he fought against the persecution of the Catholics in Ireland. He wrote some very bitter articles against the English nobility and the Royal Family because of their persecution of the Irish.

At any rate, Father O'Brien says, "There you see, Dean, that is the result there in the gutter of drink, intoxicating liquor." Swift looked at him and then he looked at the drunk and he said, "Father, but for the Grace of God it might have been you."

So, you men down on the floor that are so anxious sometimes to bawl out the business agents or to say something unappreciative about your organizers or your officers, remember that we too have a load on our shoulders to carry and we try to do the best we can. We want to help, we want your kindness; we like a pat on the back no matter how big we are in the eyes of the membership. We are just as humble as you are and let me repeat, but for the Grace of God it might have been you that might be in our place trying to keep the wheels rolling.

SUGGESTIONS ON HOW TO REDUCE BUILDING COSTS

Have you ever stopped to think of the number of ways lathing and plastering and their accessories can be used to reduce costs in the typical single dwelling or apartment building, and in numerous other types of building as well?

The National Foundation for Lathing and Plastering, Inc., your national promotional organization, has now at the printer, for early distribution, a small informative booklet which contains some mighty good suggestions to help you get the right answers. You can pass these on to the home owner, architect or builder and they will thank you for your helpfulness.

The booklet shows how corner bead can be used around windows at less cost than the customary wood trim, and produce a decided improvement in appearance and maintenance. It describes the savings in the use of types of plaster bases which are plaster base and furnish heat insulation at the same time. It tells of the advantages of pastel-colored self-decorating interior plaster finishes which expedite completion of the buildings. Economy of space-saving 2-inch solid plaster partitions and their uses are detailed. Included also is information on the first and maintenance cost savings of permanent, exterior stucco finishes.

These and other cost saving ideas are explained briefly but clearly in the new illustrated booklet.

Make sure that you get a free copy for yourself and builder and architect friends. There is no charge! National Foundation for Lathing and

WIT and HUMOR

NO, BY GUM

Aunt Minnie was taking her first trip on a train. When the conductor came through the car and called for tickets, Auntie readily gave up hers. A few minutes later the train boy, coming through, called, "Chewing gum."

"Never," cried Aunt Minnie, bravely. "You can take my ticket, but not my gum."

MUCH PRETTIER

Customer—I don't like the looks of that codfish.

DEFINITION

Someone once described a diplomat as a man who can make his wife believe she would look fat in a fur coat.

SLIGHTLY TWISTED

Doctor: "Has your husband taken the medicine I prescribed: 1 tablet before each meal and a small whiskey after?"

Mrs. Green: "Maybe he's a few tablets behind but he's months ahead on the whiskey."

THESE MODERNS

The kindergarten class had been studying the wind for a week. One day the teacher said, in her most enthusiastic and most snappy manner, "Children, as I came to school today on the street car, the door opened and something came softly in and kissed me on the cheek. What do you think it was?"

"The conductor!" the class shouted with one voice.

JUST LIKE HOME

Sergeant—Did you give the prisoner the third degree?

Constable—Yes. We browbeat him, badgered him, and asked him every question we could think of.

"And what did he do?"

"He dozed off, and merely said: 'Yes, dear, you are perfectly right.'"

NO TICKET HERE

Policeman—As soon as I saw you come around the bend I said to myself, "Forty-five at least."

Lady Driver—How dare you? It's this hat that makes me look so old.

HIS CHOICE

Young and inexperienced father (looking at trip-lets the nurse had just brought out)—"We'll take the one in the middle."

IT SHOULD HAVE BEEN

Professor—I have been robbed of my new pocket-book.

Wife—Didn't you feel a hand in your pocket?

Professor—Yes, but I thought it was my own.

HAS IT COMING

"Doesn't your wife miss you when you stay out till three in the morning?"

"Occasionally; but usually her aim is perfect."

HE'LL NEVER MISS IT

Customer: "Hey; you've cut my chin."

MEANING OF "AT-LARGE"

"Pop, what does it mean when it says a man attends a convention as a delegate-at-large?"

"That means his wife wasn't along."

TIGHT-MOUTHED

"But surely you didn't tell him straight out that you love him?"

"No fear—he had a squeeze it out of me."

TOO TECHNICAL

A man had been riding in a stuffy smoking car, and when the train stopped at the station he went out on the platform and took a deep breath of fresh air. In his enjoyment, he said to the brakeman: "Isn't this invigorating?"

"No sir," was the reply, "this is Coshocton."

IT'S UP TO YOU

Sooner or later, man, if he is wise, discovers that life is a mixture of good and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. He learns that it doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul—that he should let some things go over his head like water off a duck's back.

He learns that he who loses his temper, usually loses.

He learns that all men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then, and that he shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously.

He learns that carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight.

He learns that the quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

He learns that even the janitor is human; and that it doesn't do any harm to smile and say, "Good morning," even if it is raining.

He learns that most of the other fellows are as ambitious as he is, that they have brains that are as good or better, and that hard work and not cleverness is the secret of abiding success.

The Taft-Hartley law is a signpost to Slavetown —so get on to the Union Label highway which leads to Prosperity.

NATIONAL MAGAZINE ASSAILS VAST ABUSE OF CHILD LABOR

Washington.—Labor's drive for strengthening of the nation's child labor laws won support from a widely circulated, national magazine.

The February issue of the "Woman's Home Companion" calls for action to curb the increasing employment of children at jobs "that are often physically and morally dangerous."

"What's come over the American men and women that we can be complacent about a social evil that was once a Number One call to arms—child labor," the magazine demands. "How can we stand calmly by while hard-won laws regulating the employment of children are whittled down bit by bit?"

The article goes on to cite shocking examples of children maimed and killed while employed in violation of law—an 8-year-old boy who lost two fingers when his hand caught in a factory conveyor belt; a 14-year girl who lost an arm in a laundry extractor; a 15-year boy who had three fingers severed in a metal-cutting machine.

"Wherever children work in industry, the accident rate is going to be high," the article points out. "Statistics show that children under 18 are one and a half times more subject to disabling injuries than their elders with more experience and judgment.

"Yet, while employment of children is on the increase, controls are being weakened, standards lowered."

It's not only in factories that youngsters are employed on hazardous jobs, the magazine stresses. "Much of it is far less obvious, but equally dangerous," the article declares. "It is hidden away down back alleys—in laundries, bakeries, restaurant kitchens, small machine shops, or sawmills where illegally employed youngsters are whisked out of sight when the inspector comes around."

A lot of it, too, is out in the open, the magazine says—on big ranches and plantations, in bowling alleys, in messenger work and other jobs where children toil excessively long hours, often after a day in school, and sometimes up to midnight. Many of these jobs are "unhealthful and morally dangerous," the magazine contends.

"It is time Americans stopped being bamboozled by arguments for child labor concocted by those with selfish interest in employment of children," the magazine adds.

The publication closes with an appeal to women everywhere to campaign against abuses of child labor; to work for tighter state and Federal laws against employment of children in unsafe and fatiguing jobs, and to fight for strict enforcement of the law.

FIRST WOMAN ON A U. S. POSTAGE STAMP

There are more American women on postage stamps than you'd think. Not counting, of course, such allegorical feminine figures as Liberty, Justice, Freedom. The distinction of being the first real American woman to grace a postage stamp goes to Martha Washington, whose picture was put on a lilac 8-cent ordinary postage stamp, issued December 6, 1902. So far she has had several successors: Pocahontas, Whistler's mother, Susan B. Anthony, Virginia Dare, Louisa May Alcott, Frances E. Willard, Molly Pitcher, Jane Addams. Who will be next, nobody knows. For to date, the Postmaster General's office claims no knowledge of any other feminine candidates.

FOREIGNERS

Just who are we to criticize

Those folks who come from other lands?

Why "foreigners" have built our wealth

With constancy and tireless hands.

Those who would speak with sharp disdain

Against the foreign-born today

Think not of all they truly owe

To sturdy souls who paved their way.

Yes, sturdy souls—their own forebears

Who sailed the seas and with them brought Integrity and love of God

That have our good works duly wrought.

Foreign-born? Ah—yes! But they became Americans at heart

And built in true accord this land that plays today a leading part.

Return to Wagner Act Is Advocated

Stiff Fight Seen Over Taft-Hartley Law Repeal

Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and reenactment of the Wagner Act of 1935 with amendments is provided for by the Administration-sponsored labor bill which began its routine toward passage on January 31 when hearings were started on the proposed measure.

The bill, known as S. 249, is sponsored by Senator Elbert Thomas, Dem., Utah, chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee. In the hearings which began January 31, Maurice J. Tobin, Secretary of Labor, who had helped in drafting the measure, was the first to testify. He outlined the proposed changes in the new bill and pointed out the differences between it and the present Taft-Hartley law which has been under constant attack by American labor unions.

The new bill is long and complex and as this issue of The Journal was scheduled for press the American Federation of Labor top officials and their legal counsel were giving the bill careful scrutiny before making any extended comment.

Here are some of the high lights of the bill as it appeared in draft from subject to Senate committee consideration:

To Be Abolished

1. The Taft-Hartley ban on the closed shop is abolished as is the regulation of the union shop.

2. The provision compelling union officers to sign non-Communist affidavits before they could utilize labor board procedures is eliminated in the new bill.

3. Restrictions on union welfare and retirement funds and on the political activities of trade unions is eliminated.

4. A ban on strikes by Government workers is removed from the new bill.

5. The ban on organization of foremen is also absent from the new bill.

6. Mass picketing as defined in the Taft-Hartley bill is no longer present in the bill.

7. Other bans eliminated are union's refusal to bargain, and the use of injunctions to prevent certain labor practices which were defined as "unfair" by the Taft-Hartley law.

8. Employers' rights to harangue unions—a provision praised as an "employers' freedom of speech" guarantee is banned in the new bill.

9. The right or privilege of employers or others to sue trade unions is eliminated.

10. Elections to decertify unions and the requirement that financial reports and constitutions be filed with the Secretary likewise are abolished in the new bill.

11. The bill takes steps toward abolishing the office of general counsel independent of the National Labor Relations Board.

12. All Taft-Hartley cases not based on the provisions of the new act (the one to be passed) are automatically to be dropped.

Many items in the present Taft-Hartley Act are continued. The following provisions are either from the Taft-Hartley Act or the old Wagner Act in modified form.

1. The ban on unfair labor practices on the part of employers such as refusal to bargain, discharge of employes for union activity, and domination of unions by management, and the use of the injunction as a remedy to prevent such action are all incorporated in the new bill.

2. The bill continues the ban on unjustified secondary boycott, jurisdictional and recognition strikes. The N.L.R.B. is given power to obtain injunctions against any action included in the foregoing ban.

3. The N.L.R.B. with its five-man staff would be treated with salaries advanced from $12,000 a year to $17,500.

4. The federal Mediation and Conciliation Service is transferred to the Department of Labor, thereby divesting the service of its independent status. The salary of the director is advanced from $12,000 to $15,000 per year.

5. Authority of the President to intervene in national emergency strikes is continued but on somewhat modified terms. This provision will be clarified in the hearings, but it is believed that the right to proceed under the authority of court decisions in the United Mine Workers and the Railroad Brotherhoods cases.

Other Provisions

Certain significant additional provisions are put in S. 249. Whether or not they remain in it when the bill is reported out of committee to the floor of the Senate is still uncertain. Some of these new provisions include:

1. A provision that all state laws regulating unions and the closed shop are superseded in interstate commerce.

2. A provision that all contracts shall contain binding arbitration for disputes arising thereunder.

3. A provision branding as an unfair labor practice the failure by either employers or workers to give the mediation service 30 days notice of contract termination.

While there are the principal provisions of the bill, they are not all the bill will finally include by the time it leaves the Senate Labor Committee. When the bill reaches the floor, Washington observers believe that the measure will precipitate a stormy and extended debate. Although a considerable number of pro-labor Representatives and Senators were elected in last November's elections, enough pro-Taft-Hartley advocates remain in Congress to prevent smooth sailing for anything like a drastic reform in the national labor statute.

"Cooling Off" Period

A highlight of the bill is the so-called "cooling off" period of 30 days provided for in cases of strikes involving the national emergency. In such a situation the bill provides that the President shall issue a proclamation call on parties to the dispute "to refrain from a stoppage of work or, if such stoppage has occurred, to resume work and operations in the public interest."

After the issuance of such a proclamation the President is obliged to appoint an emergency board which would investigate the dispute and attempt to induce the contesting parties to reach a settlement. In any event, the emergency board would report to the President in 25 days following the proclamation and such report would contain findings of fact as well as recommendations for subsequent action. During the investigation period and for five days after the report is filed—thus making a maximum of 35 days—there shall be no strike.

The bill says that the parties "shall continue or resume work . . . etc.", but no actual machinery of enforcement is indicated. Under the Taft-Hartley law the President can stay a strike for 80 days under an injunction remedy.

Situation in States

An emerging victory over some of the states which are trying to restrict labor unions is seen by many in the provision dealing with state laws and union membership in industries engaged in interstate commerce. The bill says that no Federal or state law shall preclude an employer engaged in interstate commerce, or whose activities affect interstate commerce, from making a closed shop agreement with a legitimate labor union. This would seem to be an advance beyond the intentions of the old Wagner Act, which had no indication of upsetting state restrictions on compulsory union membership.

A victory for Secretary Tobin is noted in the provision to transfer the Conciliation Service to the Department of Labor. Cyrus Ching, present Director of Conciliation, is said to favor continued independent status of the agency, and this position is supported by many members of Congress who will seek to block the recommended transfer. The service was taken from the Labor Department under the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947.

Communist Affidavit

Another provision which may well cause controversy when the bill reaches the floor is that one concerning the filing of non-Communist affidavits and of financial statements. The leading labor organizations in the United States, the American Federation of Labor, the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and many other large independents such as the International Association of Machinists and others have taken strong anti-Communist positions. Some labor unions, while strongly anti-Communist in fact and in policy, nevertheless object to the imposition of the affidavit-filing requirement.

Many factions in the labor movement have been critical of General Counsel Robert Denham of the N. L. R. B., and the provision affecting this office would seem to be a victory for the labor groups.

Those who have opposed actions of trade unions in voicing their political sentiments wrote a strong ban in the Taft-Hartley Act. That ban would be removed under S. 249.

While the bill will undergo many changes before final enactment, S. 249, according to informed opinion in Washington, represents a long stride forward toward reaching a measure of justice under the labor statutes of the nation on the part of organized labor.

United States Apprentice Certificate of Qualification

The above reproduction is a copy of apprentice certificate granted to Jerome F. Kern by the Federal Committee on Apprenticeship after completion of three years of technical and practical training in metal lathing, in the school and on the job, in the jurisdiction of Local 73, St. Louis, Missouri.

Apprentices should be very proud to possess a certificate from our government testifying to their qualifications. The old-timers in our trade who make this apprentice training possible for the boys of today, never had an opportunity to participate in it themselves. They had to learn the hard way.

Present day apprentices should admire and respect journeymen who teach them the secrets of our trade and make their future paths comparatively easy. These unselfish men, with years of service to our society behind them, are teaching these boys to become future competitors for their jobs and are lessening their own opportunities for economic security. Could anything be more unselfish?

Let these boys never forget the men who contributed to their future welfare.

In the last national election organized labor was spurred in its efforts to elect President Truman and a Congress by the notorious Taft-Hartley slave labor law and in anticipation of the removal of repressive government regulations now held over elections, finances and political contributions. They will continue their efforts in support of President Truman's new labor laws until all shackles that prevent free and democratic activity by labor unions are removed.

Labor unions of America are the only group the stooges of big business in Congress attacked by the legislative means within their power. The non-communist affidavits required by labor leaders under the Taft-Hartley Act are a disgrace to this country and to the men who gave their support in its enactment. This was done in order to give the impression that labor unions are headed by commies who take their orders from Stalin. The stooges of big business in Congress made sure that the Taft-Hartley law did not apply to the N.A.M., the National Chamber of Commerce, the National Bankers Association and other outfits of similar nature because the leaders of these outfits are the same people who control the money and the economy of the country as they do or did many morons of Congress.

Organized labor never had any objections to the anti-commi affidavits or similar regulations as such. Their righteous indignation was caused by the fact that this special law was created to undermine the status of leaders of the most patriotic group in America with their own members and with the public in general. This is class discrimination, unpatriotic and unconstitutional in the real meaning of the constitution of the United States.

Organized labor has no more use for commies than has any other group in America. In fact, they would like to see them shipped to Russia where they belong, if this were legal.

Organized labor has no use for fascists in America either and many in the movement would like to see the fascists and the commies put on an island and then sink the island. If these two groups, the fascists and the commies, either one of whom would place workers in chains were they to gain power, could be eliminated, this country would be a much better place to live in and would have a brighter looking future.

THE FASCISTS IN BIG BUSINESS—the monopolists, cartelists and other vermin of similar ilk—are like a cancer eating at the very insides of America. They would not hesitate a minute to start another war and have millions of workers lose their lives in order to build up their business and financial reserves. They have been creating wars for decades in their struggles for world markets and the oil on other continents. Periodic killings of millions of workers to further their own ends is only one of the means in which they callously engage to further their own ends. Labor must therefore consolidate its forces as big business does its capital and use this medium of electing decent fair-minded men to office who will represent all the people and not just the moneyed interests.

Labor is on the right track. At the recent meeting of the AFL executive council in Miami, they voted to establish a weekly newspaper, have weekly broadcasts on national hookups and also to continue their political league for participation in future elections to elect their friends and defeat their enemies. This column has on numerous occasions suggested these and other remedies to promote the views of the workers, and give the public the truth about labor and its problems. This the daily press never has done and never will. Eventually all large cities will have daily labor newspapers for labor and the public and will have their own broadcasting chains with local outlets. It must come. Labor must fight fire with fire. It can do it too, because organized labor has more intelligent, practical and fair-minded men in its ranks proportionately than any other group.

If the recommendations of President Truman prevail, labor will get a new lease on life and employers who furnish the capital to run industry (which is useless without labor to operate it) will be put in their place.

Under the new laws recommended by Truman, unions would again be given the right to the "closed shop" and scabs who refused to join a union in any industry that is organized will be fired as they should. A worker who refuses to contribute toward the financing of a union that creates better wages and conditions for him is a scavenger of the worst kind. He is just like a taxpayer who accepts all the rights and privileges of a citizen and gets all the benefits without paying a tax. No elections will be required by the workers to determine whether or not they want the closed shop as under the Taft-Hartley law. Any damn fool knows a worker with a grain of common sense wants a closed shop. But the jerks who created the Taft-Hartley law didn't. They said they were protecting the rights of the workers. They are either damn fools or damn liars.

voted by a majority of the workers will again be allowed, without, as at present, a written order from every worker in the union.

Political contributions may be made by unions the same as by the leaders of big business who contribute through the subterfuge of using all their relatives as contributors, including even three-year-olds.

* * *

Unions may use hiring halls or use a list system to send workers to jobs in their turn, a system used for forty or fifty years before the notorious Taft-Hartley law. This will stop the scabs from bargaining in where they are not wanted.

Unions may refuse to handle materials that are manufactured by non-union workers. This is now prohibited under the secondary boycott law.

* * *

NLRB elections for certification of a union will be held on request of a union, but not on the request of an employer as now, who can fill his plant with scabs and then demand a vote that will result in selection of a company union, financed, dominated and directed by the employer.

Foremen who want a union will be able to form one and can demand a contract from employers.

Notice of a strike will be given the government 30 days before it goes into effect, but the union does not need to notify the employer so he can prepare himself, and ruin union strategy.

An arbitrator's decision in a jurisdictional strike must be accepted by an employer or he can be taken to court and penalized.

* * *

Unions cannot be sued under the new laws as they can at present for financial loss sustained by an employer due to strikes, secondary boycotts, etc.

Unions can conduct their own elections without government snoopers supervising them as at present.

Damage suits against unions for wildcat strikes or other contract violations are eliminated under the new law.

Ousting unions from plants through decertification no longer will be permitted.

Elimination of the closed shop prohibitions as now existing will apply to state laws where firms do interstate business. Builders who handle materials from other states (and they all do) will come under this section.

* * *

Welfare funds financed by employers can be spent by unions without any federal controls as at present.

Under the new laws, union leaders and unions, now tied hand-and-foot when a strike takes place, will have freedom of movement.

These and other sections of the notorious Taft-Hartley Act will be eliminated and unions once again can function as free and democratic organizations. Few members of labor unions fully realized the tremendous handicap they have been operating under since the Taft-Hartley law became effective. Some of them actually believed the daily press and thought this law was created to restrict activities of their leaders only. How sadly they were mistaken.

The benefits you and your family will get when you retire, and the benefits your family will get if you die, depend on your social security account. So it is of No. 1 importance that your account be absolutely right.

The Social Security Board does its end of the job with nearly 100 per cent accuracy. You can rely on that. But there are more than 70,000,000 accounts and sometimes errors do occur, therefore, it is advisable to check on your account.

It is especially advisable to do so if you have worked for short periods for a number of different employers, or for a firm that was in business only a short time, or for an employer who did not copy down your social security account number, or did not deduct the 1 per cent social security tax from your pay.

If you think an error has been made, write to the Social Security Board, Baltimore, Md., and request a statement of your account. You can get an addressed post card form at the nearest Social Security Board office. If an error has been made, that office will help you to get it corrected. Once every four years you should check on your account anyway because after four years some errors cannot be corrected.

Experts have been venturing their guesses on the "wherefor" of the unexpected strength which President Truman showed in the recent election. We do not pose as an expert in politics, but we feel that we are competent to philosophize, and in line with that process of arriving at conclusions we would say that Republican leaders underestimated the threat of Union Labor not only to support President Truman himself, but to induce friends to go to the polls—and, of course, to vote as they would have it. On the other hand the Republicans, counting on the freely publicized polls which definitely pointed to a big trend to Dewey, evidently did not work so hard.

There are 90,000,000 potential voters in the United States which means that nearly one-half of the electorate did not go to the polls at all.

It is not likely that Union Labor voted as a unit, but if it did, it together with the immediate relatives of the workers and the several million government employees, would account for most of the Democratic vote.

We did not like to hear so much from politicians on both sides concerning the need of having a Senate and a House under their respective control, because we like to think of the representatives of the people acting as true Americans and according to the dictates of conscience rather than according to Party lines. There are common interests which are bigger than those of the industrialist, of Union Labor, of the farmer, and these bigger interests should motivate the action of every Congressman and Senator. The general welfare of this country and of the world should be the predominant consideration of every public man.

A Democratic "controlled" Congress could be as bad as a Republican "controlled" Congress. There should be no control in the sense of Party action as against action in behalf of the general good of the nation and of the world.

"Whipping people into line" is more in keeping with a dictatorial than with a democratic policy. Members of Congress have been too frequently intimidated by pressure groups, and the many back home who are more deeply permeated by the American spirit often become victims of action precipitated by such pressure.

Scarcity makes it possible to ask any convenient price for any article, and profits have as a result reached an all-time high. Combinations thrive on absence of competition that results from scarcity of goods.

All the economic difficulties to which we are now subject as an aftermath to the war could be cured by more production.

TRUMAN'S "FAIR DEAL"

President Harry S. Truman, in his State of the Union Address, tripped up the predictors for the second time. The same false apostles who gleefully predicted his downfall on November 2 came up with a .000 batting average again on January 5.

They said: Truman will back down in his State of the Union Address to Congress . . . He will soft-pedal the strong charges and legislative requests he made during the campaign.

Truman said to Congress: Enact the Democratic legislative program proposed during the campaign . . . no compromises, no double talk! The people voted for that program; they deserve no less.

The American Federation of Labor supports these proposals of the President given in his State of the Union Address. Watch the bills as they come up for enactment and check your Congressmen's vote:

1. Outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. Restoration of the Wagner Act. Amendments to the Wagner Act.
2. Increased minimum wage. (HT asked no less than 75 cents . . . The AFL wants $1.00.)
3. Public Housing and slum clearance.
4. A strengthened Labor Department.
5. National Health Insurance.
6. Social Security . . . expanded and increased.
7. Federal Aid to education.
8. A balanced budget . . . taxation from upper income and corporate profits.
9. Standby inflation controls.
10. Strengthening free enterprise . . . protect and encourage small competitive business . . . curb restrictive monopolies.
11. Conservation and maximum utilization of natural resources.
12. Farm program of abundance with protection of farm prices.
13. Public Power and Rural Electrification expansion.
14. Protection of Civil Rights.

Truman said the American people voted for the many—not the privileged few. They voted for prosperity and against poverty. He said we must take steps to prevent—not weather—a depression. Depressions are man-made and can be man-prevented.

Organized labor takes its hat off to the President for laying out what he called a "FAIR DEAL" program. But it can't stop here. It's up to the millions of organized workers to let their Congressmen know how "the folks back home" feel about this program.

Turner Const. Co. announced that work on the proposed $9½ million office building for the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York would start soon. From plans by Shreve, Lamb & Harmon, the structure will be 25 stories, 133x207.

SOME INFORMATION THAT YOU MUST TELL TO YOUR FAMILY

That you have a social security card. Tell them where you keep it.

That in case of your death to take it to the nearest Social Security Administration Office and file a claim for benefits. It will save them time in starting the payments if they have your card.

That they don't have to pay anything to get benefits for them. At the nearest office of the Social Security Administration they will get—free of charge—all the help they need in filing a claim. If they don't know where the Social Security Administration office is, they can ask at the post office.

That if you die they may be eligible for monthly old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

That widows with children under 18 in their care get special consideration under the law. If you leave neither wife or child, but your parents are dependent upon you for support, tell your parents that if you die they may be eligible for monthly benefits at age 65. If you have no children, tell your wife or parents not to wait until they are 65 to file their claim for benefits; that they may be eligible for a lump sum death benefit, and the time for claiming this expires after two years.

That upon your death they should file their claim promptly. Survivors benefits are retroactive for only three months. If your family files their claim in the fourth month after you die they will lose one month's payment.

That benefit payments must be applied for.

That this insurance is not "charity" and is payable regardless of whether you own property, have money in a bank or have other income except wages under social security.

As a worker who is building protection on the job under this Federal Family Insurance program you should make it your business to TELL YOUR FAMILY. The worker who has told his family these things has taken the longest step he can to make sure the protection he is building for them will get to them.

In an effort to reduce traffic accidents along heavily-traveled highways, the California State Highway Department has approved the application of concrete coloring to sections of the new Cabrillo Freeway entering San Diego. The coloring is applied to highway leadoffs, thus making them more easily visible to approaching motorists.

The coloring material used on the job was concrete stain, which is not a surface paint but a chemical solution which penetrates the pores and through chemical reaction becomes a permanent part of the concrete itself.

ELIMINATE SUBSIDIES

What a pitiable plight the people in the United States are in. During the past several years they have paid billions of dollars in taxes to the federal government, which the government in turn gave to the farmers, either for not raising crops or as an inducement to raise more crops, so the farmers could charge the people more for their products.

Are the farmers demanding this price? A large percentage of them are not. They know that it is unjust and tends to corrupt, and the more intelligent ones realize that it undermines the economy of the country and eventually will work their destruction as well as the destruction of the United States.

The officers of some of the farm organizations are, however, demanding payment of the money to farmers. Can the people in the cities and villages do anything about it? They can ask Congress and the senate to eliminate subsidies to farmers. If the people in the cities and villages are ever to get this burden off their neck they must do it now, while the farmers are prosperous.

CORRECTION

Suspension for non-payment of dues of H. M. Sutton 25712 and his subsequent reinstatement, both published in the November 1948 issue of The Lather, have been cancelled because the procedure followed by Local 326 when placing the suspension was found, upon investigation, to have been contrary to the laws of the International.

CORRECTION

Through an oversight, Local 505 failed to report renewal of withdrawal card of F. W. Anger 36822 as of July 20, 1948. This withdrawal card has been deposited as of January 20, 1949.

CORRECTION

The apprentice indenture of Farris Buster Landfair of Local 513 was incorrectly reported to headquarters and published in the December 1948 number of The Lather as Buster Travis Landfair.

CORRECTION

Local 79 has now reported that Andrew (Charles) Brennen is the correct way to spell the name of their apprentice. He was originally indentured by Local 79 as Andrew Charles Brinner and published in the November 1948 issue of The Lather. Local 79 afterwards informed headquarters that his correct name is Andrew Charles Brennen and a correction of it was published in the February 1949 issue.

The Union Label adds the human factor to the material product.

ADVANTAGE OF EDUCATION

"Mandy," called Mrs. Hardboil. "Just come into the dining room a minute. Now look at this. I can write my name in the dust on this table."

"Yassum," replied Aunt Mandy. "Hit sho am great to hab a eddication."

EXACTITUDE

The story is told of a secretary with a passion for detail and exactness. It seems her boss died very suddenly and left an important business letter unmailed. Before mailing it, the secretary added the following explanatory note below her employer's signature: "Since writing the above, I have died."

Five Little Words

There are five little words, I'd have you know;
They are: "Pardon me," "Thank you," and "Please."
Oh, use them quite often wherever you go;
There are few words more useful than these.
These five little words are filled with a power
That money or fame cannot give.
So commit them to memory this very hour
And use them as long as you live!—Ex.

MORE IMPORTANT

Wife—Goodness, George, this is not our baby. This is the wrong carriage.

Hubby—Shut up. This carriage has rubber tires on it.

WELL DONE

"Hey, waiter, there's a button in this soup."

"A button! Oh, yes sir. We always make our soup out of dressed beef, sir."

Just outside a small Southern village, a speeding motorist was overhauled by a chin-whiskered constable.

"You were speedin' through our town, young fellow," the official complained. "Goin' well over thutty miles an hour."

"I don't see that you have any watch or other timing device," the city slicker craftily suggested. "How do you know I was going over thirty?"

"See this here hound?" the constable replied, pointing to a skinny, burr-covered old dog that had just arrived on the scene, and now lay panting at the hayseed's feet. "Well, that dog were a'chasin' yer, young fellow, and he couldn't catch up with you. And when that hound cant overhaul a fellow, he air goin' more than thutty miles an hour."

Although we all complain of the way time flies, we all sometimes make the mistake of wishing time away. We wish that days or weeks or years were over, because the future seems to be the only solution to present problems. It may be true that time heals all wounds; but in our humble opinion, you can go right on collecting new wounds, while time is healing the old ones, so you spend your life pining for the day that has not dawned.

It may be human nature to decay one's own time on earth and to think with longing of the rosier periods of the past, when life seemed less complex and more secure. Any student of history can demolish this theory in five minutes. Complexity has been with us always, and there has never been any security except that which the individual builds in his own soul. Many of the denizens of the twentieth century are in the habit of speaking slightly of it; yet there has never been such a stimulating, challenging, exciting time to be alive.

One cannot help wishing that the enthusiasm for the New Year could last for 365 days and that at the end of 1949 we could look back over it and remember the unforgettable things that happen in any year on earth, no matter what difficulties pursue the human race in its larger aspects. The world's days are only as evil as we let them be, and there are, invariably, mitigating circumstances. The looks of the world are conditioned by individual vision.

The best times are those that require the most of us, an anyway, what other time will we have to be alive?

OFFICIAL CALL to Twentieth Convention and Fiftieth Anniversary of The Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union

To All Affiliated Local Unions of
The Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers'
International Union

GREETINGS:

You are hereby officially notified that the Twentieth Convention and Fiftieth Anniversary of the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union will convene on Monday, September 12th, 1949, at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, California, and will remain in session until all official business, properly coming before the convention, has been disposed of.

Credentials and duplicate credentials for delegates and alternate delegates will be mailed to all secretaries.

Each credential must be signed by the President and the Secretary of the local union and the local seal must be attached.

The original delegate's credential must be given to the delegate elected and the original alternate delegate's credential must be given to the alternate delegate elected, for presentation to the Credentials Committee or the General Secretary-Treasurer at the convention.

Duplicates of delegates' and alternate delegates' credentials must be forwarded to headquarters immediately after delegates and alternate delegates have been elected by your local union.

Election of delegates must be held at least two weeks prior to the date on which our convention convenes.

Before electing delegates to our convention, we urge that you very carefully read the laws governing qualifications of delegates, as outlined in our International Constitution, Sections 195-202 inclusive, published on the next page.

Information on Hotel accommodations will be published at a later date. All delegates will be given all the information we can secure regarding their accommodations.

We are pleased to report that the headquarters for the Convention will be at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, California.

The sessions of the Convention will also be held in the Ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel, beginning Monday, September 12th, at ten a. m., and will continue from the 12th to the 16th inclusive. Headquarters of Secretary will be in Lobby of Ballroom.

Trusting that each local union will see its way clear to elect and send a delegate to our Twentieth Convention, I am with best wishes,

Fraternally yours,

Terry Ford
General Secretary-Treasurer

Laws Governing Qualifications of Delegates to Our Twentieth Convention

Before nominating and electing your delegates and alternate delegates, we urge that you very carefully read the following sections of The Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union constitution:

Sec. 195—The basis of representation shall be one delegate from each local. Each district council or state council shall have the right to send a delegate who shall be entitled to one vote for the council that he represents and that only. This does not in any way take away the right of any local union to send a delegate to the convention.

Sec. 196—A delegate and alternate delegate shall be elected at least two weeks previous to the time for the convening of a convention, and the name and International number of each delegate and each alternate delegate shall be forwarded to the General Secretary-Treasurer on duplicate credentials immediately after their election.

Sec. 197—If for any reason the delegate can not attend a convention, the regularly elected alternate delegate shall represent the local or council as its delegate.

Sec. 198—No delegate shall be entitled to a seat in a convention unless he has been a member in good standing in his local for three months prior to the election, and the per capita tax on the local paid in full to the month in which the convention is held.

Sec. 199—No delegate shall be entitled to a seat in convention unless he has been in continuous good standing in the International Union two (2) years prior to his election as a delegate.

Sec. 200—All delegates to the International Convention shall be strictly working journeymen; in other words, no Boss or Solicitor will be entitled to a seat in the convention.

Sec. 201—No organization which has seceded, or has been suspended or expelled, shall be allowed representation or recognition in a convention until all the rules of the International Union have been complied with.

Sec. 202—No local shall be allowed representation unless it has been organized one (1) year prior to a convention.

TO THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF THE WOOD, WIRE AND METAL LATHERS INTERNATIONAL UNION GREETINGS:

The selection of Los Angeles as site of our International Convention offers a splendid opportunity for us to combine business with pleasure.

Special arrangements have been completed which make it possible for the delegates and members of your Local Union and their families to enjoy a marvelous vacation in the West, at a big savings in time and money.

We have chartered a special train which will make a convention tour of the most outstanding scenic attractions in the West, including Pikes Peak, Royal Gorge, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Grand Canyon, and Carlsbad Caverns.

The special train will depart from Chicago, Monday, September 5, 1949. You will arrive in Los Angeles refreshed, in ample time for the opening of the convention.

Edward D. Corcoran, Jr.—Travel, 7 W. Madison Street, Chicago 2, Illinois, a specialist in handling large group movements, has been appointed official travel agent for the Illinois State Council for the trip to the convention. He will relieve you of the usual travel headaches connected with making Pullman and Hotel reservations, sightseeing and handling of baggage.

A trained Corcoran representative will serve as escort during the entire convention-vacation trip.

Any member and his family may join our group at any city on the way West by contacting Mr. Corcoran who will be able to give the cities where the train will make stops and the railroad time.

Relax in air-conditioned comfort as your luxurious rolling home speeds into the land of adventure. You discover quickly that nothing has been overlooked . . . from the lovely diner to the rollicking lounge. The next stop will begin a series of exciting adventures.

Second Day, Tuesday, September 6.

You awake in the morning to drink in a intoxicating view. No Hollywood technicolor extravaganza can hope to rival the majestic mountain landscape. At 10:42 P. M., you're comfortably established in your delightful quarters at The Alamo, world famous hostelry at Colorado Springs. But there's no time to lose. You have a date with immortal PIKE'S PEAK! You motor up, UP, UP the world's highest motor highway. All talk ceases at the top. It is an awesome moment. You're 14,108 feet above the rest of the world. Seas of clouds float lazily by. 60,000 square miles of mountain and plain extend below. Your return trip takes you to the Garden of the Gods. Painted Indian braves worshipped the Great Spirit in this sacred natural temple of worship. In the evening you have your choice of more sightseeing, or a generous helping of Colorado Springs gay night life. The Corcoran escort knows the sites like an open book, and he expertly steers you into the most exciting chapters.

Third Day, Wednesday, September 7

Oh what a beautiful morning! The tantalizing aroma of crisp frying bacon and hot coffee lures you to breakfast. At 10:45 A. M., we are bag and baggage back aboard our friendly train and on our way to famous Royal Gorge, superb masterpiece of Nature. You're amazed at the stupendous canyon, 2000 feet deep, ten miles long, and so narrow you can toss a stone from one side to the other. You hold your breath as you pass Hanging Bridge, internationally famous suspension bridge. Your rolling home speeds onward into the night and the West.

Fourth Day, Thursday, September 8.

You've slept like a kitten in air-conditioned slumberland. But not your train. It's covered a lot of ground . . . past the Continental Divide, backbone of the Rocky Mountains . . . round the bluffs of the Green River. Next stop: Salt Lake City, guarded by the majestic Wasatch Mountains. At 9:25 A. M. (CST), waiting coaches pick up your party and take you on a motortour of the famous Mormon city. Man made miracles form an inspiring panorama. The many-spired Mormon Temple, Brigham Young's home, the historic Lion and Beehive Houses. At the famous Tabernacle, built entirely without metal nails, the strains of the great organ thrill you with their divine eloquence. Special afternoon treat for those who so desire is a motor trip to Great Salt Lake, the celebrated "Dead Sea of America". Its waters are so impregnated with salt that it is impossible for bathers to sink. After an invigorating dip, there's still time for souvenirs, post cards, and candid camera shots. You return to your chartered car glowing with energy and ready for another lively Pullman party.

Fifth Day, Friday, September 9.

Admiring the picturesque scenery this morning through which your train passes we relax and enjoy breakfast, luncheon, and dinner in the diner. In the afternoon we pass through Feather River Canyon, one of the great scenic attractions of the west. The lights of San Francisco are beckoning us as our ferry carries us across San Francisco Bay. Transportation is waiting at the foot of famous Market Street to take us to our hotel, the Plaza.

Sixth Day, Saturday, September 10.

Breakfast over and before us is a day in fascinating San Francisco. Through a magic blend of steep hills, quaint cable cars, fragrant flowers, we're off . . . to Telegraph Hill . . . Civic Center . . . Mission Dolores . . . Twin Peaks. To Golden Gate Park with its charming Dutch windmills, Japanese Tea Garden . . . on to the Presidio and breathtaking Golden Gate itself, spanned by two amazing bridges, and then we come back through CHINATOWN with its oriental splendor. Afterward we have a free afternoon to explore the shops of this cosmopolitan city or Fisherman's Wharf, and we must see the city from the cocktail lounge atop the Mark Hopkins Hotel. Time whizzes by and at 7:50 P. M. we're off down the gorgeous coast as the sun drops into the bronzed Pacific, and stalwart Redwoods guard our peaceful slumber.

Seventh Day, Sunday, September 11.

At 8:00 A. M. our train rolls slowly to a stop at the Los Angeles Union Depot from which we leave for our respective hotels, fit and ready for the Convention. Hotel accommodations at Los Angeles are not part of the convention tour. They will be arranged for through the Housing Committee of the Convention.

Thirteenth Day, Saturday, September 17-

At 11:30 A. M. your party reassembles at the depot to leave Los Angeles for the journey home. The panorama of beautiful Southern California unfolds as miles of colorful vineyards, orchards and orange groves fly by. You relax in the pleasure of your ultra comfortable seat and chat of tomorrow's scenic wonder—THE GRAND CANYON.

Fourteenth Day, Sunday, September 18.

"First call for breakfast!" The Arizona air is invigorating, so you hurry to the diner. M-m-m, what a meal! You're still smacking your lips when you arrive at renowned Grand Canyon. The great chasm lies glittering in the sunlight like a submerged continent, drowned by an ocean that has ebbed away. What a setting for those who wish to attend Mass with this wondrous work of the Almighty as a backdrop. From the lofty rim, you look down upon the soul-stirring scene. The stupendous canyon yawns twelve miles wide, with sheer walls rising nearly 3,000 feet high. The Colorado River winds like a silvery thread a full mile below. Everything is bathed in a magnificently multi-colored light. You lunch at delightful Bright Angel Lodge, after which your time is your own for exploring the many footpaths, motor roads and bridle trails. Later the Hopi Indians stage a ceremonial dance in their best war paint and feathers. Camera fans click their shutters furiously!

Fifteenth Day, Monday, September 19.

Sleep late this morning and then enjoy the many comforts of the lounge and club cars on the train while you speed through the vast desert-lands of New Mexico.

Sixteenth Day, Tuesday, September 20.

Picturesque Carlsbad, New Mexico! We stole through the western town to the La Caverna Hotel for a delicious breakfast. The brilliant morning sun dances ahead of your coach as you motor to Carlsbad Caverns. You go down into the Caverns . . . down, down, down. 800 feet below, you are spellbound by a scene of haunting beauty. It is a veritable underground fairyland. All around you are celestial marvels . . . petrified waterfalls, eerie birds and animals, profiles of famous persons, and monumental images fashioned by ageless limestone waters. Soft lights illuminate the most beautiful subterranean chambers man has ever seen. The King's Room, Queen's Chamber, Papoose Room, and the Giant Dome—a forest of giant stone totem poles, fountains frozen in stone, and huge lily pads. The majestic Rock of Ages, a million years old. Seated in a tremendous underground amphitheatre you experience an unforgettable sensation when the lights are extinguished. Eternity hushes your lips! At 7:00 P. M. we board our train for the final lap to Chicago.

Seventeenth Day, Wednesday, September 21.

When on this day you relax, you yourself can't believe that so much has been done in such a short time and at so little cost. As your train rolls through the great states of Oklahoma and Kansas you thrill at the vastness of our great plains and the mighty bread basket of America. Some of our friends from Kansas City will be leaving us tonight as we reach that point at 9:00 P. M.

Eighteenth Day, Thursday, September 22.

The miles fly by on wings. After a hearty breakfast in the diner, you join your friends in an exchange of home addresses, snapshots, yarns and pleasantries. Before you know it, it's 8:45 A. M. and you're in La Salle Street Station, Chicago. The convention-vacation tour is over but not the memory of eighteen grand days and a thousand glorious experiences which will remain forever in your mind and your heart.

ANOTHER RAP FOR THE STOVE!

When three little children die in fire in makeshift living quarters, it is important to determine the cause.

But what's the use of saying that the fire was caused by the heating stove and stopping there? Stoves are intended to get hot.

It's easy to be misled. It's easy to blame the stove, close the case and trust to luck for the future.

But it's wiser to look deeper for the real cause of the tragedy so preventive steps may be taken.

When one disastrous fire after another occurs in houses that lack a reasonable minimum of fire resistance in the interior walls and ceilings, the real cause becomes apparent.

If it were only a lack of resistance, that would be hazard enough. But when the combustible substitute materials used add fuel, what difference does it make whether the spark that starts the fire comes from the stove or any other source? The fuel is there; the stage is set!

Until it is fully realized that combustible wall finish materials are fire hazards, the lesson in the deaths of three children goes unheeded.

There is no excuse for the loss of a single life in fire. Fire prevention experts declare repeatedly that every fire is preventable. That is true in theory, but as long as people act like people we must expect fires.

What we can do is to require sufficient fire safety built into dwellings so the occupants have a reasonable time to get out in case of fire and so the firemen have a fair chance to save the property.

The essential protection can be had for every family. It may be thirty minutes! it may be more, or it may be less. There is no need to guess. There is available expert, impartial authority on the subject.

Let's stop guessing that the stove caused the fire.

Let's place the blame where it belongs—on the use of combustible substitute materials that prove themselves, when the fire starts, to be nothing more than fuel for the flames.

Let's consult experts and agree on the reasonable minimum degree of fire protection; in other words, how much chance do we give a sleeping child.

Then let's adopt a building code that incorporates and maintains the fundamentals of fire safety as the standards of good construction.

"STUCCO IS COMING BACK"

During February and March, newspapers from coast to coast heralded the return of stucco's popularity as a building material. Millions of readers learned that stucco—its ingredients and its methods—have been improved over the last twenty years. They learned that today's stucco is a steel reinforced concrete wall, fireproof, vermin proof, with definite insulation quality, low in original cost, inexpensive to maintain. And they learned of stucco's reappearance in Green Bay, Cleveland, Sioux Falls, Portland, Colorado Springs, and other cities.

Appreciable savings in exterior finishing are turning progressive builders to reinforced stucco in 1949 building plans. At South Bend, Indiana, Place & Company is just one of the builders who is including stuccoed homes in this year's building. At Montgomery, Alabama, Folmar & Flinn, operative builders, have just started work on a 34-unit stuccoed apartment house. This will be similar in construction to the apartments built last year finished with reinforced stucco, now renting in the neighborhood of $50.00 monthly.

At Toledo, Ohio, Great Lakes Homes, Inc. tried reinforced stucco last fall and is including this type construction in this year's operations. At Salt Lake City, Alan Brockbank of Federal Homes, Inc. will complete his test of reinforced stucco over open frame construction as soon as mild weather comes. This started last fall with the approval of the F. H. A.

The return of stucco to popularity offers a new opportunity to plastering contractors.

Journeyman lathers can make more jobs for themselves by boosting stucco. It helps our own craft. Every stucco house built adds not only the number of man hours to lath the outside—but also gives the lather the inside job too.

Today, contractors are forced to cut costs to build houses that will sell. They must produce strong, good-looking homes that people can afford. Reinforced stucco today makes this kind of home possible. And it offers more work for the lathing craft. So let's "push" it!!

The representatives of Keystone Steel & Wire Co. are doing a good job throughout the United States on the promotion of Exterior Stucco.

One of the biggest single housing developments ever undertaken is now nearing completion in New York City's lower East Side. It is the result of joint cooperation between private enterprise, the State, and the City.

Four years ago, the 80 acres now occupied by Peter Cooper Village and the adjacent Stuyvesant Town were burdened with shabby, ugly tenements and factories, many vacant and dilapidated. The plan carried out by a leading life insurance company has transformed this blighted slum area into a dream-city within a city . . . modern, roomy living quarters for 31,000 people.

This is a good example of what can be done to attack the housing shortage—and an example of what is being done in many parts of the nation.

THE VOICE OF SILENCE

By Ruth Taylor

'Silence may be far more eloquent than speech. It may shout more loudly than a strident voice. It may be more expressive than the most grandiloquent oratory. It may damn by the omission of praise—or it may grant consent to the most nefarious of acts.

The Psalmist said: "These things hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself."

If we keep silent when we see a wrong committed, we give consent to it and we become an accessory after the fact. "Speech may be silver and silence golden" but when silence abets a wrong, its gold is as dross.

"There is a time to keep silence, and a time to speak," and now when the world is torn by cruelties again, when the forces of evil are chafing at their chains, is the time for speech. It was Mr. Justice Holmes who said: "The greatest menace to freedom is an inert people."

It was the silence of the German people while Hitler rose to power and committed his first acts of cruelty that condemned them. It was the silence of the Communists and their fellow-travellers when the Soviet first thrust out its tentacles to enslave neighboring nations which condemned them.

If we are silent in the face of evil, we too are condemned. If we believe in the principles laid down in our own Constitution and above all in those statements of freedom given utterance in the Bill of Rights, we cannot keep silent. When freedom is threatened anywhere, we must speak out, and when religion—no matter the creed—is attacked, we can not remain silent.

It is not a matter of taking sides. It is the coming to the defense of right against wrong, of justice against injustice, of liberty against oppression, of religion against paganism, of the sanctity of the individual against the supremacy of the State.

Americans don't compromise or bargain with another person's rights or freedoms. When we keep quiet when we should speak out, we aid in selling our brother down the river. Let the people be good, and the government cannot be bad.

Now is the time to speak out for those principles of equality and freedom for all, which are the cornerstone of our liberty. Let not the thunders of silence condemn us!

What we need is a nation-wide housing program, which will expand the building materials and construction industries, and integrate them with low-cost mortgage financing, and sound tax and rental policies.

BRACE-TITE LATHING SYSTEM
for Suspended Ceilings

USG's new BRACE-TITE Lathing System gives you all the advantages of ROCKLATH plaster base—plus the desirable features of suspended ceiling construction. It is easily adjusted to the contractor's working methods because no special tools are used, and no time-consuming training is required for either lathers or plasterers.

BRACE-TITE is adaptable, economical, and easy to install—and the plaster will be stronger, because it's wire-reinforced with BRACE-TITE clips that join each other in a lock-like action. Standard channels, hot- or cold-rolled, and conventional 12-inch or 16-inch spacing are used. USG provides all the materials for the complete system... USG has entire product responsibility.

Economical—because material cost is low, and BRACE-TITE ceilings go up so rapidly that installation expense can be held to a minimum.

Only 1/2 inch of plaster required—can be applied in just two coats! You can double back!

Ask your USG representative about the new BRACE-TITE Lathing System... and be sure to ask him for a copy of the new BRACE-TITE Specification Folder next time you see him.

HOW FLEETING

The following data first appeared in the columns of the "Investment Dealer's Digest." We think it worthy of a little thought.

"In 1923 a group of the world's most successful financiers met at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago. Present were:

"The president of the largest independent steel company.

"The president of the largest utility company.

"The greatest wheat speculator.

"The president of the New York Stock Exchange.

"A member of the President's cabinet.

"The greatest 'bear' in Wall Street.

"The president of the Bank of International Settlements.

"The head of the world's greatest monopoly.

"Collectively these tycoons controlled more wealth than there was in the United States Treasury.

"Twenty-five years later let's see what had happened to these men.

"The president of the largest independent steel company—Charles Schwab—lived on borrowed money the last five years of his life and died broke.

"The greatest wheat speculator—Arthur Cutten—died abroad, insolvent.

"The president of the New York Stock Exchange—Richard Whitney—served a term in Sing Sing.

"The member of the President's cabinet—Albert Fall—was pardoned from prison so he could die at home.

"The greatest 'bear' in Wall Street—Jesse Livermore—committed suicide.

"The president of the Bank of International Settlements—Leon Frazer—committed suicide.

"The head of the world's largest monopoly—Ivar Kreuger—committed suicide.

"All of these men had leaped how to make money, but not how to save it or how to live."

There's a lot of loose talk about what is causing our present high prices. We don't profess to know all the answers. But here are what we believe to be definite reasons for today's high price tags:

Government's spending more than it took in.

Necessary shooting away of about half the country's production in the war years—the extra bonds and money printed during the war to pay for that war production.

High cost of government—taking almost 20 per cent of the country's production and income for its own purposes.

Paying subsidies to put and keep prices up—even in a seller's market.

Too-anxious consumer demand.

Needed aid to Europe, and the new re-armament program.

Webster's Dictionary defines the "dollar" as "the monetary unit of the United States, and some other countries on a gold standard, equal to 100 cents." Time was, before World War Two, when that was true, but not today.

Today's dollar, compared to what the pre-war dollar would buy, gets you only about 57 cents worth of goods.

The meat dollar buys only the same amount of meat that 28 cents would buy before the war.

The clothing dollar buys only 56 cents worth of clothing.

The coal dollar buys only 51 cents worth of coal.

The grain dollar buys only 27 cents worth of bread and cereal.

The building dollar only 45 cents worth of house construction.

The auto dollar only 54 cents worth of auto.

The steel dollar only 58 cents worth of steel.

The gasoline dollar only 42 cents worth of gas.

It seems quite clear the DOLLAR IS NO LONGER "EQUAL TO 100 CENTS." Some one should re-write the dictionary.—ITU News.

It is folly for an eminent man to think of escaping censure, and a weakness for him to be affected by it.—Addison.

WHAT IS A BOY?

After a male baby has grown out of long clothes and triangles and has acquired pants, freckles, and so much dirt that relatives do not dare to kiss it between meals, it becomes a boy.

A boy is nature's answer to that false belief that there is no such thing as perpetual motion. The world is so full of boys that it is impossible to touch off a firecracker, strike up a band, or pitch a ball game without collecting about a thousand of them.

Boys are not ornamental. They are useful. If it were not for boys, the newspapers would go undelivered and unread, and a thousand picture shows would go bankrupt. Boys are useful in running errands. The zest with which a boy does an errand is equaled only by the speed of a turtle on a July day.

The boy is a natural spectator. He watches parades, fires, fights, ball games, automobiles, boats and airplanes with equal fervor. Although he does not watch the clock, he has an uncanny ability to show up at supper time.

A boy is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite, and he eats only when awake. He is a growing animal of superlative promise, to be fed, watered and kept warm; a joy forever, a nuisance, the problem of our times, the hope of a nation.

A noise covered with smudges, he is called a tornado because he comes in at the most unexpected times, hits the most unexpected places, and leaves everything a wreck behind him.

Boys faithfully imitate their dads in spite of all efforts to teach them good manners.

Boys are not popular except with their own parents, but they do have many fine qualities. You can absolutely rely on a boy if you know what to rely on.

Boys are very durable. A boy, if not washed too often and if kept in a cool, quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, hornets, swimming holes, fights and nine helpings of pie.

A boy loves to trade things for anything that is priceless or worthless. When he grows up he will trade puppy love, energy, warts, bashfulness and cast-iron stomach for a bay window, pride, ambition, pretense, and a bald head—and will immediately begin to say that boys are not what they were in the good old days.—Apex Hourglass.

A depression consists, in reality, of a lot of sellers holding out for prices buyers aren't paying—mostly, of course, because in the seller's opinion they "can't" sell for less. But ultimately, after enough squeezing, they do. So why not sooner, and keep production going on?

The impression could readily be conveyed to both labor and management that making and selling things for the best price you can get is a lot more profitable than idleness. If everybody did that, there could be no depression. It is hardly to be hoped that such a thought would appeal to the tax squanderers at Washington.

The average American is told that 1949 will be another good year, and the forecast seems sound.

This is the meaning of the statistics which the economists gather for us at the year-end. These figures show that 1948 was a record year by nearly every index of economic activity.

The American consumer—and that describes most of us—may find 1949 more comfortable than the record boom year of 1948.

The business man is likely to have a few more worries, but the men and women who have been struggling with the high cost of living probably will find it easier to make their budgets work.

Underlying all this is the prospect that 1949 will see the return of the buyers' market in most lines. The man with a dollar will decide in a leisurely way where he will spend it, after shopping around for a price tag he likes.

The biggest bargain in the world's history was the discovery of America. According to the account books of the Brothers Pinzon—Martin and Vicente—who commanded the Pinta and Nina respectively, the total cost of Columbus' first expedition was about 36,000 pesetas, or a little over $7,000 in the money of today. (It was the Pinzons, rather than Queen Isabella, who bore the greater part of the cost of operating two of the ships as well as the cost of operating and maintaining them). Columbus, is his capacity of commander, received 1500 pesetas, or about $300 a year, and his two captains 900 pesetas. The members of the crew received about $2.50 a month in pay, and their food cost $1.50 a month per man.

THE BIG TOWN

Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City governs more people than live in many a sovereign nation. New York has more Irish than Dublin, more Jews than Palestine, almost as many Italians as Rome. It has 412,000 Poles, 57,000 Czechs, 54,000 Norwegians, 53,000 Greeks, half a million Negroes, almost a quarter-million Puerto Ricans. Mayor O'Dwyer is also the commander of a sizable army—19,000 policemen, 11,000 firemen, 120,000 other municipal employees.

In a single day, New York City uses over one billion gallons of water, imports 23,500 tons of food, spews out one billion gallons of sewage and over 8,000 tons garbage. In winter, it needs 20 million gallons of fuel oil. Six million people travel daily on its 237 miles of subway and elevated lines, one and a half million on its surface transport lines. Some 400,000 commuters stream into Manhattan daily from the suburbs of Long Island, New Jersey, Westchester County and Connecticut—a train arrives in its stations every 50 seconds, day and night.

For every three farmers in the United States there is some one behind a counter. For every four workmen in the factories of the United States there is a store clerk or a store manager or a store owner waiting to sell what the workmen produce. For every 40 families in the United States there is a retail store. Struggling under his heavy burden these American families have discovered that the job can not be done by having only one member of the family at work.

It has actually come about that dad, who used to feed and clothe the old-fashioned American family of five persons, has found himself unable to hold up his end. Census figures indicate that at least one member of the family must assist dad to do the father's part in keeping the retail stores in his community alive.

It seems ridiculous that America has, and still is proposing billions of dollars for what the government entitles European aid. But of course the apparently sole purpose for all of this aid is to stop the Communistic spread of aggression and propaganda.

But at the same time America has, almost up to the end of 1947, sent electrical and farm machinery, raw material, food, oil, petroleum and even money to Russia. I was under the impression that Russia was to return some of the "lend-lease" that she received during the war.

America is sort of defeating her own cause trying to finance and feed Europe, and at the same time supply Russia with the tools that will help the Communists. Weren't we doing the same thing for Japan before Pearl Harbor happened along? The only difference was that the material was called "scrap," but it came back in a different form.

HOW ABOUT THE LOBBYISTS?

In the early days of this session of Congress we heard some sound and fury about investigating the lobbyists who infest Capitol Hill. What's become of these intentions to investigate?

Reports from Washington indicate that Senator Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia is on the right trail. We may expect to hear any time that a full scale lobby-hunt is under way. Senator Kilgore is an able investigator and a hard worker. We may well expect good results under his leadership.

We think it would be healthy for Congress and for the country to have held up to public view the lobby situation. The present laws seem to be too loose, to have too many loopholes. There is a lot of lobbying going on right now that is not officially reported. How about tightening these parts of the law Senators?

We await with patience—and a good deal of interest—for the lobby investigation to start. It is long overdue!

GERMAN WAR CRIMINALS

The recent report of the Department of the Army in the case of the German war criminals, representing clemency for many, is a indication of how rapidly we forget the horrors of the concentration camp.

The war criminals were prosecuted under procedures which were set up to give justice and fairness to the defendants. In fact, there was impatience in this country as well as in other victorious nations over the slowness with which military justice seemed to be moving. But we were told that the rights of the defendants had to be protected, even though many of us thought that the Army was a little overzealous in its solicitude for those who had been guilty of infamous crimes during wartime.

And now it is a bit disillusioning to hear these pleas for mercy made on behalf of the Nazi criminals of Dachau and Buchenwald. The plea for reduction in sentence of Frau Ilse of the infamous Buchenwald camp is particularly odious.

The outcries from members of Congress at these situations seem to us quite justified. We hope that Congress does look into the military justice matter and get to the bottom of the situation. The American people deserve to know why Nazi criminals are to be let off with greatly reduced sentences.

IN A NUTSHELL

Under a democratic form of government you have a right to choose the job you want, and to leave it when you wish. You have the right to spend or save, as you will. You have the right to speak your mind or hold your peace as you choose. You have the right to work as much as you see fit, and to be paid in proportion to your work.

In other words, you are free.

And what are the other fruits of capitalism under a democracy?

Well, the next time some fast talker tries to tell you how fine it is to live under a "planned" economy, and how tough it is to survive under the free American way, tell him this: With only 6% of the world's people, we have . . . 46% of the world's electric power . . . 48% of the world's radios . . . 54% of the world's telephones . . . 59% of the world's steel capacity . . . 60% of the world's life insurance . . . 85% of the world's automobiles . . . and 60,000,000 people employed, not as slaves, but as volunteers.

We don't think our way of life is perfect. We admit there's room for improvement—but so far, the American way is the best way yet developed to give you the incentive to apply yourself to your job—to give you control over the rewards of your work—to enable you to enjoy the pleasures of houses, automobiles, refrigerators and vacations—to let you live and move in dignity and freedom.

Let's strive to make our way of life better—but, meanwhile, let's be sure to keep it as good as it already is.

WIT and HUMOR

Slight Error

Customer: "You made a mistake in that prescription you gave my wife. Instead of quinine you used strychnine."

Druggist: "You don't say. Then you owe me 20 cents more."

A Good Turner

A woman approached the Pearly Gates and spoke to St. Peter.

"Do you know if my husband is here? His name is Smith."

"Lady, we have lots of them here. You'll have to be more specific."

"Joe Smith."

"Lotsa those too. You'll have to have more identification."

"Well, when he died he said that if I was untrue to him, he'd turn over in his grave."

"Oh, you mean 'Pinwheel Smith.'"

Fowl Play

"Give me a chicken salad sandwich," said the baker.

"Do you want the 40-cent one or the 50-cent one?" asked the waitress.

"What's the difference?"

"The 40-cent ones are made of veal and pork, and the 50-cent ones are made of tuna."

"I came to ask your daughter's hand in marriage," the young man stammered.

"How much you you make a week?" the girl's father demanded.

"Twenty-one fifty."

"Great Scott, that wouldn't keep my daughter in handkerchiefs."

"Gee whiz," replied the suitor, "if she's got a nose like that—just skip it."

Lonely Place, Heaven

Willie: "Mama, do people that lie ever go to heaven?"

Mother: "Why, of course not, Willie."

Willie: "Gee! I bet it's lonesome up in heaven with only God and George Washington."

Glamour is what gals attempt to obtain by purchasing sweaters one size too small.

Stop and let the train go by, it hardly takes a minute. Your car starts off again intact and better still you're in it.

Lola and family took advantage of vacation and good fishing weather and went on a fishing trip last Saturday. A good time was had by all, though they were all tired when they reached home. Yes, they did catch some fish!

Time for Reform

Little Boy in Woodshed: "Father, did grandpa spank you when you were a little boy?"

Father (with paddle): "Yes, my son."

Little Boy: "And did great-grandpa spank grandpa when he was a little boy?"

Father: "Yes, son."

Boy: "And did great-great-grandpa spank great-grandpa?"

Father: "Yes."

Boy: "Well, don't you think with my help you could overcome this inherited rowdiness?"

No Sales Resistance

"Ruth," moaned her long-suffering husband, "you promised you wouldn't buy a new dress. What made you do it?"

"Dear," replied the modern Eve, "the devil tempted me."

"Why didn't you say: 'Get thee behind me, Satan?'" the poor man inquired.

"I did," the woman replied sweetly, "and then he whispered over my shoulder: 'My dear, it fits you just beautifully in the back.'"

Fad: Something that goes in one era and out the other.

Hobby: An endless amount of hard work that you would be ashamed to do for a living.

"Yes," said the boarder, after vainly attempting to carve the spring chicken, "the hen is mightier than the sword."

THE WORLD'S GREATEST LABOR-MANAGEMENT SHOW

GOOD RELATIONS—THE GOAL OF UNION INDUSTRIES SHOW

"Good Relations" is the goal of the Union Industries Show. The fourth all-union AFL exhibition will be held May 18th through the 22nd in the mammoth Public Auditorium at Cleveland, Ohio. Consumers — especially trade unionists — will get a big thrill when they see the coming spectacular event.

Only a brief review of the numerous attractions will give a partial description of our unique labor-management exhibition. The five-day cavalcade is packed with action, exhibits and huge crowds from the opening ceremonies to the conclusion of the Show.

The Union Industries Show is a dramatized presentation of all things union. It is dynamic — educational — interesting. Entertainment is furnished every hour during the day and night sessions of the Show. The best musicians in the world — union members — add to the gaiety of the event with their sparkling and refreshing melodies.

It is inspiring to visually witness "live" exhibits where pottery and bakery workers, cigar makers, electricians and other skilled union craftsmen actually make the wares that made America famous throughout the world and actually see demonstrations of the best in services efficiently performed by union workers.

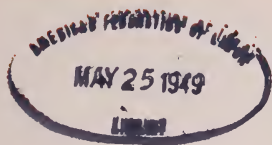

Manufacturers of nationally-known products also have animated exhibits which give life to the entire exhibition. There are many joint displays which are sponsored by both union labor and management.

The exhibitors and all who attend a Union Industries Show agree that it is a cardinal event in the history of American labor-management cooperation. Through mutual understanding, such as is exemplified in one of our outstanding exhibitions, we are paving the road to industrial peace, economic stability and permanent prosperity for America.

You can't afford to miss the

The Pressures On Congress

By JOSEPH D. KEENAN, Director

Labor's League for Political Education

The election last November was proof that the American people resented the attitude of the 80th Congress in refusing to pass much needed social legislation and in passing the un-American Taft-Hartley Act.

Yet, the same special interest lobbies which controlled the 80th Congress are swamping this Congress with a deluge of propaganda designed to mislead Congressmen into thinking that the American people don't want rent control or low housing . . . that Social Security and aid to education are communistic . . . that the Taft-Hartley Act is a fair law.

When I returned to Washington last week, I found my desk stacked with samples of what every Congressman gets in his mail every day. For instance, a leaflet called The Iron Curtain, prepared by Maurice Franks of the notorious National Labor-Management Foundation, calls the AFL attack on the Taft-Hartley Act a "Russian-style Iron Curtain . . . 'slave labor law' is a phony slogan." The leaflet says "The Labor big shots are telling Congress what they want, now it's time to tell Congress what you want. It is time to let go at them with a snowstorm of letters."

A General Electric Questionnaire, which is as loaded and as biased as the thoroughly repudiated Look Magazine questionnaire of 1947, is made up so that "individuals" can fill out the questionnaire, sign their names and send it to their Congressmen. The Employers' Association of Chicago, as well as other business groups throughout the country, have re-printed this same questionnaire as their own for distribution to their employees. On one sample I have, the employer even provided an envelope on which the Congressman's name and address were already printed. This same questionnaire was used by radio commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr. as a "Quiz program" on February 24th.

Since Gerald Reilly, back-stage author of the Taft-Hartley Act, is now General Electric's $3,000 a month lobbyist, it appears that this company is rallying the anti-labor forces of big business.

Some of the mail-lobbying is even going on by Congressmen themselves. Anti-labor Representative Ralph Gwinn, New York, is setting a new record in his abuse of Congressional free-mailing privileges. He is sending out 2,250,000 copies of speeches in 900,000 letters attacking rent control, public housing, and federal aid to education. Gwinn's propaganda venture will cost the tax payers approximately $31,000. All that Gwinn and his friends had to pay was a little less than $8,000 in cut-rate printing charges. It is reported that this mailing campaign is in behalf of the Committee for Constitutional Government and the Nat'l Apartment Owners' Association.

LLPE firmly believes that the voters expressed their will effectively last November. We had hoped that this Congress might enact the "Fair Deal" and repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act without interference from outside pressure. But the pressure is worse than ever. Fortunately there are also personal sincere letters from the trade unionists and ordinary citizens back home assuring the liberal Congressmen that the people are with them and will be out voting for them next election day. A personal letter from an AFL voter back home is worth a bundle of form letters from professional labor-baiters.

Delegates attending the Convention can make their reservations by applying to Mr. Allen K. Pollock, Manager of the Convention and Visitors Bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, 1151 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California or through the Local Committee of which L. A. Mashburn, 536 Maple Avenue, Los Angeles 13, California is the chairman.

In making their reservations, delegates will please specify which hotel they wish to be housed in and also whether they want a single, double or triple room.

All inquiries in regard to the housing of delegates and room reservations should be directed to brother Mashburn, Chairman of the Local Committee, or to Mr. Pollock of the Convention and Visitors Bureau.

We advise all delegates to make their reservations as early as possible.

TERRY FORD.

IMPORTANT

1. Organizations must make individual contracts with any or all of the above hotels within 30 days from the date appearing hereon, or these rooms will not be held.
2. As a protection both to the delegate and the hotel, most of the hotels require a minimum deposit of $5.00 per room for all definite convention room reservations. Any unused portion of this deposit will be refunded by the hotel.
3. In the event of cancellation, deposit will be refunded only if hotel is notified 7 DAYS prior to the date of reservation.
4. 30 days prior to the opening date of the convention, if LESS than 50% of rooms allotted have been assigned, all unassigned rooms will be automatically released. If 50% or more are covered by definite reservations, the balance of the allotment is retained until 15 days prior to the opening date, at which time all unassigned rooms are automatically released to the hotel.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

From time to time, "The Lather" has printed short articles on Social Security. We have reminded you of the importance of your Social Security card and why at age 65 or when a death occurs in your family you should go to the office of the Social Security Administration nearest your home.

In these articles, there has been little written about how much a worker and his wife would receive in the way of Social Security benefits, and how the benefits are figured. The local Social Security office thought it would be a good idea to explain these things to our members, and willingly assisted us in preparing this short article.

To qualify for retirement benefits, a worker must be fully insured. To be fully insured, a wage earner must have been paid at least $50.00 in work covered by the Social Security Act in at least half the number of calendar quarters since January 1, 1937, to the time he dies or reaches age 65.

Now, let's look at an imaginary case, which illustrates how benefits are paid. Mr. Lather Jones, who has worked as a lather for the past 45 years, decides to retire. He attains his 65th birthday on March 4, 1949, and goes to the Social Security office on March 5, 1949, to file his claim. As Lather Jones had worked steadily since Jan. 1, 1937, he has many more than the 24 quarters necessary to be fully insured.

Lather Jones has made good money over the years, and his average monthly wage under Social Security is $250.00 from Jan. 1, 1937, through Feb. 1949. Actually, he had earned more than $250.00 a month, but Social Security taxes are deducted on only the first $3000.00 of wages paid in each year. Therefore, only $250.00 average monthly income can be used in figuring the benefit.

It was further explained to Mr. Jones that a formula is applied to his average monthly wage to arrive at his monthly benefit. This is the way it was shown to Mr. Jones.

IS ..... $250.00
TAKE

40% of the first $50.00 ..... $20.00

10% of the rest $200.00 ..... $20.00

Mr. Jones's basic benefit is ..... $40.00

Then 1% (of the basic benefit) is added to the basic benefit for each year in which Mr.
Jones earned $200.00 or more (13 yrs.) $5.20

Mr. Jones' benefit check is ..... $45.20

The wife of Mr. Jones (she is over 65) receives one half of Mr. Jones' benefit in the amount of ..... $22.60

Total they will receive each month ..... $67.80

Mr. and Mrs. Jones will receive $67.80 a month as long as they live. Of course, if Mr. Jones returns to work in a job covered by the Social Security Act, and earns more than $14.99 a month, he and his wife will not be eligible to receive benefits in the month or months he works. As soon as he quits working, his Social Security benefits will be resumed.

SPEAKERS FROM THE SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

We have recently learned of a Public Service provided by the Social Security Administration which we believe will be of interest to the various locals.

In order to prevent loss of benefits, and to bring about a better understanding of our Social Security law, the field offices of the Social Security Administration will gladly furnish a speaker for any group meeting, free of charge.

As our members all work in employment covered by the Social Security Administration Act, it is to their advantage to know as much as possible about benefits which they may be entitled to receive.

We believe that the Local Secretaries, or program chairmen, will desire to contact the Social Security office nearest their meeting hall, and arrange for a speaker to appear at a regular meeting.

DO YOU KNOW!

That, throughout its 67-year history, the American Federation of Labor has been the most powerful, the most consistent foe of Communism in America?

That, before the turn of the century, Samuel Gompers, founder of the AFL, resisted all Red encroachment efforts?

That, in 1920, the AFL monthly magazine ran a cartoon showing "Commies" being booted out of a building labeled "A. F. of L."

That, in 1933, the Federation officially opposed American recognition of Soviet Russia as a dictatorship with slave labor, as the antithesis of all that America cherishes, disclosed the Hitler menace, and opposed shipment of scrap iron to Japan?

That William Green, president of the AFL, recently said: "Communism is a curse upon humanity which degrades the citizen into the status of a slave and makes the state his master."

That credentials committees at AFL conventions carefully search out any Communists who have evaded detection, and refuse to seat them? (Retail Clerk's Advocate).

For the first time in history women outnumber men in the United States.

The latest figures, for 1947, show there were 992 males for every 1,000 females. In 1910 there were 1,060 men for every 1,000 women.

Reason for the change in sex ratio is due mainly to the shutdown on immigration, the statisticians believe. During past years when immigration was high many more men than women came to this country.

IT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE

For what meager comfort it may afford in these days of spiraling costs, it should be noted that prices have been higher within the memory of living men. Seventy years ago when the country was in the grip of post-Civil war inflation, prices were higher dollar for dollar on many items than they are today.

From 1712 America began experiencing inflation, known to the ancient world as well as the modern. High prices as well as taxes brought on the Revolution.

World War I brought a major upheaval in world economy, second only to that which the world is experiencing from World War II. Commodity prices rose in America. In a short space America changed from the world's greatest borrower to the world's greatest lender.

Most of the post-war rise in prices came from the release of gold to America by the rest of the world. Everywhere there was conviction that prices would not drop again and wild speculation was on the loose again.

Depression came in 1920. From 1922 to 1929 prices rose. Again came a period of speculation and, as night follows the day, again came the crash—the disastrous slump of 1929 which ushered in the New Deal.

The New Deal was falling in the depression of 1937, when war sent prices upward. In World War II the United States graduated from the world's greatest lender to the world's greatest giver away.

The post-war inflation is now on. Again there are cries against the high cost of living.

Again there is mounting belief that prices never will fall again. But there are warnings from the students of the past that it has happened before and will happen again, because there is nothing new under the sun.

DOUBLE-STANDARD MYTH

(M. D. Danish, Justice)

A double-standard myth has been carefully nurtured by the commercial press to the effect that a labor man is always biased and should never be appointed to government office except as an "adviser."

A perfect example of this attitude was furnished at the Senate hearings last year when Senator Taft had the effrontery to ask Typographical Union Officer Ralph Wright how he could possibly serve the public impartially if he were appointed Assistant Secretary of Labor.

Wright politely answered that when a trade unionist took an oath to impartially uphold the public interest he could live up to that oath as well as any other citizen. . . . In our little book, Mr. Wright was entirely too polite.

GENERAL PRESIDENT McSORLEY HONORED BY U. S. GOVERNMENT

As the Journal goes to press, we received the good news that General President McSorley was appointed to represent our government at the International Labor Organization meeting in Geneva, Switzerland.

We are pleased that our organization has been given recognition by the appointment of our General President as delegate to this meeting.

General President McSorley sails from New York on May 27 and the meeting will start on June 8.

We know that all of our members wish General President McSorley a pleasant trip and a safe return to the U. S. A.

Terry Ford,
General Secretary-Treasurer.

Under the sands of the Arab countries lies the world's greatest new source of oil.

Arab oil is playing a bigger part in world affairs than most people realize. It is a prize in the controversy over Palestine and figures, too, in dealings between Russia and the western democracies. Neither side wants to lose its chance to share in Middle Eastern oil wealth.

To protect their own interests, seven Arab nations formed a league during the war. These seven nations are Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Iraq, Syria, Trans-Jordan and Lebanon.

The seven Arab nations are by no means united in a common front, however. Other countries are anxiously watching a struggle for power among King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, King Farouk of Egypt and King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan.

If the Arab leaders settle their differences and agree on policies, their countries will be in position to drive a harder bargain.

If we, as a nation, really desire peace, we have been very clumsy in promoting it. The old-fashioned political maneuvers, treaties and military forces have never failed to end in wars. We have come to a point in the history of mankind where we may have to be as "radical" as to put into practice the age old ideal of brotherhood. Why not take a chance and invite Russia to join us in forming a world government? The worst outcome would be that the Russians would refuse, but, at least, the non-Communist world would recognize our sincere good will. The best that can happen would be the realization of a world republic, where we would be honored as its founders.

Consistent—"Does your husband always live up to his promises of his courtship days?"

"Always. In those days he said he was not good enough for me, and he has been proving it ever since."

HOW'S YOUR PR RATING?

by Ruth Taylor

How are your public relations these days?

We are urged to have regular check-ups as to health. We are advised to see our dentist regularly. Indeed, almost every time we turn on the radio we are urged to schedule ourselves on something—even to compacts.

But the most important of all things they seem to neglect. I'm all for adding to the list and advising a regular check-up on public relations.

What is public relations? It is not publicity—that is simply the cellophane on the basket of fruit that—when nicely colored—keeps you from seeing the specks.

Public relations is how you individually impress your neighbors. That resolves itself into the one basic issue—what you are. And there is no single thing that is as important to the future of America than good public relations for a good, strong, healthy, labor movement.

Oh, yes, at meetings you vote through resolutions on public relations, particularizing a lot of extra things your union officers can do for you. But do you do your share of the job?

You can have the best officers in the world. They can impress everyone to whom they talk with their high caliber and their integrity. But it won't do a bit of good—unless you do your share of the job—unless in your community you stand out as a good example of the kind of a union in which you believe.

Your union card isn't just a slip entitling you to higher wages and better working conditions—like a prize in a box of Cracker-jack. It is a passport that you belong to a group that by years of hard work has proven that its union-citizens are worth recognition, that they are responsible, that they take their obligation seriously and because of their high character are welcome in any company.

We all talk about public opinion—and how to influence it. But public opinion is determined by public relations. And public relations depends upon you as an individual.

So check up on yourself? How is your work? Has it shown progress? Are you doing the best you can at your job? If you were the boss, would you want to deal with a union made up of men who do just what you do? What do you do for your union? Do you attend meetings—and are you on time, and ready to do whatever little task you can to help? Are you willing to give the time to serve actively on committees? What do you do for your community? Do you join in wherever you can and prove to your non-union neighbors that a union man is an asset because he knows how to cooperate?

How is your PR rating? Suppose you make a spring check-up?

PIONEER OF AFL TAKEN BY DEATH

Frank Morrison, Long-Time Federation Secretary Dies at 89; Was One of Early Labor Statesmen

One of the great pioneers of the labor movement was taken from the American scene with the death of rank Morrison. The respected printer and leader of labor died at his Washington, D. C., home at the age of 89.

He served as secretary of the American Federation of Labor for 43 years and watched the organization grow in strength from a membership of 250,000 to its present 7,000,00. He held the post of secretary emeritus of the AFL at the time of his death.

Brother Morrison was born in Franktown, Ontario, November 23, 1859, and became an American citizen in Chicago 30 years later. At 22, he was a typesetter on the old Chicago Record, where he soon became active in the International Typographical Union.

He gained such widespread recognition as a champion of the working man that he won appointment as AFL secretary in 1896. Among the reforms he advocated were for shorter hours for workers.

In the typographical union, Brother Morrison was recognized as leader of the printers' fight which, during his days of activity, led them from a 59-hour work week at $18 to a 40-hour week at $57. After the 40-hour week became a reality, Brother Morrison began the fight for one of 30 hours and, in 1938, predicted such a short work-week would soon be a reality.

He was a leader in labor's struggle against the use of injunctions in labor disputes. This fight, in which he played an active role, resulted in the enactment of the Clayton Act, and, later, in the Norris-La Guardia anti-injunction act.

Many times during his long and distinguished career, Brother Morrison was consulted by Presidents and other high government officials on the shaping of labor policies.

Brother Morrison served as AFL secretary under Samuel Gompers during an era when the federation was seeking to gain a position of influence and respect. He later served for more than 15 years under President William S. Green.

The labor statesman received his law degree from Lake Forest University in 1893.

New York plans to link Brooklyn and Staten Island with the world's longest suspension bridge—400 feet longer than San Francisco's Golden Gate.

Permission to construct the proposed 4,600 foot bridge 237 feet above the Narrows between the two boroughs, will be sought from military authorities. New York's longest bridge at present is the 3,500 foot George Washington bridge. The Golden Gate bridge is 4,200 feet long.

McMAHON NAMED TO AFL STATE POST

Earl J. McMahon, secretary of the Chicago Building Trades Council (AFL), was appointed secretary-treasurer of the Illinois State Federation of Labor at a meeting of the federation's executive board.

He succeeds Victor A. Olander, who died last Feb. 5. McMahon will continue to serve as secretary of the building trades council, dividing his time between the two positions.

McMahon was born in Chicago. He became a journeyman leather in 1914. From 1930 to 1935 he was business agent of the Lathers' Union, Local 74. A capable mechanic, he also served as foreman and superintendent on many large construction jobs.

Since 1935 he has been secretary of the building trades council, central body of 125 unions, representing 93,225 workers in 35 crafts.

During the war, he served on a Selective Service Appeals panel, and was an advisor to the Civilian Production Administration.

UNION IS DENIED FREE SPEECH UNDER TAFT-HARTLEY LAW

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Right in the midst of the Senate Labor Committee hearings on Taft-Hartley repeal, the National Labor Relations Board ruled that the T-H Act guaranteed "free speech" to employers but not to workers.

At issue was the action of a Carpenters' local in peacefully picketing a Kansas builder who used materials made by sweat-shop, non-union labor. Also, the builder was placed on a "We Do Not Patronize" list.

The union argued it was merely exercising the right of "free speech," but the board very reluctantly—in fact, with "anguish"—held that the plain language of the act gave it no alternative but to find the union guilty of violating the law. The "free speech" clause of the act does "not give immunity" to the union, it said.

FALSE FRONTS FOR LABOR BAITERS

The Taft-Hartley debate has brought out a rash of full page ads, hand bills and radio blasts opposing repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. Congressmen and the American voters should not be fooled into thinking this well-financed propaganda campaign represents more than a handful of professional labor baiters.

Here's how one false front works:

An organization which piously calls itself "National Wage Earners League, Rm. 528, 333 No. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois" has been distributing by the tens of thousands post cards already addressed to Senator Thomas, Chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, urging that the Taft-Hartley Act be retained. There is space left for an individual signature. This is an amateur technique since courageous liberals such as Senator Thomas are never fooled by form cards.

One of our Chicago LLPE leaders did a little private investigating and found out that the address given by this phoney front is actually the office of the "Telephone Secretarial Service, Inc. . . . Representing National Firms." The telephone directory lists ten telephone numbers on six different exchanges but they all lead into the same office at 333 No. Michigan Ave. The impression that the service has 10 branch offices in Chicago is obviously false. The girl who answered the phone said she knew nothing about the "Wage Earners League" but was only to take names and addresses in response to the propaganda releases. She said a T. D. O'Toole (maybe he should be called "Tool") was the individual who is running this labor baiting front. Rather than a mass organization of Wage Earners, this so-called League hasn't even got an office of its own.

As long as LLPE stays on the job no Congressman need worry about the bullying threats of Mr. O'Toole. Votes . . . not threats . . . win elections and the working people of this country have the votes.

BLACK FACE ACT THAT PAID

Publisher James Gordon Bennett was intolerant of fighting, a practice all too frequently followed in the rough-and-ready days of journalism.

Thus, one of the printers who showed up at work one morning with a well-blackened eye knew that he must conceal it or be fired. In a moment of inspiration, he smeared his entire face with ink.

Bennett noticed him immediately.

"What are we paying that man?" he asked the foreman.

Told the amount, the old publisher ordered. "Double it! It's obvious that he's doing more work than anyone else in the plant!"

Present population of Russia is 195,000,000. People include 180 nationalities, speaking 150 dialects. They live in an area 8,412,345 miles square, or three times as large as the U. S. Russia has at least 12 cities larger than New Orleans, La. (494,537).

Russia is the world's richest land in minerals, forests, fertile soil. It ranks first in iron and platinum, third in oil, fourth in coal. It also stands high in copper, gold, chrome. More than half the land is forested.

Russia has the largest area of fertile black soil in the world. It grows more potatoes and beet sugar than any other country, more wheat and oats than any other except the United States.

War spurred development of manufacturing, especially in Asiatic Russia. Magnitogorsk is the greatest new steel center. Steel production is still only one-fourth of ours. Industry is hampered by poor transportation.

All foreign trade is carried on by the government. Russia trades chiefly with countries of eastern Europe. Chief exports to the West are grain and minerals. Chief imports are machinery, trucks and autos, and farm animals.

All industry and most business belongs to the government, which is controlled by the Communist Party. Premier Joseph Stalin and the Politburo of 14 men who serve as Cabinet members and political bosses combined, hold all real power.

Russia has about 4,500,000 men in uniform. The air force of 25,000 planes includes jet fighters and copies of B-29 bombers. The navy depends heavily on a large fleet of modern submarines and four old battleships.

All religions were formerly banned by the Communists. The Russian Orthodox Church is now being encouraged, under the thumb of Communist leaders. Russian education tends to oppose religion.

2 MILLION AT WORK ON CONSTRUCTION JOBS

Construction activity in November remained at a high level according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor. This high level continued despite the seasonal decline which began in September.

Employment by construction contractors exceeded the 2-million mark for the 7th successive month, totaling 2,150,000 workers in November.

Expenditures for new work put in place were over 1½ billion.

The downward trend this November resulted mostly from sharp drops in expenditures for private residential building and public highway construction. At the same time, many types of non-residential building either maintained the October level or increased slightly in November.

Construction activity for the first 11 months of 1948 is 29 per cent above that for the same period in 1947.

HATS OFF

Our hat is off to Labor's League for Political Education for the dramatic way it has called attention to the starvation wages paid to state legislators.

A man or woman has always had to be independently wealthy in order to accept election to a state legislature, or he or she has had to be on somebody's payroll. That somebody, of course, has always been an employer corporation. In its report on state legislatures to the recent AFL Executive Council meeting, the LLPE recalled that once, in Wisconsin, some Socialist union members passed the hat to help a liberal member of the Wisconsin legislature.

The daily newspapers seized on this report as the basis for the charge that the AFL was planning to subsidize state legislators. The editorial writers immediately came out against it.

We congratulate the LLPE for focusing public attention on the need for every state to pay its legislators a living wage so they won't need subsidies from labor—or from employer corporations.

Just about every American who can read follows one newspaper or another today. Serving our people are 11,000 weeklies and 2,000 dailies.

From the country weekly with a circulation of 100 to a few big city dailies with millions of subscribers, the American press offers every kind of news and every shade of opinion. No nation's press has ever been freer than our own. This freedom is guaranteed us in the Constitution.

There are, of course, certain restrictions on what can be printed.

An editor cannot publish stories harmful to the public's morals. He cannot deliberately say things about a person which are not true and which may cause him injury. In wartime, he must not print anything which may aid the enemy.

All papers have their own political opinions, which they usually express in editorials and in signed columns. The news stories on the other hand, are supposed to be straight facts. However, in many cases the papers color the facts in their news stories to put their own beliefs in a better light.

Actually, the sales price of each copy of a paper is less than the cost of producing it. That is why papers sell advertising space, which is their main source of income.

The larger papers subscribe to news services such as the Associated Press and the United Press. These are news and picture-gathering organizations with offices all over the world. They wire in their material to each subscribing paper.

Our press may have its faults. Some papers still concern themselves more with crimes and scandal than with reporting important current events. But by and large, the American press is doing a good job. Free to say what they want, the papers are pouring out a huge volume of news to keep our democratic people informed.

The first motion picture theatre in the world was a converted shoe store located at 1155 Broadway in New York City. It was called the Kinetoscope Parlor and was opened on Saturday, April 14, 1894. The store was lined with Thomas A. Edison's kinetoscope machines which permitted one person at a time to view the picture through a peephole. These first pictures ran for about fifteen seconds each and showed nothing more than a man sneezing, a girl dancing and Annie Oakley firing a gun. Thomas Lombard was the proprietor of this first theatre—and he didn't intend to open up until the following Monday. But curious crowds had gathered outside his store front and he needed money for dinner, so he opened up ahead of time and took in $120 that first night. The motion picture industry was started.

For centuries the farmer has been pictured as a stalwart, independent he-man, who could carve out a living through thick and thin. Now that has all been changed. When farm prices go down he starts yelling louder than a stuck pig for government hand-outs. He expects other taxpayers from coast to coast to kick in with their money to keep him afloat, notwithstanding the fact that the great majority of these same taxpayers have plenty of financial and other problems of their own to worry them during every waking hour.

The farmer now prefers to be propped up by others, instead of standing on his own two feet and fighting his own battles until conditions improve. Who steps in to help the wholesaler and the retailer when prices drop and he has to sell stuff off his shelves at cost, or less? He takes his medicine. He doesn't start squawking to Washington for subsidies to be paid by millions of other people who don't know him from Adam. Not so the modern farmer. The average farmer has now become the most spineless panty-waist crybaby the world ever known.

The economic recovery of Europe will not occur until German economic recovery is achieved, a condition which will most certainly not be effected as long as Britain insists upon continuing her selfish and shortsighted dismantling of German factories. This policy, by which Britain apparently hopes to throttle the export trade of a nation whose industrial genius she has long jealously feared, not only consigns the whole German people to the status of beggars, but also fastens the staggering cost of feeding this prostrate people squarely upon the wearied shoulders of the American taxpayer.

Britain will never cease to fear German recovery until she frees herself from the shackles imposed by a socialist government and adopts a free economy. Man was endowed with freedom by his Creator, and growth and well being flourish only in an atmosphere of freedom.

Since it is clear that the socialist regime, which engulfs the people of England, can maintain itself only through the omniscience of the United States perhaps it is time that those of us who have a regard for England should pause and consider how far we are really aiding our English friends, who, I am persuaded, love liberty quite as much as we do.

FIRST CHOICE OF THE TRADE FOR 64 YEARS

One day while General Washington was driving a sulky through the rain, a little girl spied the great man . . . "His uniform was covered by a greatcoat and his powdered hair was protected by a bandanna handkerchief bound around his head under his cocked hat." Evidently, the General was anxious to avoid meeting the Van Cortlandt ladies that evening with a water-soaked uniform and a face streaked with powder.

Washington's destination was the home of the distinguished Van Cortlandt family. The house, built in 1748 by Frederick Van Cortlandt, is still standing today within New York City's limits in a park bearing its name. Originally, however, it was a country estate—or bouwerie, as the Dutch termed it—a long journey distant from the city.

With no towns nearby, the Van Cortlandt establishment, like a southern plantation, had to be wholly self-sufficient, producing all food for the family and numerous servants. To provide clothing, sheep were raised and flax was grown, while masons and woodworkers were employed for construction and upkeep.

When war broke out, sharply divided neighborhood allegiance led to many skirmishes on this once peaceful estate. Moreover, both armies made repeated forays there and for a time the house was General Howe's headquarters. Later, to mislead the British into believing the Americans were still nearby, a fire was kindled on Vault Hill, the family burial ground.

The Van Cortlandt family occupied the house until its purchase by New York City in 1889. Through the generosity of the Society of Colonial Dames of the State of New York, an average of 50,000 people annually visit this 200-year-old bouwerie in New York City's Bronx County.

THE CHIPS ARE DOWN

The bill to repeal Taft-Hartley and reenact the Wagner Act is up for consideration. After weeks of hearings, the bill nears draft stage at this writing.

We do not say the bill as written is perfect. We believe that the position of organized labor generally was sound when a "two package" approach was favored. We believe that it was good strategy to plan first for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and then go after amendments for the revived Wagner Act.

The Administration overruled organized labor on this point and sought to do both jobs—repeal and reenactment—in a single bill.

Labor went all out last fall and shows that it had real strength. Now is the time to show that strength again. Let's get going! The chips are down.

ORPHANS WERE PREFERRED

When the operators of the Pony Express sought riders for the Overland Trail mail run in the 1860's, here is the type of Want Ad they inserted in the newspapers in and around St. Joseph, Missouri:

"Wanted: Young, skinny, wiry fellows, not over 18, must be expert riders, willing to risk death daily. Orphans preferred . . ."

Some of our greatest heroes of the purple sage responded to the advertisement and became crack Pony Expressmen. Among them was a skinny, wiry, 13-year-old waif named Bill Cody, immortalized later as Buffalo Bill.

Of course in the 1860's there were no restrictions on the hiring of minors; the only safety precaution was the speed a rider could click off the "safe" on his six shooter and start spitting lead at a hostile Indian or highwayman. The 40-hour week? What a joke!

Yet, today there are certain employers, we regret to say, who long for the old open shop days of yore. They would exploit minors to the utmost; they would scrap every piece of industrial legislation to the winds; they would get back to the 80-hour sweatshop week. That is, if they had a free rein.

Luckily such isn't in prospect.

CLIMATE HAS DISTINCT BEARING ON EMPLOYMENT

How many persons ever have considered the extent to which employment is determined by climate? What happened in Southern California during the war, when huge plants sprang up and caused many, many thousands of new jobs to be created was mostly the result of climate.

The fact that Miami was selected as a great officer training ground was only partly because there were hundreds of hotels to serve as housing. It was as much because training could continue every day in the year. Climate also is the chief reason why Miami now has the greatest airport in the world and is the principal port of passenger entry into the United States.

Geography is the moving reason for many of our industrial centers and big cities, in spite of climate, but to an astonishing degree climate determines thousands of jobs and population contractions.

The United States population, climbing more than 200,000 each month, reached a record 148 millions Jan. 1, the census bureau reported. "Natural increase"—the excess of births over deaths—accounted for 91 per cent of the 1948 population rise; immigration for the other 9 per cent.

Commend me to those who not only love God, but also hate the Devil.—Matthew Arnold.

A SLOW PROCESS

For a considerable time the American Federation of Labor has been urging on the United Nations inquiry into slave labor camps of the Soviet Union. Efforts of the AFL have been directed toward the Economic and Social Council.

The AFL with documented reports has urged that an impartial investigation be made of the camps. There seems to be difficulty in getting the inquiry well under way. Russia and her satellite countries have used their influence to delay and block the investigation.

Some pro-Russian speakers have admitted that in Russia there are many "corrective" camps. What is meant by "corrective?" This would seem to be a good job for the International Labor Organization to do. The ILO is an agency of U.N. and represents all the member nations. It has no axe to grind for any one nation.

Recently a movement seemed to develop to have all so-called slave labor camps investigated in all countries. One of the aims of the proposal was to get at colonial areas of countries beyond the Iron Curtain.

We think that it is high time there was an investigation. After the Russian camps have been investigated, it might be well to go into some of the camps of other nations. There may not be such extreme cases of "slave labor" as may be found in Russia, but we are certain that there is plenty of oppression which needs the searchlight of an ILO investigation.

Instead of slipping, sliding, and shoveling sidewalks in winter, you will soon be just melting away the snow as it lands on them. This is what happened at 140 S. Dearborn Street, Chicago, this winter. Engineers installed a radiant heated sidewalk there. Before the concrete was poured, a network of one-inch wrought iron pipes were installed and imbedded two and one-half inches below the surface of the concrete.

An anti-freeze solution was installed inside the basement. When the outside temperature went down to freezing, the heating solution was pumped through the pipes installed in the concrete sidewalk, and the snow melted as it fell.

No slush, no ice, no slipping nor sliding, no shoveling. A complete success was this snow melting idea, so much so that the idea will eventually come into general winter use.

Jane—Babies.

HISTORY REPEATS

Back in 1928, businessmen, bankers, brokers, and most economists thought the boom would never end—

When stocks, bonds, real estate and commodities were shooting skyward—when the optimists were preaching the gospel of "a new era," "we'll never see old-fashioned hard times again," and when "pessimists" were shunned like a plague. A few listened; most did not. Then came Black Friday and the bottom fell out of the boom—unemployment, bank failures, bankruptcies, the melting of paper profits, followed. The lesson of history is that no nation in the world has ever been able to stop run-away inflation once it got started—and this one has had its start.

War always creates an artificial prosperity—but the day of reckoning always comes. The forces of inflation and depression are loose again. The vicious cycle is in full swing now. In spite of temporary declines, prices keep going up. Prices go up in every rise make the inevitable fall that much longer and harder when it finally comes. The value of your salary shrinks daily. Since the beginning of the war half the purchasing power of your salary has been wiped out by the present inflation.

WAGES IN THE CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY

To those who compute the annual wages of those occupied on construction on a possible 300 days, multiplied by so many dollars per day, I would ask if they were aware that no one can compute the annual wage of those who depend upon construction. Never during any one year are all the workers of any particular element absorbed by any particular industry. Only the few more fortunate have anything like steady employment. The great majority must seek new employment after the finish of every job or two and only during unusually good times can they shift from one employment to another without some lost days. The average man depending upon building construction for a living loses days, weeks and months every year, try as he may to be steadily employed.

America is a land of superlatives. Sprawled over 3,000,000 square miles, encompassing fertile farmland and vast concentrations of mortar and steel, it is a fabulous and fantastic dream-come-true. It is a land whose freedom is symbolized by the Goddess of Liberty at the nation's front door, a land studded with miracles to rival the seven wonders of the ancient world.

Senator Joe Paup, the Hoboes' philosopher, showing up in police court last week, was questioned by the judge: "Can you describe your assailant?"

"Sure! That's what he hit me for describing him."

J. SCOTT MILNE, INTERNATIONAL SECRETARY, INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF ELECTRICAL WORKERS SAYS:

"'In union there is strength!' In no better way can we show our strength than by uniting with our Brothers in all branches of industry and buying only Union Label products. We have nearly half a million members in the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. We urge them, their wives and families, to buy union goods and services. In so doing they will help to perform a three-fold service: (1) They insure to the public, satisfactory goods and services produced under decent working conditions. (2) They help brother unionists by creating a demand for the goods and services they produce. (3) They help themselves. What helps one union member helps all."

Positive Economic Action Better Than Negative Friction

*I. M. Ornburn, Secretary-Treasurer
Union Label Trades Department,
American Federation of Labor.*

The Union Label Trades Department advocates a policy of positive, economic action for all officials and members of labor unions and women's auxiliaries. Instead of always being "against" some manufacturer or firm we believe in the more constructive attitude of being "for" employers in any industry who are in agreement with our unions and "for" firms which sell Union Label goods and employ members of service unions.

For years past, many of our most ardent supporters always took a negative position. Instead of listing the firms which were fair they printed "unfair" lists of non-union firms. But times have changed. We now urge our friends to buy Union Label goods and to patronize Union services of fair firms. This is far more constructive. It is positive economic action because by boosting the sale of goods of employers who are on good relations with the unions, we are developing the finest example of labor-management cooperation.

There is a growing tendency in many cities to print a directory of local firms that handle Union Label products and employ members of our service unions. Just this week several reports have been received from Union Label committees throughout the United States requesting material to prepare local Union Label buyers' guides.

While our Department continually emphasizes that our great army of consumers demand the Union Label, Shop Card and Union Button, we also give the greatest publicity to firms that manufacture Union Label goods. In other words, we advertise the employers who are fair and we disregard non-union employers by not even mentioning their names.

The Union Industries Show is a most excellent example of promoting the popularity and sale of union-made goods and the use of union services. The good relations that are exemplified at one of our all-union exhibitions eliminates negative friction and creates more positive action among union workers, employers of union members, and American consumers.

Minutes Of The Special Meeting Of The International Executive Council

As Per Instructions Of Our Last Convention

Cleveland, Ohio, May 17 To May 20, 1949

Meeting called to order Tuesday, May 17th, 1949, at 10 a. m. by First Vice President Harry J. Hagen. Members of the Council present were:

First Vice President .....	Harry J. Hagen
Second Vice President .....	C. J. Haggerty
Third Vice President .....	John P. Cook
Fourth Vice President .....	Sal Maso
Fifth Vice President .....	John J. Langan
Sixth Vice President .....	Frank R. Smith
Seventh Vice President .....	J. P. Boyd
Eighth Vice President .....	H. H. Fairbanks
Ninth Vice President .....	C. R. Nicholas
Tenth Vice President .....	Walter Turner
Eleventh Vice President .....	Lionel Brodeur
Twelfth Vice President .....	Louis Rodier

With a feeling of deep regret, the members of the Executive Council, noted the absence of former Sixth Vice President Thomas Priestly who had passed away since the previous meeting of this Executive Council. The following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, Almighty God removed from our ranks, Sixth Vice President Thomas Priestly on November 4, 1948,

WHEREAS, Brother Priestly was well known and loved by our entire membership for his tireless efforts and activities on behalf of the International Union, its affiliated locals and members,

WHEREAS, the passing of this great trade unionist is greatly mourned by our membership,

WHEREAS, his able and wise counsel will be missed at the gatherings of the International Union where his experience and intelligence were always an effective contribution to our organization,

RESOLVED, that this meeting of the Executive Council of the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union upon adjourning do so in solemn and sincere memory of Sixth Vice President Thomas Priestly, and by a period of silence, pay tribute to the time, effort, wisdom and the friendship which he gave so generously to our organization and the labor movement in general, and extend our deepest sympathies to the family of our deceased associate, friend and brother.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the bereaved family.

In addition to the adoption of this resolve your Executive Council instructed the General President to have this resolution drawn up in a suitable manner and presented to the family of Brother Priestly.

Case No. 1.—Allocating of Funds for Delegates' Attendance at the L. I. U. Convention to be held from September 12, 1949, in Los Angeles, California.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 203 of the constitution, and the instructions contained therein, your Executive Council, based upon the figures submitted by the General Secretary-Treasurer, worked out and adopted the following plan of prorating the moneys available for the financing of delegates to the Twentieth Convention of our International Union to be held in the city of Los Angeles starting September 12, 1949.

It is the decision of your Executive Council that each regularly elected and seated delegate shall be compensated as follows:

One round trip first class fare, based upon standard railroad rates from the city in which his local union is located, plus first class pullman costs, based upon lower berth rates.

In addition to the transportation costs set forth above, each delegate shall also be paid the sum of $160.00.

The Secretary-Treasurer is hereby instructed to forward to the Secretary-Treasurer of each local union, a check based upon the International Secretary-Treasurer's computation of the total cost of one round trip first class fare, plus standard pullman rates; this check to be mailed to the local Secretary-Treasurer when the credential for the duly elected delegate from said local union is received at the office of the International Union.

The local union receiving this check shall be held responsible for its proper transmission to its duly elected delegate and shall be further responsible for this delegate's attendance at the convention.

The additional expense moneys in the amount of $160.00 shall be paid to the duly elected and officially seated delegate at the convention city headquarters not later than the second day of said convention.

Case No. 2.—Controversy Between Local No. 5 and Local No. 505, relative to their Agreement.

Your Executive Council considered the appeal of these two local unions relative to their dispute over an agreement in existence and listened to the Committees representing both local unions.

After a discussion of the controversy, we are pleased to report that a satisfactory settlement was agreed upon by the Committees of both local unions and an adjustment made, which we trust will eliminate all future controversies in order that both of these organizations may properly protect the interest of their members and the Lathing Industry.

Case No. 3.—Agreement of Local No. 341, Modesto, California, providing for Piece Work Scale of Wages.

After considering all the evidence presented in the appeal of Local 341 against the decision of the General President who refused to approve an agreement between this local union and their employers, providing for a detailed piece work scale for journeymen for all work covered by the jurisdiction of our International Union, your Executive Council approves of the General President's decision in refusing to approve an agreement of this type, as such agreement is not conducive to the best interest of our International Union, and its affiliated locals, and is in complete disregard of the policy of our International Union, which has succeeded after many years in having our local unions adopt an hourly wage system, based upon a uniform work-day of whatever number of hours is established and agreeable to the union and their employers.

It is the hope of the Executive Council that Local No. 341 will conform to the policy of the International Union and revise its agreement in order that it may conform with the established policy of our International Union.

Case No. 4.—National Foundation for Lathing and Plastering, Inc.

General President McSorley submitted to the Executive Council the Report of the Department of Commerce, Office of Technical Services on "Standardized Lathing and Plastering Practices" which detailed report was obtained through the efforts of the National Foundation for Lathing and Plastering, Inc. The material compiled by the Department of Commerce, along with the Handbook of Recommended Specifications for Lathing, Furring and Plastering should be a great asset to the lathing and plastering industry and is another step forward in the effort being made by this Foundation to advance the use of lathing and plastering on future construction projects.

Realizing the great benefits that can accrue by the work of this Foundation, your Executive Council recommends that we continue to give this movement our full support.

Your Executive Council further recommends that the General President be authorized to purchase motion picture equipment and to cooperate in the production of motion pictures through and with the National Foundation for Lathing and Plastering, Inc., for the promotion of our industry, and to be used in the training of apprentices at work in their various schools.

Case No. 5.—Request for Financial Assistance from The American Federation of the Physically Handicapped, Inc., for educational organization and legislative purposes

Upon information furnished by the General President and materials submitted from the organization requesting the assistance, it is the opinion of your Executive Council that this is a splendid organization which is performing outstanding services in behalf of the physically handicapped and is an organization which should be supported by all trade unions, and we therefore instruct the General Secretary-Treasurer to make a contribution to this worthwhile organization in the sum of $200.00.

Case No. 6.—Request of Local No. 345 to levy an additional assessment of $100.00 against M. J. Marshall, 38398.

After considering all the evidence presented in this case, your Executive Council voted to grant the request to place an additional assessment of $100.00 against M. J. Marshall, 38398.

Case No. 7.—Request of Local No. 50, Charleston, S. C., to levy an additional assessment of $125.00 against Raymond F. Cox, Jr., 42072.

After considering all the evidence in this case, your Executive Council voted to grant the request to place an additional assessment of $125.00 against Raymond F. Cox, Jr., 42072.

Case No. 8.—Request from Headquarters of the Seventh-Day Adventists for exemption of the payment of dues, assessments, initiation fees, etc. of their members.

The General President submitted to the Executive Council communications between himself and the Council on Industrial Relations, Seventh Day Adventists, requesting that a suspended member be permitted to work with members of our International Union without obtaining a status of membership or the payment of dues because of religious training and belief.

While your Executive Council desires to grant full religious liberty and freedom of conscience to all individuals, we find no authority in our International constitution to permit us to grant such request. It is therefore the decision of your Executive Council, that this request be denied.

Case No. 9.—Beneficial Use of Vermiculite for Our Industry.

Your Council studied literature of the Vermiculite Research Institute, containing a summary of fire tests on all types of construction of interest to lathers and the fire ratings given the various constructions by the U. S. Bureau of Standards and the Underwriters Laboratories.

New developments as a result of years of research and tests have produced startling but gratifying results insofar as lathers are concerned, because of the new fields and enlargement of old fields that it creates, resulting in greater demand for the services of our members.

The Council instructed the Secretary to prepare articles with illustrations concerning this information and print same in an early issue of The Lather, so all our members will have an opportunity to acquaint themselves with it and use it in promoting new fields of labor.

Case No. 10.—Committee on Jurisdiction.

Realizing the necessity of adjusting disputes between International Unions and thereby avoiding submitting our problems to other tribunals, your Executive Council appointed a Committee of two to act with General President McSorley for the purpose of meeting with other International representatives with whom our local unions or the International Union might be in dispute over the erection of work in conflict between ourselves and other International organizations.

The Executive Council appointed First Vice President Hagen and Second Vice President Haggerty, and instructed them to hold themselves in readiness to meet with the General President upon his request for the purpose of obtaining peaceable and satisfactory settlement whenever the necessity arises.

Case No. 11.—General President McSorley Honored by United States Government.

Your Executive Council was pleased and gratified to note that General President McSorley had been selected by the President of the United States to act as an advisor to the International Labor Organization Delegates at Conference to be held in Geneva, Switzerland starting from June 8, 1949.

We feel that this is a splendid tribute and a recognition of the ability of President McSorley as an outstanding trade union leader who has served for many years as a member of the International Labor Relations Committee of the American Federation of Labor, and had been honored by President Green by receiving the appointment as Chairman of the International Labor Relations Committee, which committee handles all International labor problems during the A. F. of L. annual conventions.

We further feel that this recognition by the President of the A. F. of L. and the President of the United States reflects great honor upon our International organization, and are sure that our membership joins with us in a feeling of pride that we have such an outstanding man as our International President.

Recognizing that the expenses authorized by the United States Government are very small and insufficient, it is the unanimous decision of the Executive Council that General President McSorley receive the sum of three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) from the General Fund of the International Union to help defray his expenses while on this very important mission.

Case No. 12.—The Establishment of Group Insurance and Welfare Plans, by and through Local Agreements.

While your Executive Council has spoken on this subject matter previously we feel that the time is opportune to again suggest to the officers and members of our local unions, the desirability of making provisions in their agreements, wherever possible with employers, for group insurance or welfare plans, to be financed by the employer on whatever basis is agreeable to the parties in negotiation.

It is the feeling of your Executive Council that employers have an obligation to afford protection to their employees who have rendered faithful service to them, and made it possible for the industry to be successful and profitable.

Statistics and information available at the present time indicate that many employing groups throughout the United States and Canada have recognized the wisdom in this connection, and have provided Group Insurance and Welfare Plans for their employees.

Your Executive Council therefore recommends that all of our local unions make provision wherever possible in all agreements under consideration at the present time between themselves and their employers for a group insurance or welfare plan, whichever will give the greatest benefits obtainable to their membership throughout the jurisdiction of our International Union.

Case No. 13.—Steel Houses.

Your Executive Council believes it is desirable to again call the attention of our affiliated unions to the need for them to interest themselves in the development, promotion and construction of steel metal lathed homes. Various types of steel homes have been and are being constructed in different parts of this nation, all of them requiring metal lath and furring.

In some cities, the outside walls consist of various type of studs of different thicknesses, to which metal lath was applied on both sides, the outside walls being back-plastered with cement thoroughly imbedding the lath into two to two and one-half inches of cement. Another type developed consists of deep walls of metal lath attached to six inch "Z" studs, and the inside poured with Zonolite concrete. The inside of exterior walls are vapor sealed before plaster is applied. Numerous variations of the above construction have been built and the International officers have continued their study of various types, visiting the jobs, conferring with the builders, architects, engineers and workmen, in order to obtain further information and knowledge as to their stability and permanency. Your Council is desirous of doing everything possible to promote metal type houses of all types, and we recommend that our International officers continue their studies, experiments and research, in order to expedite the construction of metal lath houses consistent with quality construction and the best trade practices, and to determine the particular type of house or houses that can be promoted on a national scale, with the assurance that they will meet with all the climatic and other conditions in all parts of the nation, as well as compete successfully with other types of construction.

Case No. 14.—Appeal for Funds From the National Labor Council Sanatorium and Clinics.

While your Executive Council appreciates the splendid and humane work being carried on by the National Labor Council Sanatorium and Clinics, we are not in a position to answer all of the financial pleas made for many worthy causes, such as the above, and we regretfully deny this request at this time.

There being no further business, your Executive Council adjourned at 3 p. m. May 20th.

Respectfully submitted

Harry J. Hagen, First V. P., C. J. Haggerty, Second V. P.,
Chairman Secretary

NOT ALL WEALTHY MEN ARE ANTI-UNION

A member of one of the nation's wealthiest brewery families announces that he plans to devote his full time "to encouraging the organization of white-collar workers."

He is 73-year-old Joseph E. Uihlein, former vice-president and manager of the vast Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company, one of America's largest beer producers.

"I believe five to six million Americans can better their lot by joining white-collar unions," declared Mr. Uihlein, who said his brewery stock, now distributed among his children, earned more than $1,200,000 last year.

He said that he was resigning immediately as a director of the First Wisconsin National Bank so that no one connected with the institution would be "embarrassed" by his actions. He no longer is an officer of the brewery of which his father, August, was president for many years.

A year ago, Mr. Uihlein said, he tried to join the Brewery Workers Union, CIO, "but I was turned down." He said he had discussed the need for a white-collar union with national labor leaders and had decided to take up the cause.

"I've been thinking about this for about fifteen years," he said. "I began to discover that a lot of these people of wealth are not deserving of what they possess. I found something was wrong with the wealthy class and I think a whole lot of them would be better off if they had to work."

Joseph Uihlein and his brother Erwin, now president of Schlitz, have been at odds recently over the former's suggestion that the brewery establish a $1,000,000 annual welfare fund for its employees by contributing 25 cents for each barrel of beer sold.

Joseph Uihlein said the brewery made $20,969,000 after taxes last year, and added that he was "interested in having the people who helped make the business share the profits."

The Brewery Workers Union took up the suggestion in a request to the management, but the president of the company said that his brother had "no authority to speak for the company."

CORRECTION

In the May 1949 issue of The Lather, J. Wilson 38120 was published as suspended by Local 6 for nonpayment of dues instead of under the caption of Dues Books Lost where it correctly appears this month. Brother Wilson is in good standing since his reinstatement in Local 59 on July 23, 1948.

BASEMENTLESS METAL LATH HOUSE

The plan of bungalow illustrated is all on one floor using radiant heat with pipes embedded in concrete floor—heating room and garage attached. (Wood floor may be used as shown.) This is a small experimental 4 room home, the forerunner of others to follow in St. Louis, being built by Lathing Contractor Charles W. Fawcett.

This home will sell for less than $8,000.00. An additional room may be added for less than $1,000.00. The size of rooms and other units may be changed to suit the builder or owner. The purpose of printing the sketches in The Lather is to illustrate and detail the construction.

It is fireproof and has numerous advantages over other types of construction. The outside walls cost less than brick, plastered block or frame. Ceilings are suspended from roof rafters. All partitions are solid metal lath and plaster except bath room where double metal lath partitions are used. Outside walls are constructed with 4 inch wide prefabricated studs, metal lath on each side, insulation between, stucco outside, plaster inside. Reinforced concrete columns and beams are poured as shown to support roof and ceilings. Tie rods consist of 1/2 inch reinforcing rods welded to rectangular pieces of flat iron which are bolted to every other set of roof rafters as indicated on plan. Horizontal wood stringers (braces) are used on alternate sets of roof rafters, in between those having tie rods.

This plan has been approved by the Building Department of the City of St. Louis which has a rather stringent code. Prefabricated or frame houses are not permitted in the city limits. Members can develop their own layout from the construction illustrated. However, anyone desiring a set of blue prints of this plan may secure one by sending $2.00 to Harry J. Hegen, 7150 Highland Ave., St. Louis 13, Mo.

Gain the Equivalent of an extra office

Specify 2" Solid ROCKLATH* and Plaster Partitions

If you have a fairly large office building you may be able to gain usable, rentable space on every floor roughly equivalent to the addition of an extra suite of offices. On a smaller scale, you can have enough additional room to accommodate an extra typewriter desk or filing cabinet in every 20 by 20-foot office.

How? By specifying 2-inch Solid ROCKLATH and Plaster Partitions! You'll gain three inches of space along the full length of the partition, compared with a conventional partition five inches thick when plastered.

You'll gain extra safety, too—because 2-inch Solid ROCKLATH and Plaster Partitions, properly plastered, have a one-hour fire endurance rating. They have abundant strength, yet weigh only 16 pounds per square foot, installed. They cost no more, installed, than conventional partitions, and often cost less.

Ads such as this, directed to architects and builders, are now appearing in the leading architectural magazines. These ads, by promoting the 2-inch Solid ROCKLATH and Plaster Partition, help you sell your services.

LITTLE REALIZED BY INVENTORS

The profits from inventions nowadays mostly go to big corporations, not the man who makes the discoveries. Even if that were not so, is it necessary, as is so often claimed, to "encourage" inventors by offering them monopoly profits?

Consider the case of Dr. Clelio Brunetti, who got into the news a while back when he left Uncle Sam's top scientists agency, the Bureau of Standards, to take a job with the Stanford Research Institute.

While working for Uncle Sam, Brunetti developed a device which made possible the "proximity fuse," often called the greatest war invention aside from the atomic bomb. The fuse "revolutionized war" by vastly increasing the deadliness of artillery and anti-aircraft fire.

A patent on this amazing invention would have made a private corporation "rich beyond the dreams of avarice," but Brunetti sold it to the government for $1, and never collected the dollar.

UNDER ADVISEMENT

In a certain midwestern court a man was suing the local traction company for injuries allegedly received in a street car accident. The truth of the matter was that he had actually received his bruises when his auto collided with a telegraph post. And this had happened a full mile from the street car line.

The plaintiff's witnesses swore to the facts of the accident and things were going very nicely for him, when one of their number was suddenly beset with an attack of conscience and during a recess repaired to the judge's chambers and confessed to the frame-up.

The judge rushed back into the courtroom with fire in his eye, determined to make an immediate revelation of the perjurers. But he was brought up short in his resolution when the traction company's attorney suddenly produced three witnesses prepared to swear that the plaintiff was drunk when he boarded the street car.

M. A. RIZZO RECEIVES N. Y. STATE APPOINTMENT

Michael A. Rizzo has been appointed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey to the Building Code Revision Committee for Housing and Construction. This voluntary group was organized to help produce large quantities of cheaper homes and to procure more stable employment and production.

Brother Rizzo is Business Agent of Local 308, New York City; Vice President of the New York State Council of Lathers; Secretary of the Greater New York - Long Island District Council of Lathers and President of the Bronx Board of Business Agents of the Building and Construction Trades Council.

LATHING PROGRAM UPPED

By cutting the training period of its apprentices from three to two years, Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' Union No. 53, Philadelphia, has doubled its number of journeymen lathers to meet an unusually active lathing season.

Faced by a shortage of skilled lathers to handle the increased activity, Local 53, according to Lionel Brodeur, business agent, has taken advantage of a new regulation from its international union permitting the apprenticeship period to be cut at the discretion of the local's leaders. Utilizing an intensified training course to supplement the apprentice's work, the Philadelphia local qualified a number of apprentices as journeymen in the reduced training period and took in new boys to replace them.

This policy, Brodeur points out, has given the local a total of 135 men, including 100 journeymen—about double the membership of two years ago. In the past two years more than 50 boys have gone through the apprenticeship mill, which is an enviable record considering that the local's entire membership was only 80 less than two years ago. About 95 per cent of the trainees have been GI's.

The unusual amount of lathing activity has come from alterations and the opening of new small business enterprises, and will shortly be increased by several large-scale operational jobs which will create a demand for a sizable lathing pool.

One of these jobs is a new apartment development at Collingswood, N. J., consisting of four 10-story buildings. E. J. Frankel is the builder. The general contract figure is estimated at between nine and ten million dollars. The demand on the lathers here is for approximately 45 men who are expected to work on this job for the next eight months. Another operation is a 14-story apartment building in the Wissahickon area of Philadelphia, which is expected to cost more than $2,000,000, and which will figure as another big job for both lathers and plasterers in this area.

J. E. COSTELLO OF LOCAL 345 HONORED

GEORGE M. HARRISON, GRAND PRESIDENT,
BROTHERHOOD OF RAILWAY AND STEAMSHIP
CLERKS, FREIGHT HANDLERS, EXPRESS AND STATION EMPLOYES, SAYS:

"Our standard of living, our security of employment, and our ability to provide an education for our children are furthered by the support we give our trade union. Every device that strengthens our trade unions, strengthens our economic position as members. Union Labels, Shop Cards and Buttons are devices which aid us in identifying the products and services of union members. In patronizing each other we fortify the demand for the employment of union members and strengthen the position of the trade union to which we belong. Thus, it is axiomatic that all union members should buy Union Label goods and patronize Union services in the interest of their own individual economic security and to advance their standard of living."

The Seattle Union Label Plan

*I. M. Ornburn, Secretary-Treasurer
Union Label Trades Department
American Federation of Labor*

Out in Seattle, Washington, the officers and members of Typographical Union No. 202 are cooperating in what has become known as the Seattle Plan. It is one of the most intensive drives by a local union for a Union Label product that has come to my attention and I recommend that it be applied to every product or service of every A.F.L. union in America.

In brief, the Seattle Plan was initiated by a small membership which has more than doubled during the past year. All the members of the union pitch in when a Union Label promotional need arises.

The entire city was zoned for the campaign. The Label Promotion Committee included a head chairman and seven zone chairmen, one over each zone. Assisting each zone chairman was a committee. Each zone chairman prepared a chart showing names and phone numbers of all printers in his district, thus establishing a network of communications covering the city.

The Label Promotion Committee meets once a month at the labor temple to direct this campaign. Every local union is a functioning unit in the Label promotion campaign. Non-label printing is collected by local union chairmen and turned in to the committee where it is screened and given to the various sub-committees for appropriate action.

Every member of the Seattle Union is provided with blotters and cards to be used when making purchases. The sales value of the Union Label is readily understood by buyers of printing when these cards are used at the time money is being spent in their establishments. These cards contain simple messages. For example, "I have just made a purchase and as a customer of your firm ask that you reciprocate by having the Union Label displayed on your printing." or "Your use of the Allied Printing Trades Label will help stabilize employment in the printing industry and make possible my continued patronage." and others are used.

The campaign for putting all of the city's printing into label shops is carried personally to every merchant, professional man, automobile dealer, druggist, and other merchandisers or manufacturers in the city. Follow-up letters always follow personal contacts.

The Seattle Plan can be adopted by a union label league, a central labor union, a local union, or a women's auxiliary simply by substituting for the Seattle local Typographical Union the name of the organization which decides to carry out the plan. We most heartily recommend similar action in every city and community in America.

All officials and members of every branch of the American Federation of Labor can well afford to give their undivided attention to the Union Label. Shop Card and Union Button. It is a cause that demands their constant consideration in and out of labor temples because, if we fail to support the firms that are union, our American labor standards are constantly in peril and America's future is also at stake. Obtaining union wages through collective bargaining is only half the battle. We must maintain them by purchasing Union Label goods and patronizing Union services. No law, not even the Taft-Hartley Act, can prevent your spending your union-earned money where you choose. Let's awaken to the importance of Union Label buying before it is too late!

CHANGE IN CONVENTION HEADQUARTERS

In the Official Call to our Convention published in the April Journal we announced that the Convention Headquarters and Convention Hall would be in the Biltmore Hotel. Since publishing this announcement we were informed that owing to unfair Labor conditions in the Biltmore Hotel we would have to hold our Convention elsewhere.

With the assistance of the Convention Committee in Los Angeles, we are pleased to announce that the Convention will be held in the Alexandria Hotel instead of the Biltmore Hotel and we hope that all delegates will make note of this change.

The credentials for delegates and alternate delegates have been sent out to all locals, State and District Councils requesting that they be returned to headquarters with the name of the selected delegate on them and upon receipt of these credentials the check for the transportation of the delegate from local unions will be forwarded to the Secretary of the local unions.

I would also advise each local Secretary to read the Minutes of our General Executive Board Meeting held in Cleveland regarding the distribution of this Convention fund to local unions, as all locals receiving check for delegate's transportation will be held responsible for the delegate's attendance at the Convention.

I am again publishing on the following page information regarding Hotels and how to make reservations at various Hotels and in order to avoid any difficulties in getting Hotel reservations I would suggest that the delegates make their reservations at once, either through Mr. Allen K. Pollock, Manager of Los Angeles Convention Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce or the chairman of Local Committee, Lloyd A. Mashburn, 536 Maple Ave., Los Angeles 13, California.

TERRY FORD,

General Secretary and Treasurer.

IMPORTANT

1. Organizations must make individual contracts with any or all of the above hotels within 30 days from the date appearing hereon, or these rooms will not be held.
2. As a protection both to the delegate and the hotel, most of the hotels require a minimum deposit of $5.00 per room for all definite convention room reservations. Any unused portion of this deposit will be refunded by the hotel.
3. In the event of cancellation, deposit will be refunded only if hotel is notified 7 DAYS prior to the date of reservation.
4. 30 days prior to the opening date of the convention, if LESS than 50% of rooms allotted have been assigned, all unassigned rooms will be automatically released. If 50% or more are covered by definite reservations, the balance of the allotment is retained until 15 days prior to the opening date, at which time all unassigned rooms are automatically released to the hotel.

Whereas the passing of this great trade unionist is greatly mourned by our membership.

Whereas his able and wise counsel will be missed at the gatherings of the International Union where his experience and intelligence was always an effective contribution to our organization.

Resolved that this meeting of the Executive Council of the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union upon adjourning do so in solemn and sincere memory of the Sixth Vice President Thomas Priestly and, by a period of silence, pay tribute to the time, effort, wisdom and friendship which he gave so generously to our organization and the Labor Movement in general, and extend our deepest sympathies to the family of our deceased associate, friend and brother.

And be it Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the bereaved family.

Text of Address delivered by First Vice President Hagen at Texas State Council of Lathers Meeting June 18-19 at Beaumont, Texas.

Mr. Chairman and Brothers:

General President McSorley requested me to attend this state convention and extend to you his personal greetings and the best wishes of the International Union. Brother McSorley at the present time is in Europe attending the International Labor Conference as a representative of the A.F. of L. He was appointed by President Truman.

I am happy to again visit with your council. Things are happening so fast in the world today that our most responsible government and business economists cannot tell from one week to the next what is going to happen in either the political or economic field. Some predict a depression, others a recession and others just a leveling off of prices. World politics are a day to day affair and everybody is guessing whether we will become involved in another world war or not.

Considerable change has taken place in the building industry in the last year. Today, building is on the decline in almost every part of the nation. We have a few busy places but they are spotty and unusual. Texas, I believe, is the most fortunate state in the country at present insofar as building is concerned. A year ago or less we were unable to supply lathers in many parts of the nation. Today a different picture presents itself. I am in a strategic spot in St. Louis, centrally located, where I have in the past received calls for lathers from nearly every state west of the Mississippi, all the way out to California. I have even sent many lathers to California and the Pacific northwest in the past but today I hardly ever receive a call and when I do they specify what particular type of a man they want and tell me how good he must be, where in the past they just wanted lathers, as many as they could get and no questions asked.

Another thing—a year or so ago they were willing to pay carfare, traveling time and a bonus of several dollars per day. Today they offer the scale and seldom a dime more than that.

I mention these things because I believe they should be given serious consideration. Today we are back in a competitive market insofar as labor is concerned. Once again men are competing for jobs and the most qualified men will naturally be the first to get a job and the last one to lose it. You fellows in Texas haven't experienced this change so far. You are very fortunate.

The days of the slow motion developed during the war years by some lathers and other mechanics is coming to a sudden end. Prices of everything are slowly but surely dropping and people in the residential field are not buying the high priced homes as in the past. Shortly after the war a builder could demand and get almost any price for a house—and an inferior built house at that—with green lumber. Today however, the cream of buyers has been almost exhausted and the suckers are fast disappearing. In St. Louis, I have seen higher priced houses, above the $20,000 level, standing, some of them for 6 months, others for a year and no one will buy, even though in some instances the builders have knocked off several thousand dollars from the original asking price.

People seem to be on a strike against buying homes, especially above the $10,000 price level. They also seem to be afraid to invest their savings in a home because they all expect prices to drop—most of them talk about a depression, and when people expect a depression or even a recession, they hold on to their savings, especially where a big chunk of those savings, as in a home, would be required.

I have traveled through many states in the past two months and was greatly surprised and disappointed to find so many building mechanics loafing in practically every city. There are isolated instances as in Texas where they are busy but this is the exception rather than the rule.

The saddest thing about my observations was the fact that so many homes are having dry wall installed. Some of this work has been done in the past because lathers and plasterers were unavailable and others were done and are being done with dry wall by the tens of thousands because lathers and plasterers costs on residential construction have become prohibitive. I say prohibitive, comparatively speaking and the comparison I refer to is the kind of competition we have to contend with on this type of construction. You know that the mechanics of some trades work for the wage scale if they can get it but before they will lose the work they'll accept anything they can get. Having this type of competition and knowing that we can be eliminated from this type of work entirely, we should do our damndest to produce a good day's work in order to at least retain control over the proportionately small volume of residential work we still control, in which lath and plaster are used.

When wood lath was eliminated from the market by the substitution of rocklath as a plaster base, it was the beginning of the ruination of our control over lathing on residential work. You do not have to be a skilled mechanic to nail up rocklath, you must just learn to nail it up quickly. Anybody with a little practice can nail on rocklath good enough to satisfy many plasterers and builders and where lathers are not strong enough to protect our jurisdiction, this kind of work is being done by everyone except lathers.

There is only one way that we can retain our grip on the work we still do control and that is by competition. This will require production and a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

One thing we can do to help out the situation in the residential field is to develop a moderately priced metal lath house in which the outside and inside walls and partitions and ceilings are metal lath and in some instances the floors and roofs also. This is a subject that would take too much time to discuss in detail but I might state that your International officers have for several years past been exploring the field for a type of home that could be erected for moderate cost and be substantial enough to withstand weather conditions in every part of the nation. I believe we are making good headway on the matter. This field of research has been somewhat neglected during and after the war because we had too much other work in our regular channels to take care of.

However, now that things have quieted down, considerable interest is once again being manifested in metal lath houses and I believe it is important that we concentrate on the promotion of this type of home because it is the kind of work that requires a skilled lather to perform and if we create a demand for such houses in the residential field we will automatically create a demand for skilled lathers. I have here with me, plans of a new type metal lath bungalow we are promoting in St. Louis at the present time.

Many new members have been inducted into our International union in the past few years. Young fellows who have served their apprenticeship and were taught the secrets of our trade by the older members of our local unions. These new members should be eternally grateful to the men who educated them on the job, in the shop and in the schools because such men were passing on to these young fellows, trade secrets that it took the older members all their lives to learn. They were also educating these boys to become competitors for their jobs in the labor market, and I say that this gesture of real trade unionism on the part of our older members is one of the grandest things it has ever been my fortune to witness. Here we had a group of splendid union men training young fellows who were really just starting out in life to earn their own livelihood, a trade that would assure them economic security for their future. They were educating these young fellows to become their future competitors for jobs in our industry, jobs, in which they, the older members, on ordinary construction, would be at a distinct disadvantage—the disadvantage of advancing years and a slowing down of their physical capacities as the years closed in upon them.

Perhaps I am a little sentimental about these things, but I know of no greater sacrifice or anything more unselfish in this cold blooded commercialized nation of ours than this great contribution of our older members.

Unfortunately, some of these young fellows to whose welfare the older members contributed so much are unworthy of the sacrifice. Some of them have had the business practically placed in their laps. They also entered the organization at a bad time—a time when there was a surplus of work—and many of our men were still victims of the slow movements developed on T-M jobs during the war. This was a bad time to train mechanics and some of these young fellows who seem to think the world is their oyster, took advantage of the time. This type is a pitiful sight to see. They are excess baggage.

Some of the new generation of lathers are cream puffs and do not know the meaning of hard times or sacrifice. When they become unemployed for a few days, you would think the world was coming to an end. If these birds had to walk the streets for months like most of the old timers have done in their time, when there was no unemployment insurance to tide them over, if they were placed on their own resources for a while, where the no work, no eat rule applied as most old timers have, they would probably starve or wind up in a psychiatric ward. Some of them are the most helpless individuals in the world when on a job and they will be helpless until they have had to make some sacrifices for their union. Until they do they will never appreciate the benefits of their union nor will they appreciate what the older members have gone through in the past 50 years in order to make their present comparatively easy conditions possible.

Some of them take no part in union affairs and if they were called upon to participate in some organizational work where possible physical action would develop they would probably faint. They can make a lot of noise and a lot of demands in the union hall or on the job where they know it is safe to do so but they lack the intestinal fortitude of the old timers when it comes to actual participation in organizational work.

Some of these boys want a steam heated job in the winter and a fan and cool drinks in the summer, plenty of time to smoke cigarettes on the job and have a limousine call for them in the morning and take them home at night. They probably would like to be tucked into bed and kissed good night also if that were possible.

I am speaking of course of only a small proportion of our apprentices. The average boy has responded splendidly to the opportunity presented and has done the best circumstances and conditions would permit.

I was speaking primarily of the jerks we and other labor unions have had inflicted upon us, due to the times and conditions. These are the fellows who are the future trouble makers in the union. They are too damn lazy and indifferent to ever become sufficiently skilled to hold a job competitively in normal times and they want the union to make rules and regulations limiting production to the amount of work they can do. This of course is destructive legislation and is usually the result of the activities of a shiftless, unskilled minority.

I would like to say a few kind words about contractors also. Many of these fellows in my humble opinion are nothing but leeches and parasites whose only ambition is to make as much profit as possible on every job and on every journeyman. They are like barnacles on a ship. They expect unions to build up conditions in the industry by organizing the unorganized work so they will have more jobs to figure and more profit and they expect the unions to pay all the freight. Not only that but many of them, when they become large employers and have a large percentage of local union members in their employ, would like to tell the union how to run its affairs.

You can insulate solid masonry with INSULATING ROCKLATH***

In a masonry wall of conventional construction, where 1-inch furring strips are used, there's no room for bulky blanket or batt type insulation. But you can have positive insulation of proven value in walls of this type—with Insulating ROCKLATH plaster base.

It's the practical way to insulate solid masonry walls! Insulating ROCKLATH plaster base—the effective vapor barrier, the positive insulation—is excellently suited to this type of construction.

And remember, the public is sold on insulation and vapor barrier protection for every type of wall. The home owners of America demand these features in today's buildings.

Insulate and install your plaster base in one operation, at one application cost. Use Insulating ROCKLATH.

In most states FHA requires certain minimum insulating and vapor barrier values. Insulating ROCKLATH and plaster in residential wall construction will in most cases provide the FHA values, as well as an ideal plaster base.

INSULATING ROCKLATH does three things

- 1 Ideal Plaster Base
- 2 Superior Vapor Barrier
- 3 Efficient Insulation

TEXT OF ADDRESS BY FIRST V. PRES. HAGEN

Many of these birds are little better than scavengers. They will use a man all his life during his best years when he can produce with the best of them but as soon as he starts to slow up in his declining years, these cold blooded parasites that go to church and pray on Sunday and are out robbing the public on Monday, are ready to dump him, the very man who helped make him a financial success. They dispose of these men in one way or another and substitute younger and faster ones. I WONDER IF THE UNIONS THEMSELVES ARE NOT TO BLAME FOR THIS INHUMAN PRACTICE. Contractors are only as good as union rules and the men in a shop will force them to be. Maybe I'm picking on the wrong people. Maybe I'm giving the wrong people hell. The fact still remains however, that the hopes and aspirations of our older members are being sacrificed on the altar of the almighty dollar and I say it is time to call a halt. I say it is a crime to cast out these older members and place them on the unemployed list, these men who have made present day conditions possible in our industry.

I say that the industry to which these men have devoted the best years of their life owes them something. It owes them some security in their declining years and I am not talking about social security which is nothing more or less than slow starvation.

To deliberately cause these grand old fellows of our organization worry through unemployment, low incomes and uncertainty of their economic future because of their age is, in my opinion, a crime. Instead, help and sympathetic understanding should be given them.

The younger element in our local unions should never forget that they one day will be the older members. They should never forget that there is a law of retribution in this world and that a good deed is like bread cast upon the waters..

These young fellows should be taught, if they do not already know, that the greatest thing in this world is a contented mind. Without it health and happiness are impossible. They will have a contented mind if they practice the Golden Rule, especially where the older members of their local unions are concerned. They should treat these men as they would like to be treated when they reach their declining years and will have to look to the younger members of the union for decent treatment. It is actually criminal to cause these old timers worry, pain and mental torture. Life is tough enough even when things are running smoothly. To cause these old timers worry and suffering through unemployment, uncertainty of their economic future because of their age and to totally disregard their welfare is brutal and inhuman and I say that in places where such conditions exist, the union should legislate and remedy it.

I have many other subjects I would like to discuss but I know you have a great deal of business to transact and will conclude by wishing you success and progress in your state affairs and wish you all God speed and safety in your journey home.

Ornburn Urges Action for Union Label Week

BUY GOODS
UNION LABEL

UNION LABEL TRADES DEPT. A. F. L.

"Throughout America, committees from all branches of the American Federation of Labor are busy making arrangements for appropriate celebrations during Union Label Week, September 3 to 10," said I. M. Ornburn, Secretary-Treasurer of the Union Label Trades Department, and he added, "these committees are composed of members of central labor unions, union label leagues, local unions, and women's auxiliaries and in those cities where action is not already in progress plans should be developed at once.

"Union Label Week was authorized in a resolution passed by the last Convention of the Union Label Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor. It is being sponsored by the Department because the principal purposes of the demonstrations are to publicize Union Labels, Shop Cards and Union Buttons and to promote the sale of Union Label goods as well as the patronage of Union services. It affords a wonderful chance for members of both unions and auxiliaries to educate and acquaint all consumers with the high-quality and unexcelled craftsmanship of both union goods and services.

"We must convince all Americans that only through the purchasing power created by union wages can prosperity be sustained for every one. Great enthusiasm is being shown," Mr. Ornburn declared, "among all members of organized labor to demonstrate what the A. F. of L. has done and is now doing to stabilize American economy. Purchasing Union Label goods and using Union services are the best ways to defeat anti-labor measures in the United States Congress and in state legislatures. You can't be arrested for doing that. All members of labor unions and women's auxiliaries should join in an all-out campaign to convince American consumers that they should buy 'Union'. By so doing they will protect our American way of life, secure jobs, maintain fair wages, and prevent the spread of Communism in our beloved land. Celebrate Union Label Week and build a better America."

New Opportunities For Lathers

By Harry Hagen

In past years millions of yards of metal lath and plaster ceilings and partitions were eliminated from fireproof buildings because they had insufficient fire rating. This obstacle has now been overcome and a new field for employment of our members has been opened by years of study, research and the expenditure of large sums of money by the manufacturers of Vermiculite, an aggregate used in the place of sand with gypsum and cement.

Two inch solid (sanded) plaster partitions, on metal lath and channels, have a one hour fire rating. This is a rating that is given ordinary Rocklath and plaster over wood studs. When unsanded plaster was used, a two hour fire rating was given in building codes. The cost of such construction is prohibitive and seldom used. Today, however, with Vermiculite as the aggregate, replacing sand, history is being written in the construction industry and lathers and plasterers can now erect ceilings and partitions that have up to a four hour rating, the maximum given any material. Thus metal lath and Vermiculite Plaster may now be used practically anywhere inside of a building and Vermiculite Cement Plaster and Concrete on the outside of buildings and in concrete floors and in any type building constructed. What this means to the lather and plasterer is a complete revolution in the construction industry as far as they are concerned and an opportunity for tremendous expansion.

The three and four hour ratings are based on the method shown top, left of page 2, using metal lath spacers. The spacers are cut out of metal lath sheets being  $1\frac{1}{4}$ " wide and usually 4" long. Greater fire-resistance is obtained by this method because there is less steel involved to conduct heat to the column flanges.

Every Lather should study carefully the "Summary of Fire Tests" which appears in this issue of The LATHER on Page 3 in order to understand in some small measure the new and revolutionary developments that will contribute so much to their industry, and create vast new fields of employment for our members.

The more one studies this new material and its qualities, the greater its possibilities for the promotion of our industry seems.

For many years persons concerned with the problem of protecting steel buildings from fire have been trying to obtain an economical, lightweight and comparatively thin material that would provide as much as four hours fire protection to structural members. Vermiculite plaster fireproofing has been found to be the answer.

Vermiculite plaster aggregate is the key to the high fire resistance obtained. It is incombustible and contains thousands of dead air cells which act as insulators. Also, the shiny, golden laminations of the material are very effective reflectors, turning back heat.

Fireproofing is used to protect structural members from direct attack by fire and to keep the temperature of the members below the critical temperature or the point at which failure is likely to occur for the duration of the fire. In the case of steel, the critical temperature or the point at which failure is likely to occur is considered to be 1000 degrees Fahrenheit.

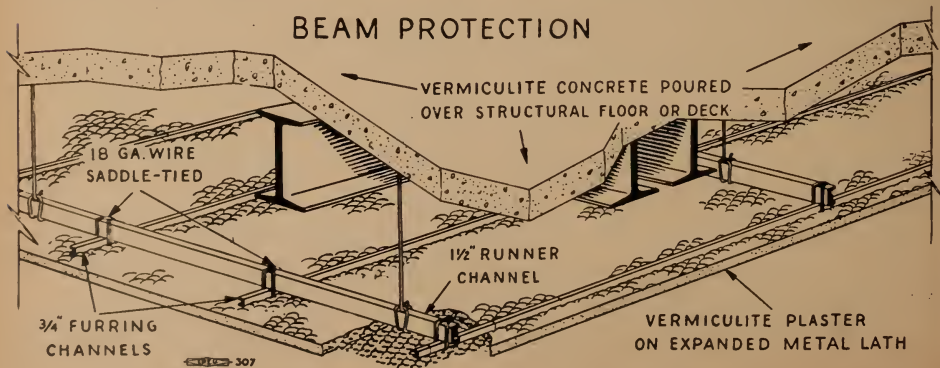

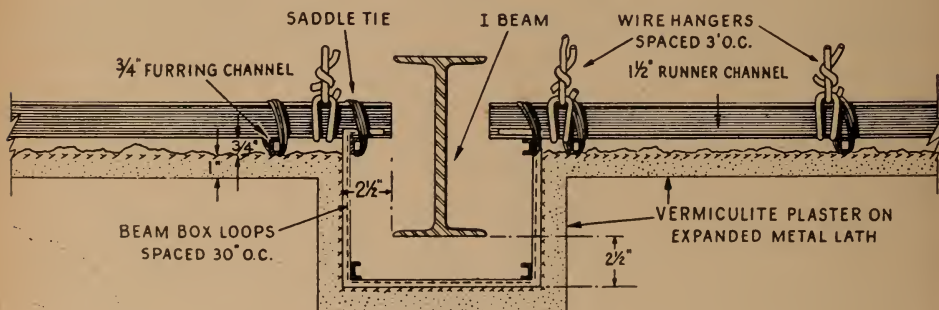

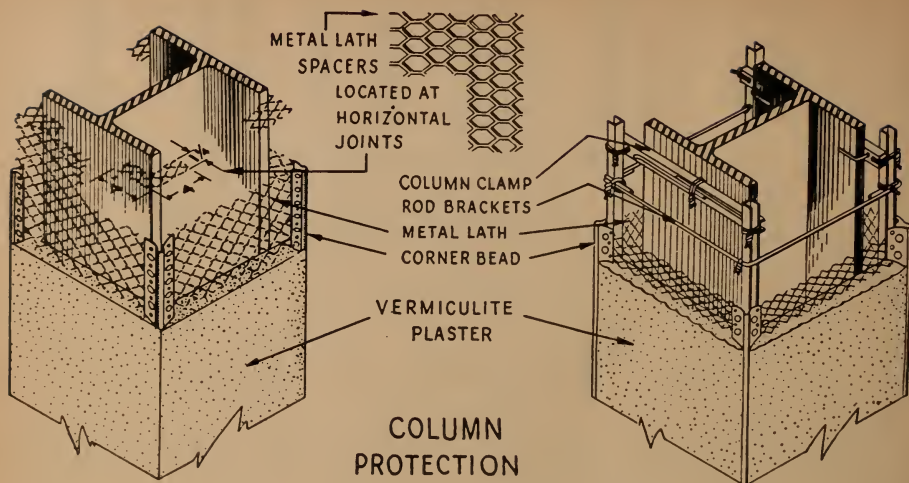

There are a number of incombustible materials that will retard the transmission of heat and high temperatures for a limited period of time. Relatively few materials are capable of maintaining this retarding quality for hours. The best heat retarding materials are those that act as heat absorbing or cooling mediums. This property is found in only a few building materials, principally those containing gypsum or portland cement.

The maximum fire-resistive value of gypsum plaster was not obtained or realized until it was discovered that Vermiculite was a good aggregate to use with this material and fire tests were made at nationally recognized fire-testing laboratories.

Steel columns, beams, girders and floor and roof constructions protected with Vermiculite-gypsum plaster have obtained three or four hour fire ratings in tests conducted in accordance with the American

Delegates attending the Convention can make their reservations by applying to Mr. Allen K. Pollock, Manager of the Convention and Visitors Bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, 1151 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California or through the Local Committee of which L. A. Mashburn, 536 Maple Avenue, Los Angeles 13, California is the chairman.

In making their reservations, delegates will please specify which hotel they wish to be housed in and also whether they want a single, double or triple room.

All inquiries in regard to the housing of delegates and room reservations should be directed to brother Mashburn, Chairman of the Local Committee, or to Mr. Pollock of the Convention and Visitors Bureau.

We advise all delegates to make their reservations as early as possible.

TERRY FORD.

IMPORTANT

1. Organizations must make individual contracts with any or all of the above hotels within 30 days from the date appearing hereon, or these rooms will not be held.
2. As a protection both to the delegate and the hotel, most of the hotels require a minimum deposit of $5.00 per room for all definite convention room reservations. Any unused portion of this deposit will be refunded by the hotel.
3. In the event of cancellation, deposit will be refunded only if hotel is notified 7 DAYS prior to the date of reservation.
4. 30 days prior to the opening date of the convention, if LESS than 50% of rooms allotted have been assigned, all unassigned rooms will be automatically released. If 50% or more are covered by definite reservations, the balance of the allotment is retained until 15 days prior to the opening date, at which time all unassigned rooms are automatically released to the hotel.

Every worker in commerce or industry who attains 65 should file a claim for old age benefits at the nearest Social Security Administration office.

Even if the worker is still employed and will not receive payments immediately, it is to his or her advantage to file a claim.

And sometimes workers who think they are not entitled to benefits, may be. Play safe! Be sure to inquire and file a claim when you reach 65.

DECISIONS OF THE GENERAL PRESIDENT

Sec. 123—All decisions of the General President must be published in the following issue of The Lather, together with a short concise synopsis of the case. All decisions of the Executive Council must be published in the following issue of The Lather, showing how each member of the Council has voted.

Arle Hyman, 30394 Versus Local No. 47

Brother Hyman appealed against the action of Local No. 47 in placing of fine of $100.00 against him, on charges of violating Sections 22 and 38 of the local union's laws and Section 141 International constitution. The General President after carefully reviewing all of the evidence presented by both sides, found the fine and penalty illegal, as such action was taken after the brother had transferred out of the local union. He therefore ordered the fine rescinded.

Wm. E. Kerwin, 9391, Frank Brunelle, 17030, Richard Molback, 40244, Mark Turner, 4487 versus Local No. 74.

Brothers Kerwin, Brunelle, Molback and Turner appealed against the action of Local No. 74 in placing fines of $25.00 against each of them, on charges of violating the apprentice laws of Local 74. After carefully considering all of the evidence presented by both sides, the General President found that the fines levied were unfair and unjust under the circumstances, and that there was no deliberate attempt upon the part of the brothers to violate the laws of Local 74, and he therefore ordered these fines rescinded.

Edward L. Weiss, 37013 Versus Local No. 406

Brother Weiss appealed against the action of Local 406 in placing a fine of $100.00 against him on the charge of violating Section 141 International constitution. The General President, after carefully considering all of the evidence presented by both sides found the brother guilty, but believing the fine to be excessive, he ordered it reduced to the sum of $50.00.

It may seem strange that the Allies should favor re-uniting a nation whose military power and ambition have led to two World Wars. The explanation lies in Germany's industrial leadership.

For a hundred years, Germany has been the industrial center of Europe, and her recovery is vital to the recovery of the whole continent.

It was natural for industry to grow up in Germany. The country has an abundant coal supply, good harbors, 8,000 miles of navigable rivers and canals, and a surplus of manpower. There are far too many Germans for life as a farming nation. For example, Germany is only two-thirds the size of France but it has one and one-half times as many people as France has.

Germany's industry has been treated by the allies in two ways. Russia has torn down nearly every factory in the Soviet occupation zone and moved it back to the Russian homeland. The Western Allies have, on the other hand, helped industry in their zones to recover. They have given up their earlier plan of moving German factories into Allied countries to replace those destroyed by the Nazis.

Industry in Western Germany has already reached three-quarters of its prewar output. Products are chiefly steel and chemicals, needed by all other European countries. At the same time, the western zones get much-needed food in exchange for these products.

THE COWARDICE OF TREASON

By Ruth Taylor

If you have read any of the many books recently issued which have exposed the work of subversive groups and enemy agents in this country, you have wondered, as have I, at the mentality of these workers against America, and have puzzled over what quirk in their brains drove them into treasonable movements and activities.

It is hard for those of us who love America and who believe in the democratic way of life, who are steeped in the traditions of loyalty and fair play, to understand how American men and women of even ordinary intelligence could fall for the clap-trap sophistries of subversion and its absurd theories. It all sounds like some figment of a childish imagination.

According to our temperament, these anti-Americans have angered or amused us. We have called them either traitors, demanding their complete eradication, or fools, regarding them with contemptuous amusement. "Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad," we said in derision.

But we have overlooked the one thing they undeniably are—cowards. Afraid to face life, unable to meet the daily competition we each of us have to encounter, they have indulged in the deadly dissipation of self pity, which is a more potent drug than any drink or dope known to physical degenerates.

They have sought alibis for their failure in life. They have sought to make themselves big in a society of their own making. They could not face the truth, so they made up lies to excuse themselves and called them facts. They surrounded themselves with parasites, each intent on praising the other like the apes in the Jungle Book. And some Americans who should have known better have taken advantage of those little people, flattering them in hopes of getting the political votes they thought these pressure groups could command.

They are cowards — as are all would-be tyrants. There never was a despot yet who was free from fear, who dared to walk unguarded, to face the mob alone. Only a fearless man dare allow freedom to an opponent. Only a fearless man dare play fair. Only a man who is sure of his own strength, of his own ability, dare grant an equal opportunity to his neighbor.

Democracy demands much of its citizens in return for the great gift of freedom which it gives them. Only the cowards are afraid to respond. Only the cowards are traitors.

"Oh, my dear," she exclaimed. "I've missed you so much."

Then she raised the revolver and fired again.

ROCKLATH* resilient lathing system will spring-cushion your walls and ceilings

Just as every automobile has springs, United States Gypsum's Resilient lathing system used with ROCKLATH plaster base will spring-cushion plastered walls and ceilings at the vital points.

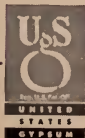

This spring construction helps absorb shocks, just as the springs of your car absorb road shocks. Rigidity is replaced with resiliency—good insurance against cracks caused by limited movement of framing members.

Noise is absorbed too, because spring cushioned construction reduces sound transmission. Laboratory tests of partitions built in accordance with U.S.G. specifications show a reduction of 47.0 decibels. This exceeds the FHA 45.0 decibel reduction requirement for party walls!

It's wisdom to use "spring protected" plaster . . . ROCKLATH with Resilient lathing system. There's a Resilient lathing system, too, for use with U.S.G. Metal Lath. Ask your U.S.G. representative or contact our nearest District Office for additional information.

*T. M. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. It distinguishes the United States Gypsum Company's plaster base.

For the aid of peoples abroad, the American people since the end of the war have laid out $39,135,000,000. That is a staggering sum of money; it is $1,151 for each of America's 34,000,000 families.

But we do not send money to hungry Europe. We send actual things — the product of our labor, our farms, our factories. We are not sending our surpluses, as the Communists keep saying; the things we want to get rid of, so as to keep our workmen busy and stave off the economic collapse Stalin is always predicting. On the contrary, we are depriving ourselves of things of which we are desperately short. We send only products European governments request — and need. We are short of steel — but we sent one ton in ten overseas to those whose need is more acute. Our farmers are short of tractors, but we shipped one in every six made in 1947 to get European agriculture going again. Our own people would eagerly snap up every motor truck made here — but we sent one-fifth of them abroad. Our railroads are clamoring for new boxcars, but Europe got one in three of all we made.

DO YOU REALIZE?

That organized labor is chiefly responsible for our high standards of life?

That, in the "good old days," a workman was not always free to spend his small earnings where and as he pleased?—That in many places he could buy only at a store owned by the company that employed him . . . only the brands the company store chose to offer . . . only at prices the store saw fit to charge?

That our 40-hour average week provides productive efficiency, plus more leisure than anywhere else?

That increased wages of working people have made possible the highest living standard in the world . . . not only for union men, but for all Americans? For a prosperous group of working people is the foundation for the prosperity of—everybody.

What brought about these changes—?

Mainly they were brought about by unions working together with fair employers under the American system of private enterprise, through the practice of collective bargaining. Through collective bargaining over the years, the American Federation of Labor has gained many objectives that seemed Utopian and visionary back in the 1880's.

SEE $47 BILLION REPAIR BILL FOR NEGLECTED ROADS

The nation's highways, neglected during the war and since then, need $47 billion in the next 10 years.

The cost of the long range highway improvement and construction programs will be paid by the man behind the wheel through higher fuel taxes and vehicle registration fees.

TRUE TODAY AS THEN

The yardstick of a great man whose leadership does not die with him is the living fire of truth in his words, the permanent quality of his utterances, the way his clarity of vision and his humanity sift down from his own to succeeding generations.

Samuel Gompers, many years ago, wrote the following. His words are needed now as much as when he pronounced them.

"The object of organized labor is to make the home more beautiful, to go down to the very lowest and lift them up, to make today brighter than yesterday and each day brighter than the one which has gone before.

"Some people think that the labor movement's object is to strike. We don't want to strike. It is an interruption and a burden to our progress. We don't want to fight and we don't want to strike, but there are worse things than a strike—a degraded, debased, demoralized, manhood.

"This labor movement of ours is one of the most far-reaching in the world. A man may pray at any altar or at no altar, he may be a member of any political party, but so long as he is a laboring man he is welcome in our movement.

"Our opponents say that we encourage men not to do a square day's work. The chief element of this statement is that it is not true. We say, 'Bring on all the new machinery, all the new tools. We shall use them.' But we also say, 'There shall be no monopoly of the fruits. We demand our full share of the increased output of our toil.'

"The lesson of organization has been taught for ages. Our country is a union. Where do we not find organization? The Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce are organizations. It is essential for the banker to organize and it is essential for the broker to organize. Then why is it not essential for the laborer?

"The labor movement was born of hunger — hunger for bread. It is still a hunger, but now it is for the better things of life."

'TRUE CONFESSIONS' OF T-H AUTHOR

An amazing confession, which was given almost universal "censorship" by the nation's press, was made recently by Gerald D. Morgan in a hearing before the House Labor Sub-committee, that he was the back-stage draftsman of the House bill part of the Taft-Hartley Act. Morgan, a lawyer, said he first obtained permission from Congressman (then floor leader) Charles A. Halleck (R.-Ind.) and Fred Hartley (R.-N.J.) before appearing before the committee because his services on Taft-Hartley were not rendered as an employee of the House Committee. But in his own words: "Several months after the bill became law, through the good offices of Halleck, I received compensation for my time from the Republican National Committee." This was an amazing admission since it came immediately after Morgan had said that "the bill was not rated as a political measure either in the Committee or in the House."

When asked how much the Republican National Committee paid him, he said $7,500. This answer brought a whispered comment from the press table: "I think he got short changed." Morgan stated that he was the only person other than the elected Representatives who sat in on all of the executive sessions during the drafting of the Act. He stated flatly that he received technical assistance "exclusively" from Gerald Reilly, who is now employed as a $3,000-a-month lobbyist for GE, and Theodore Iserman, chief counsel for Chrysler Corporation and a stickler for NAM policy. Morgan admitted that no representatives of organized labor were asked for advice. He also confessed that the drafting of the final bill was done jointly by Gerald Reilly, Thomas Shroyer, general counsel of the Senate Committee, Dwyer Shugrue, personal counsel for Senator Ives, and himself. (The question is asked: "How did Senator Ives afford his own counsel on a Senator's pay?")

So far as the AFL's Labor's League for Political Education can learn, this is the first time in American history that a political party ever hired a lawyer to draft a bill and paid him from political funds.

TWO FACES

The United States is going all out to make Germany a democracy, as it should be. When the war ended, the first step taken toward reestablishing a democratic Germany was to organize democratic trade unions there. Many labor leaders were sent over by our government to complete this task. Joseph Keenan, Secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and now Chairman of Labor's League for Political Education, spent two and one-half years in Germany for the purpose of forming more unions among the German workers exactly like our labor unions here.

The process of bringing the German workers into labor organizations is still going on and is still being sponsored by our government.

It seems ironical that while we are going all out in Germany to establish labor unions, big business and the Congress of the United States seems to be going all out to destroy democratic trade unions here. This is a two-faced policy. If our government recognizes that there cannot be established a democracy in Germany like our own without trade unions, then how can we hope to keep our present form of democracy here by destroying trade unions. The whole thing seems nonsensical, doesn't it? Maybe Mr. Taft has the answer.

WHY STRONG UNIONS?

President Green has said that the Taft-Hartley Act is designed to make strong unions weak and weak unions weaker." As Congress considers repeal of this act and return to the Wagner Act with amendments, as provided in the Thomas-Lesinski Bill, the real question before the American people is: Do we want strong unions, and if so why?

American workers have given their answer, overwhelmingly. Already more than 15 million have joined unions; well over two-thirds of all wage earners in our basic producing and transporting industries — factories, mines, construction, railroads, shipping — are union members. They know that membership in a strong union movement is their only way to share in American progress.

WM. P. RAOUL, GENERAL SECRETARY-TREASURER, INTERNATIONAL ALLIANCE OF THEATRICAL STAGE EMPLOYEES AND MOVING PICTURE MACHINE OPERATORS OF THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA, SAYS:

"In these trying times, when labor's very existence has been threatened by enemies from outside the movement, union men and women everywhere must stand shoulder to shoulder in defense of the collective bargaining principles that have made our American standard of living the highest on earth. Organized boycotts may be ruled out by shortsighted lawmakers, but no statute can prevent free individuals from choosing only those articles that are union made and patronizing only those establishments that are union operated. Now, when prices are high, we are often forced to look for bargains; but now, more than ever, we cannot and must not compromise by accepting anything which fails to bear the Union Label. Our members in over 900 I.A.T.S.E. locals are alert to this principle, and they hope their brothers throughout the movement will always look for the I.A.T.S.E. emblem to be flashed on the screen of any film theatre they attend. It is a guarantee that union technicians were employed by the studio producing the picture and that a union operator is showing it."

Governors of states and mayors of cities are planning to issue proclamations officially declaring the period Union Label Week. This will greatly enhance the publicity for the goods that made America famous — the products that bear the Union Label — and for Union services — always the most proficient in the land.

Merchandisers and manufacturers will have window displays of union-made goods. They will also run advertisements in local newspapers promoting the sale of various high-quality Union Label products. Other business establishments will demonstrate their efficient union services.
